MUSSOLINI PUTS ITALY ON DIET TO FIGHT BOYCOTT

Meatless Days Begin Next Week.

Armies March On

Italian troops continued to advance into Ethiopia yesterday on two fronts. In the south they took several towns with little resistance while the Ethiopian forces waited until their adversaries reach a point more advantageous for defense. In the north, Italian patrols advanced 25 miles to a point half way to Makale, their objective. Story on page 6.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, Oct. 29.—Premier Mussolini today decreed a wartime diet for Italy. It is designed to cut down the consumption of meat. Il Duce also launched drastic economies in government offices planned chiefly to reduce the use of paper.

The Fascist restriction measures were decided upon at a dramatic meeting at which Mussolini presided and every branch of industry of the Italian corporative state was represented.

The decrees were the first of the "desperate defense" actions with which Il Duce proposes to fight the economic and financial boycott being imposed by the league of nations in an effort to stop the Italo-Ethiopian war.

Diet Effective Next Week.

The diet order becomes effective one week from today and will stay in force, it was announced, for at least six months.

The principal measures decided upon as weapons of economic defense against a boycott are:

1. Butcher shops must close on Tuesdays, must sell no beef, veal, mutton, lamb, or pork on Wednesdays. This is designed to reduce dependence on foreign meat.

2. Hotels, restaurants, and railway dining cars must not serve more than one meat or fish dish at the same meal.

3. The organization controling the fish industry agreed to increase the annual output by 4,000 tons to make up for the meat restrictions.

4. The hunters' federation promised to put more game on the market and to relax shooting restrictions on the crown lands and to some extent on private property.

5. A decree to be issued before next Tuesday will provide that at Mussolini's discretion there shall be a temporary suspension of existing regulations for food sales.

Half-Week Ban of Meat.

The meat restrictions virtually amount to a half-week ban. Italians always abstain from meat on Fridays and the butcher shops normally close on Thursday afternoons. The usual Sunday morning opening will be reduced by an hour under the new decree, the shops remaining open from 8 to 11 o'clock.

The high cost of fish makes it too luxurious as a substitute for most families. Dried cod, imported from Newfoundland and France, is a stable Friday dinner. Game is neither cheap nor plentiful in Italy and may be ruled out as a normal article of diet.

The prospect of further decrees affecting the sale of food is causing housewives intense anxiety. They foresee restrictions on olive oil, butter, sugar, jam, honey and fats of all kinds. None is expected on bread, however, as there are large stocks of wheat on hand.

Orders State Economies.

The prohibitions regarding government departments, besides aiming to reduce the consumption of paper, embrace such items as heat and lights. To this end, "wartime" hours have been imposed upon the Roman burocratic army. Employés of public offices must be at their desks at 8 a. m. and remain until 12:30 o'clock, and again from 3 to 6 p. m. Overtime must be done between 12:30 and 3 p. m.

Other principal economy orders are:

All state publications, including the official gazette, must be reduced to a minimum. Smaller pages and smaller type must be used. Note paper, envelopes, writing pads, circulars and pamphlets must be reduced in size.

Mussolini's express permission is necessary before the issue of any administrative literature, including lists of state employés.

NEW DEAL ASKS INQUIRY BY BAR ON UTTERANCES

Charges Succeed in Muzzling Study.

Bar Action Assailed

Prominent Chicago lawyers named in the American Bar association's citation for expressing an opinion on the constitutionality of the Wagner labor disputes act issued blistering retorts last night in which they charged that an effort was being made to curb their freedom of opinion and speech. The New Dealers in Washington were accused of fomenting the bar action, which was termed highly irregular as well as absurd. Harold Beacom, a member of the Liberty league subcommittee, which drafted the attack on the labor bill, said he would stand on his right as a lawyer to express an opinion on the legality of any measure.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—The American Liberty league's committee of 58 lawyers has been cited to the American Bar association for possible expulsion from the association or disbarment because it said that the New Deal's labor relations law is unconstitutional, inquiry disclosed today.

Unconfirmed reports are that the action was instigated by New Dealers who were irritated by the committee's activities and tried to muzzle the lawyers by having a complaint filed against them.

Members of the Liberty league's committee who are thus threatened with chastisement for speaking out against the New Deal include John W. Davis, former Democratic candidate for the presidency; Bainbridge Colby, former secretary of state; James M. Beck, former congressman and solicitor general, and Joseph B. Ely, former governor of Massachusetts.

Must Appear Nov. 17.

The lawyers' committee has been informed that it must appear before the complaints and grievances committee of the American Bar association at a meeting in Columbus, O., on Nov. 17, according to reports here. This committee of the bar association could recommend that the 58 lawyers on the Liberty league committee be expelled from the association or that disbarment proceedings be started against them.

The Liberty league lawyers are charged with violation of bar association rules because they published on Sept. 19 a "report" on the Wagner labor relations law in which they exhaustively explored the New Deal measure and reached the opinion that the law was unconstitutional. The "report" was practically a brief attacking the law. This formal, unsolicited opinion on a law is held to be a breach of the association rules which forbid gratuitous services by lawyers. It is understood two other charges have been made, one that the 58 have "incited" a legal controversy.

Members of the lawyers' committee have been informed in a circular letter from their chairman, R. E. Desvernine, whose firm is counsel for the United States Steel corporation, that a complaint had been filed against the committee. Who lodged the protest has not yet been officially disclosed.

See Common Authorship.

Unconfirmed reports here also state that several complaints were filed with the bar association committee and that the phraseology in them was very similar, suggesting common authorship or inspiration.

Believing the action to have been politically inspired, some members of the lawyers' committee are not inclined to take it seriously. They believe that the move would collapse if ever brought before the full bar association or its executive committee.

The lawyers' committee, however, has held up publication of "reports" on other New Deal laws which it was preparing. It had planned to discuss the constitutionality of the Guffey coal control law and the potato control law before now, but neither of these opinions has been issued.

New Dealers Irritated.

New Deal irritation over the lawyers' committee was instantaneous after the publication of the brief on

EDISON'S WIDOW TO BE MARRIED AT NOON TODAY

New York, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Mrs. Mina Miller Edison, widow of Thomas A. Edison, the inventor, will be married tomorrow to Edward E. Hughes of Franklin, Pa.

MRS. THOMAS A. EDISON.

The announcement said the ceremony would take place at noon in the former home of Mrs. Edison's father, Lewis Miller, at Chautauqua, N.Y.

Only members of the immediate families will attend the wedding.

Mrs. Edison was the inventor's second wife, having married him in 1886, two years after the death of his first wife.

Two sons and one daughter were born of each union. In addition to her daughter, who now is Mrs. John E. Sloane, Mrs. Edison was the mother of Charles and Theodore Edison.

In his will Mr. Edison bequeathed the bulk of his estate to Charles and Theodore. Charles said at the time that his mother had been provided for with "the utmost generosity" before his father's death.

Dr. Johnston Myers, Noted Pastor, Dead

The Rev. Dr. Johnston Myers, pastor of Immanuel Baptist church for the last 40 years, died in his home at 1715 East 55th street yesterday after a long illness. He was 75 years old.

Dr. Myers had been ill for the last two years, but his condition did not become critical until six months ago. Almost a year ago he announced his resignation from his pulpit, but no action was taken to select his successor.

On June 9 Dr. Myers celebrated both the 50th anniversary of his service as a Baptist clergyman and the 40th anniversary of his assumption of the pulpit at Immanuel church.

Colorful Pulpit Career.

Dr. Myers, in addition to being the dean of Chicago's Protestant clergymen, won special note among them for his colorful career, his outspoken defense of things which less courageous ministers avoided mentioning, and his care of the physical as well as the spiritual needs of men.

He was a member of the Union League and Hamilton clubs.

Dr. Myers is survived by his widow, Mary B. Myers; a son, Robert, of Philadelphia, and two daughters, Mrs. Malcomb Hart of New York City, and Mrs. Jerome Keith of Riverside, Conn.

During the 40 years of his pastorate at Immanuel he maintained a bread line, where hunger was the only qualification for being fed. Years ago, when dancing was opposed in Baptist churches, he stood in a Baptist pulpit and said he didn't think dancing was necessarily evil. He stood in the same pulpit and told the same Baptist congregation that one of his best parishioners took his glass of wine regularly, and Dr. Myers couldn't see anything wrong with that.

Gold Coast Once Near Church.

When he first came to Immanuel, the neighborhood around the church at 2320 South Michigan avenue was near the Gold Coast of Chicago. His parish was made up of wealthy and well to do families.

But time brought changes in that neighborhood. The wealthier residential district gradually moved south, or across the river to the north side.

In the midnineties, when the famous church bread line was established, many wearers of the silk hats in his congregation were horrified, and began to withdraw from the church. Despite removals and withdrawals, and in spite of the radical change in the neighborhood of Immanuel church, Dr. Myers refused to abandon his place and his work, and by dint of humanitarian service became one of the best known Protestant clergymen in the nation.

Welcomes Automobile Era.

When other churches moved because the city noises—augmented by the new automobile—bothered them, Dr. Myers said:

"We do not find the automobile interferes with church. We like the noise, the tooting of the horns. We expect to stay where we are. The noise is typical of the advance of the times, and the church must keep pace. Nowadays the church belongs rightly on busy thoroughfares, for that is where the people are and it is to them we must minister."

But his religion was always highly spiritual. A decade after his advent in Chicago he was fighting the new liberalism.

"As long as I am connected with this institution," he declared from his pulpit, "I shall fight for a return to old principles, for the ousting of atheism and atheists."

Native of New York State.

Dr. Myers was born in Kingston, N. Y., and was educated at the University of Rochester, Rochester Theological seminary, Georgetown university and Ewing college. From 1885 to 1895 he was pastor of the Ninth Street church in Cincinnati. He had been president of the Baptist Ministers' conference of Chicago since 1904.

TWO BANDITS KIDNAP POLICEMAN AND GIRL; THEN HE SHOOTS THEM

Patrolman Frank Fuerst last night shot and captured two hoodlums who had kidnaped him and a young woman and held them captive while they drove three miles in the policeman's car.

Fuerst, off duty and returning to his home at 2927 South Lawndale avenue, said Miss Margaret McNeil, 24 years old, of the Fairfield Arms hotel, 3260 Maypole avenue, waiting for a street car at Franklin boulevard and Kedzie avenue, stopped his car, and told him two men were following her.

At this moment the two men, one armed with a pistol, came up and forced Miss McNeil into the policeman's car and compelled Fuerst to get in the back seat with her. Then the youths drove to De Kalb and Polk streets, where they stopped the car and demanded Fuerst's money.

Fuerst drew his pistol and opened fire. He shot one of the men, Irving Stark, 26 years old, the gunman, in the shoulder. His second shot hit the other man, Walter Weglarz, 21 years old, in the left hand. Both surrendered. They were taken to the Bridewell hospital.

Both men said they lived at 2936 Warren avenue. Police went there and took into custody Stark's wife, Lenore, and Weglarz's wife, May. Weglarz, police said, has a record.

'Tobacco Road' Ban Lifted by Federal Court

Producers of the play "Tobacco Road," which was closed on obscenity charges by Mayor Kelly on Oct. 21, after it had run seven weeks at the Selwyn theater, won a complete victory over the city in the court of Federal Judge William H. Holly yesterday. It appeared likely that the play would reopen tonight without interference.

Judge Holly overruled a motion of the city for dissolution of the temporary restraining order prohibiting Mayor Kelly, Police Commissioner James P. Allman, and other city officials from interfering with the play. He also supplanted the restraining order with a temporary injunction which will be in force until a permanent injunction is granted or denied.

Makes Victory Complete.

To complete the victory of the "Tobacco Road" producers over the city Judge Holly indicated he would issue a supplemental order today to compel the Selwyn theater to carry out its contract and to let the show reopen there. The order would prevent city officials from interfering with the theater, whether it has a city license or not. The actual closing of "Tobacco Road" was brought about by revoking the Selwyn's license.

Judge Holly's action followed a courtroom scene marked by frequent clashes between Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes and Attorney Harold M. Keele for the producers.

City Launches New Fight.

Upon hearing the producers' request that the 180 North Dearborn corporation, owners of the Selwyn, be made co-defendants with the city in the enjoining orders, the corporation counsel, apparently sensing another adverse ruling, cut in with a request that the city be given time to present additional arguments on this new phase.

Abandoning temporarily his fight against the injunction, Hodes insisted that the license revocation is a matter between the theater corporation and the city—both incorporated under Illinois law—and that the federal court therefore is without jurisdiction [the injunction action is in federal court because the producers of "Tobacco Road" are residents of another state].

By such delays," shouted Attorney Keele, "this play is slowly being strangled."

Judge Holly then announced that he would defer until 2 p. m. today his ruling on the inclusion of the Selwyn theater owners as a defendant.

Indicates Ruling Is Certain.

"But you know my attitude," Judge Holly said. "If you can't alter it tomorrow, I shall issue the further restraining order." Judge Holly then turned to Hodes. "I don't wish you any bad luck, young man," he said, "but I do think you will have a hard job."

Judge Holly said that, in his opinion, the mayor does not have the power of license revocation "at his own pleasure," and that the evidence showed Mayor Kelly closed "Tobacco Road" solely on the ground that he did not believe it to be fit for public view. No evidence of ordinance violations on the part of the theater has been shown, the judge added.

Holds Play Inoffensive.

"The great weight of opinion that is before this court," the judge continued, "is that 'Tobacco Road' does not offend. My opinion, after reading the script, is the same.

"The mayor, I am convinced, is acting in good faith. It is human nature for a man in his position to use every power that is his to accomplish what he believes is right. He has any citizen's right to criticize this court.

"But in order to make my previous orders effective, I must allow the Selwyn theater owners to become co-defendants. This court has that power, and I believe it should be exercised in this case."

An attempt of the Blackstone theater to enter the case failed when Judge Holly declined to force the city to issue that theater a license for the presentation of "Tobacco Road." Chicago theaters, through an agreement with the city, obtain separate licenses for each production presented. Judge Holly ruled that only the Selwyn theater is involved in the present action.

Frank M. Stearns, Coolidge Friend, Becomes Catholic

Boston, Mass., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Frank M. Stearns, Boston merchant and lifelong friend of Calvin Coolidge, has embraced the Catholic faith, it was made known here today. Mr Stearns had previously been an Episcopalian and a member of St. Paul's cathedral. His son, Foster Stearns, also is a convert to the Catholic church. For some years the son was librarian of Holy Cross college.

FERNEKES ENDS HIS LIFE; POLICE ARE MORTIFIED

Find Hidden Poison Phial Too Late.

Henry J. [Midget] Fernekes, the astute little slayer who escaped from Joliet penitentiary on Aug. 3 only to be recaptured here on Monday, kept yesterday the promise he had made to police that he never would go back to jail nor face another showup. He swallowed poison in his cell in the detective bureau and died thirty minutes later while being taken to the County hospital. He was 38 years old.

Fernekes accomplished his self-destruction despite precautions taken by the state's attorney's police and cell guards as a result of Fernekes' suicide threat. A small glass phial, which contained the remainder of the poison he had used, was found in a secret pocket in his trousers.

Phial Almost Discovered Earlier.

The secret pocket was discovered and searched Monday night by Capt. Daniel Gilbert, chief investigator for State's Attorney Courtney. The captain found $40 there, but not the phial.

Capt. Gilbert was astounded after the suicide, when in the presence of newspaper reporters he searched Fernekes' clothing again and found the poison container.

News of Fernekes' death reached State's Attorney Courtney and Gilbert in the Criminal courts building.

"Well, he's off the street," the prosecutor commented. "I can't imagine how he got the poison. I know my men searched him conscientiously."

Captain's Theories Wander Afield.

In this assertion Capt. Gilbert emphatically concurred. He speculated that Fernekes might have had the poison spread on a handkerchief, which the Midget was observed chewing shortly before his collapse and which was reported missing.

Other theories advanced on the spur of the moment were that the desperado had concealed the poison in an ear, up his nose, under a fingernail, or in a false tooth. Then Gilbert further assured newspaper men:

"Why, we searched this fellow thoroughly. I did it myself. Wait till his clothes get here and I'll show you what a complete job we did."

The Garments Are Brought In.

Chief of Detectives Sullivan arrived in a few minutes with Fernekes' clothing and Gilbert examined these effects while the newspaper men watched. Meticulously he searched coat, vest, shirt, and underclothing.

"Not a thing there," Gilbert said. "I looked at every seam. Here are his shoes. I gave them plenty of attention."

He showed how he had tested the shoes for hollow heels.

"Nothing of the sort," Gilbert went on, "and now we come to the pants."

Along every seam and in the cuffs, Gilbert ran his hand.

"And here's something I discovered last night," he continued, smiling at the newspaper men, "a secret pocket. He had $40 hidden in that pocket."

The Secret Hiding Place.

This hiding place was cleverly concealed with a seam just below the right trouser pocket. Gilbert touched the secret pocket with his fingers and a peculiar expression came across his face—calm assurance yielded to dismay. The police captain flushed and stared at the newspaper men.

"Well, I'll be . . ." he said weakly, "that wasn't there when I looked last night."

Gingerly he extracted a glass phial from the secret pocket. The phial, about the size of a pencil and two inches long, was half filled with greenish white crystals.

Dr. Clarence Muehlberger, the coroner's chemist, examined the contents of the phial and found they were fifteen grains of potassium cyanide, enough to kill five persons. He surmised that Fernekes had swallowed an equal amount.

Recounts Story of Capture.

Capt. Gilbert then recounted the events leading to Fernekes' arrest last Monday, and explained the detention yesterday of Mrs. Lillian Pizzuto, 38 years old, 2449 Adams street, who said she is Fernekes' cousin, and her husband, Philip Pizzuto. They were held at the detective bureau.

"We learned that Mrs. Pizzuto visited the Midget in his cell at Joliet four days before he escaped," Gilbert said, "and was contacting him in Chicago. These contacts were being made through 'a fat lady,' whom we have not yet caught.

"This fat woman rented a room some where on the 2200 block on Erie street—we weren't sure just which one. One day we noticed a second hand automobile parked on the block and traced the license to a Louis Kuklinski, 2233 Erie street."

Posing as Respectable Workman.

The Kuklinski family was found to be quite respectable, but it had recently taken in a boarder. This man proved to be Fernekes, posing as a workingman.

Meanwhile police were informed that Fernekes had communicated with the Wells Fargo Bank and Trust company of San Francisco, where he had deposited part of the money realized in stock market speculations carried on with official permission while he was a prisoner at Joliet.

Fernekes' communication asked the bank to send $135 to Mrs. Pizzuto and $40 to an Evelyn Kehoe Newell.

On Monday Fernekes went to the Kuklinski home for his clothing. Watchers flashed the alarm to Capt. Gilbert and Sergt. Harry O'Connell. Gilbert and O'Connell trailed the murderer of five men for more than ten miles as he drove about the north side in a second hand car, once leaving the city for Niles Center.

Bloody Battle Fails to Occur.

Gilbert wished to make the arrest at a point where passersby would be safe from the gunfire which the policemen fully expected to ensue. They finally curbed Fernekes' automobile at Devon and Newgard avenues on the edge of Rogers Park and made the arrest. To their astonishment, the Midget offered no resistance—he was unarmed—but for several hours he denied his identity.

Gilbert said that Fernekes obtained the automobile license under the name of Louis Kuklinski after stealing identifying papers from Kuklinski's room. Fernekes had made his boarding arrangements with Louis Kuklinski's father, Stanley. Young Kuklinski, with whom Boarder Fernekes had many pious conversations on religion, is a student at Northwestern university.

Will Remembers Two Boys.

Yesterday afternoon Fernekes' will was filed with Clerk Mitchell G. Robin in the Probate court by Attorney Arthur C. Velonis. Velonis declined to comment on the document, which fills a single page and was written in ink. It is dated May 6, 1935, a time when the signer still was in Joliet prison, and was notarized by C. W. Troxell, a notary public of Will county. The witnesses are G. F. Friend and A. L. Anderson.

Anderson is a captain of guards at Joliet penitentiary. Friend was discharged, with three other men, from his job as a turnkey there because of Fernekes' escape.

The will bequeaths Fernekes' estate in equal shares to Donald Carrington Darche, 12 years old, and Robert Darche, 15. In the right hand corner of the page was pasted a picture, dated 1930, of a woman and two boys. The woman is identified in the will as Jennie Mulhall, with the notation, "maiden name," in parentheses. The paper names her executrix. She is the divorced wife of Gus Saunders, a criminal associate of Fernekes, who now is serving a robbery sentence in prison at Waupun, Wis.

Parentage of Legatees.

During Saunders' imprisonment, Fernekes, using the alias of Henry Darche, appropriated his friend's wife and son. Later, Jennie divorced Saunders. According to police, Robert Darche is Saunders' son but Donald is the son of Fernekes.

The will says that all of Fernekes' real estate deeds, personal property and funds are on deposit with the San Francisco bank. The paper also directs that Fernekes' body be cremated "at a cost not to exceed $50."

There was nothing to indicate the amount left by Fernekes. He was known in the underworld as a "tightwad" and a lone wolf who never had a heavy overhead for accomplices. There were also reports that he had large sums cached, the proceeds of his robbery hauls, when he went to prison. This report was partly verified by the fact that he had some ready funds at hand on reaching Chicago after his escape.

Escape Still a Mystery.

State's Attorney Courtney was asked whether Fernekes had told how he escaped from Joliet penitentiary.

"I have found some interesting contacts," Courtney replied, "but I must verify them further and cannot divulge their nature now. Fernekes had a horror of going back to the penitentiary and being on a bread and water diet for fifteen days in solitary confinement. That's why he killed himself."

On Monday night when Fernekes was placed in a cell at the detective bureau he told Chief of Detectives John L. Sullivan: "Hell, I'd rather go back to New York and face the chair than to Joliet." He was wanted for the killing of two bank officials at Pearl River, N. Y., in 1921.

When informed that he probably would be placed in solitary confinement on being returned to Joliet the Midget winked broadly and said: "Oh, yeah?"

No Showup for One Outlaw.

A few minutes later Sergt. Clarence Hayden of the state's attorney's office advised: "Well, Fernekes, we're going to show you up tomorrow."

Fernekes replied: "There'll be no showup on me."

At 7:45 a. m. yesterday Sergt. John Barry talked to the killer.

"He was walking up and down, chewing on a handkerchief," Barry related, "and he asked me for a pencil. He said he wanted to make some notations, but I told him he couldn't have a pencil. Then he said: 'You'll probably get to see Dan [Gilbert] before I do. Will you ask him to turn my watch, the $40, and my car over to my son?'"

The End of a Public Enemy.

At 9:20 a. m. Fernekes slumped to the floor. He was moaning and frothing at the mouth. Lieut. Richard McCarthy, Dr. Henry Steible, and Dr. Edward Niles promptly ordered Fernekes taken to the county hospital.

The Midget was carried unconscious to the ambulance and at 9:50 a. m., still unconscious, he died before reaching the hospital. The body was taken to the county morgue.

DU PONT'S DAUGHTER OFFERED HIM $75,000 FOR DIVORCE, HE SAYS

New York, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Harold S. Glendening, New York attorney, testified today he had refused a $75,000 offer by his former wife, foster daughter of the late Alfred I. du Pont of Wilmington, Del., to participate in a "collusive" divorce in another state.

Glendening, who is opposing her move to modify a court order giving him sole custody of their 12 year old son, Alan, said his former wife, Mrs. Alicia Maddox Glendening Llewellyn, made the offer in 1926 when he was earning $35 a week in a law office.

The alleged divorce offer was disclosed in a reference to a letter sent by Glendening to du Pont.

In the du Pont letter Glendening wrote that he "loved" his wife, although her interest in parties, dinners, and dances interfered with his law studies.

SNOW BLANKETS NORTHWEST, HIT BY ZERO BLASTS

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 29.—(AP)—The coldest October weather in years gripped the Pacific northwest tonight, sending high winds and rain south to California and frigid temperatures to many interior areas. Southern California had a light earthquake.

A high pressure area sweeping down from Alaska was blamed by the weather man. The forecast generally was for more of the same.

In southern Alberta, highways were blocked with snow. Drifts in some districts were seven to eight feet deep. A temperature of 12 below zero was reported at Namaka, and 10 below in the Crow's Nest pass area.

Seattle had the coldest October day in 16 years — 33 degrees.

AURORA COUNCIL TO GET DAYLIGHT TIME PROPOSAL

Aurora, like Chicago, may have year round daylight saving time. Ald. Charles Ashley announced yesterday that at the Aurora council meeting next Monday he would introduce an ordinance providing for a change to eastern standard time. School children and workingmen would be particularly benefited by the saving in time, Ashley said.

MIDGET'S DEATH ENDS AMAZING CRIME CAREER

Outlawry a Real Science to Killer Fernekes.

The life of Henry J. [Midget] Fernekes, bank robber, murderer, and escaped convict, who ended his life in a police cell early yesterday, was as bizarre as any "master" criminal created by a mystery writer. He was considered by detectives who trailed him during his years of crime as the shrewdest public enemy at large.

To fit himself for a robbery career Fernekes went to great lengths to perfect his technique. Under the name of Emil Wirtz, Fernekes studied drawing at the Art institute, according to Sergt. Andrew Aitken of the detective bureau, so he could draft plans of the banks to be robbed.

He worked in the welding department of an electric company to familiarize himself with blow torches for cutting into bank vaults. He spent several months firing a locomotive so he would know how to halt an engine.

A Singular Day Nursery.

Fernekes and one of the women with whom he lived opened a day nursery near Marquette road and South Park avenue to care for the children of working women.

Police raided the nursery after Fernekes left and found a cache of dynamite buried in the ground. In a secret closet they discovered imported German gas masks—defenses against tear gas in banks. On April 18, 1925, when police arrested him for murder he was in the John Crerar library reading up on the chemistry of explosives.

Fernekes was born in Kankakee in 1897, the son of Peter and Mae Darche Fernekes, a respected woman, whose brother, Henry, is a priest.

He left St. Viator High school at Bourbonnais in 1914 when he was 17, married Lulu Mae Woodward of Valparaiso, Ind., and came to Chicago. A few weeks later Fernekes was under arrest for robbing cashiers in loop offices and elevated stations. He explained he could not support a wife on "a clerk's salary."

Fernekes went to the Pontiac reformatory for two years. His wife got a divorce. On leaving the reformatory Fernekes formed a gang of bank robbers.

Four Killings in Short Order.

They robbed the Argo State bank of $120,000. With the wife, son, and loot of a confederate Fernekes fled to Pearl River, N. Y., and opened a battery service station. Shortly afterward he robbed the town bank, killing the cashier and the teller.

Son after he was linked to the murder of two Pennsylvania highway policemen.

In Chicago on Aug. 22, 1924, he obtained $4,000 in the robbery of the Inland Trust and Savings bank. In March, 1925, the Pulaski Building and Loan association in Chicago was held up and the cashier, Michael Swiontowski, was killed.

The Midget was sentenced to hang for this murder, but the Illinois Supreme court reversed the sentence. While the appeal was pending the killer made four attempts to escape from the Cook county jail. Conviction for the Inland bank robbery, however, sent Fernekes to Joliet penitentiary under a sentence of 10 years to life for robbery with a gun. Last Aug. 3 he ended that "stretch" by walking out of prison disguised as a visitor.

FUNERAL TOMORROW FOR SLAIN FETZER; SECOND VICTIM DIES

Funeral services for Attorney William R. Fetzer, 62 years old, former judge of the Municipal court, who was shot to death by a gunman on Monday in his office on the 12th floor of the Ashland block, 155 North Clark street, will be held tomorrow at 1:30 p. m. in the Midway Masonic temple, 6115 Cottage Grove avenue. Burial will be in Oak Woods cemetery. The funeral services will be conducted by Woodlawn Commandery, No. 76, of the Knights Templars.

The gunman who killed the former judge was Raymond Lamming, 36 years old, whom Fetzer had sentenced to the Bridewell in 1929. Attorney William L. Hawthorne, 42 years old, 848 East 40th street, who was shot by Lamming after the slaying of Fetzer, died yesterday of his wound. A third victim, Attorney Nathan Waintroob, is expected to recover. Lamming killed himself.

At the opening session of an inquest into the deaths of Fetzer and Hawthorne the slayer's sister, Miss Gloria T. Lamming, an employé of R. R. Donnelly & Sons Co., made a plea that the actions of her brother be considered those of an epileptic madman. The inquest was continued until Nov. 14.

SUES H. K. THAW FOR $10,000 FOR BEATING CHARGE

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Harry K. Thaw, central figure of the sensational Stanford White murder in 1906, was named defendant in a $10,000 damage suit filed in District Supreme court today by the head waiter of the Shoreham hotel.

According to Paul Jaeck, the plaintif, Thaw attacked and beat him severely last Jan. 3 in the hotel ballroom and cursed him in the presence of guests, calling him vile and vulgar names.

Thaw was served with process today in the suite at the Raleigh hotel, where he is staying.

Hotel guests on the night of the alleged assault on Jaeck say Thaw was set upon by hotel attachés and guests alike after the encounter and ejected from the ballroom in an old-fashioned "bum's rush."

MAILING RISQUE BOOKS CHARGED TO MRS. ROTH

New York, Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Pauline Roth, wife of Samuel Roth, publisher, who was convicted several years ago of sending obscene books through the mail, was accused today of a similar offense and freed in $1,000 bail by Garrett W. Cotter, United States commissioner, for action of the grand jury.

Mrs. Roth, according to a complaint signed by a postoffice inspector, sent advertising matter concerning the sale of obscene books through the mails or caused such matter to be sent.

Hugo Pollock, her attorney, said that although his client was executive head of Golden Hind Press, Inc., she did not even know the names of some of the books which the corporation had offered for sale.

EIGHT JURORS CHOSEN TO TRY SWEITZER CASE

Attorneys Promise Judge to Finish Task Today.

The jury that will hear the case of Robert M. Sweitzer in the Criminal court is expected to be completed this morning. Eight jurors were sworn in yesterday, the second day of the trial, and three others were tentatively accepted by both state and defense, although it was indicated that some of these men may be excused today.

Sweitzer is on trial before Judge John C. Lewe, charged with withholding $414,129 of county funds from Michael J. Flynn, his successor in the office of county clerk. Sweitzer left the county clerkship last December after he was elected county treasurer. He was ousted as treasurer by the county board last July after the alleged shortage was discovered.

Attorneys Promise Jury Today.

Judge Lewe was hesitant about adjourning court at the usual hour of 4:30 p. m. yesterday, but agreed to do so after the attorneys for both sides assured him that the jury selection task would be completed this morning and opening arguments would be started this afternoon.

The rapidity with which the jurors are being selected is a surprise to court attachés who thought the task would take several weeks because of Sweitzer's long political career and the widespread publicity given the case.

However, because of the limited number of peremptory challenges allowed in the case—ten for each side—and because few of the veniremen have said they have opinions on Sweitzer, the selection of jurors has moved quickly.

Eight Jurors Take Oath.

The eight jurors who were sworn in yesterday are:

FRED W. BREHMER, 713 West 16th street, a painter.

HARRY SKIBINSKI, 2534 George street, automobile mechanic.

ALBERT RADTKE, 103 West 13th street, carpenter.

WILLIAM J. YOUNG, 6507 South Paulina street, machinist.

EDWARD KEATING, 1320 Sunnyside avenue, clerk.

JOHN J. MILLER, 509 West 38th street, cattle weightmaster.

OTTO A. SCHULZ, 4820 Eddy street, grocery clerk.

AUSTIN STANTON, 1607 North Shore avenue, former street car conductor, now unemployed.

The four veniremen in the last panel when court adjourned are Anthony B. Napravnick, 1804 North Albany avenue; William Kerivan Jr., 2415 Lexington street; August W. Lenke, 1629 South 59th avenue, Cicero, and Henry Kolb, 3513 North Central avenue. All except Kolb have been temporarily accepted.

Defense Attorney Benedict J. Short has used only three of his ten peremptory challenges. The prosecution has used seven of its ten.

BALTIMORE WOMAN'S LETTER GETS WELL POSTED AFTER ALL

Baltimore, Oct. 29.—[Special.]—James Farley is United States postmaster-general and Mrs. W. M. Hopkins of Wendover road, Roland Park, had been forgetting all Saturday morning to mail a letter.

And, out of 64,998 other people at the Navy-Notre Dame football game in the stadium in the afternoon, who should meet but these two.

That letter was the first thing Mrs. Hopkins thought of.

"Do you know, I've been carrying it around all day?" she said. "Will you be kind enough to mail it?"

The head man of the postal service, who happened to be visiting between the halves in a box where Mrs. Hopkins was a guest, bowed low.

"It will be a pleasure," said he with a courtly flourish.

"I and the United States postal department are at your service."

JEW SLAPS ARYAN BOY; NAZIS JAIL HIM FOR 14 DAYS

MARIENWERDER, Germany, Oct. 29.—(AP)—The local newspaper reported today that a Jew, 67 years old, has been sentenced to a week in jail for slapping an Aryan schoolboy who allegedly participated in the breaking of windows in a synagogue.

The defendant has actually served fourteen days, having been in jail that long awaiting trial.

"No Jew has the right to strike a German boy," the court stated. "The Jew was in the synagogue when he heard the windows smashed. He rushed out, saw a group of school boys running, and, grabbing one, slapped him."

HOPKINS TALKS WITH PRESIDENT AS DOLE GROWS

Predicts End of Relief by Dec. 1.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Works Progress Administrator Harry L. Hopkins today promised President Roosevelt he would have 3,500,000 employables at work under the 4 billion dollar works relief program and end the federal dole by Dec. 1.

The end of the dole prediction was carried to the President as official figures showed the New Deal has failed thus far in its drive to end relief. This year's grants for relief to date were placed at $1,227,973,573, as compared to $1,013,069,738 in the corresponding 10 months of 1934.

The official figures showed that the dole burden rose $214,903,835 above that for the first ten months of last year. The increase is in sharp contrast to New Deal assertion that unployment is decreasing.

Guest at White House.

Hopkins was a luncheon guest of the White House. He told the President that about 2 million persons must be put to work in the next month if the WPA is to reach its goal. The deadline had been originally set for Nov. 1 by Hopkins, but he moved it back on his return from the fishing cruise with President Roosevelt, when the New Deal was found to be unable to fulfill its promise.

As the President and Hopkins conferred, Controler General J. R. McCarl, watchdog of the treasury, issued a ruling which will curtail if not wreck the administration's highway program. McCarl held that PWA loans and grants may not be used to finance federal roads.

The work relief act provides three ways for road building. The first is WPA financing of farm to market roads; the second, PWA loans and grants, and the third, federal aid to states for federal roads.

McCarl held that since the last method is included in the law the PWA may not provide loans and grants for federal roads. His ruling has held up 16 million dollars of projects in the PWA's new 330 million dollar program. As the 16 millions in projects is under the federal 45 per cent grant, the total value of the projects involved in the ruling is about 35 million dollars.

Ickes' New Housing Plan.

Hopkins was followed at the White House by Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes. Ickes sought to get out from under the legal assault on the constitutionality of his slum clearance and low cost housing program by suggesting establishment of a permanent national federal housing authority.

Establishment of a permanent housing authority would necessitate legislation and such legislation might correct the phases of the program now under attack, it was said. The program's confiscation of property by the right of eminent domain has been challenged in a test case before the Supreme court.

McCarl recently gaves the Ickes program an upset in holding the housing units could not pay taxes to municipalities' police and fire protection and other civic activities.

HOPKINS UPSETS ILLINOIS WPA BY JOB ULTIMATUM

Orders 183,500 to Work by Nov. 25.

A new edict from Washington, D. C., that 183,500 "employables" now on the relief rolls in Illinois must be at work on federal Works Progress administration projects by Nov. 25 threw the local WPA office into a turmoil yesterday. Robert J. Dunham, WPA administrator for Illinois, at a meeting of the Illinois emergency relief commission last Friday, set Jan. 1 as the date when the shift could be completed.

The federal orders, which came over the teletype from the office of Harry L. Hopkins, national head of WPA, also stated that 100,000 must be employed by Nov. 15. Last night officials estimated that throughout the state there were approximately 15,000 working on WPA projects.

Downstate Directors Confident.

In Chicago on Monday night there were 6,890 persons on the WPA pay roll, although a total of 18,152 has been requisitioned for from the United States employment office.

Ralph H. Burke, deputy administrator of WPA in Illinois, called officials in for a conference and told them of the teletype order. District directors for downstate told Burke that they could meet the demands on the date set, but the Chicago situation is more complicated, it was said.

The Chicago procurement division of the United States treasury department, which does the purchasing for WPA, is bogged down with requisitions for materials and services.

Face Strike Troubles.

Meanwhile WPA faced a strike of building tradesmen. Patrick J. Sullivan, president of the Chicago Building Trades council, said last night that his men would not work for the government's "security" wages, which run from $55 a month for unskilled labor to $94 for professional and technical work.

Sullivan said that he would decide today whether or not to pull his men off suburban school projects. Bricklayers, painters, common laborers, carpenters, hoisting engineers, and plumbers have been working at "security wages" on schools at Evanston and Franklin Park.

OFFER JOHNSON NEW JOB AS CZAR OF DRESSMAKERS

New York, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Samuel Oxhorn, president of the United Dress Manufacturers' association, said today that Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, former NRA administrator and more recently New York WPA chief, had been offered a post as "czar" of the dress industry.

Oxhorn did not reveal the salary offered, but said a committee which conferred with the general in Washington found him "receptive" to the proposal. The salary proposed was reported to be about $60,000 per year.

The association represents about 2,000 dress contractors.

COUZENS' DAUGHTER AND MATE SEPARATE; WILL SEEK DIVORCE

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Margo Couzens Chewning, daughter of Senator James Couzens of Michigan, today confirmed that she and her husband had separated, and that she contemplated divorce from William Jeffries Chewning Jr.

Mrs. Chewning herself answered a ring at the door of the Couzens' home on Woodland drive.

"It is true my husband and I have separated," she said. "I have taken an apartment here. There are no plans yet for the divorce—we still have to reach an agreement about the children, which I feel sure will be made amicably.

"We were incompatible—isn't that the word? It is too bad this had to happen, but since it did the thing to do is to get it over as quickly and quietly as possible."

The two children are a boy, Billy, 4, and girl of seventeen months, Margo.

CHURCH PENSION FUND RECOUPS 2 MILLION LOSSES

Episcopal Age Annuity Mounts to $1,000.

New York, Oct. 29.—[Special.]—The church pension fund of the Protestant Episcopal church has assets of $32,060,547, including $1,511,668 cash in hand, William Fellowes Morgan, president of the fund, reported today at a meeting of the trustees and directors at the offices of the fund. J. P. Morgan is treasurer of the fund.

The fund has largely recouped the loss of $2,236,451 shown in its investments, other than investments in subsidiaries and affiliates, as of Dec. 31, 1933. On that date the market value of the fund's investments, for the most part in bonds and preferred stocks, had a market value of $27,192,191 as against cost of $29,428,642.

The investments, exclusive of those in affiliates, as of Sept. 30, 1935, had a market value of $28,954,082 as against a cost of $29,672,870, representing a loss of $718,788. The investments in subsidiaries and affiliates, however, had a market value of $1,594,797, compared with a cost of $615,000, a gain of $879,797.

Total Gain Is $261,009.

The market value of all investments as of Sept. 30, 1935, was $30,548,879, compared with a cost of $30,287,870, representing a gain of $261,009.

The fund started in 1917 with assets of approximately $8,600,000.

The insurance corporation as of Sept. 30, 1935, had investments with a market value of $2,576,208, as against a cost of $2,536,444. The market value of the fire insurance corporation investments likewise showed a gain over cost. Their market value as of Sept. 30, 1935, was $441,748, and their cost was $429,218.

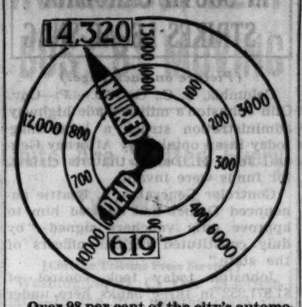

Benefits Favorably Compared.

"The average annual age allowance to the clergy has increased from less than $600 when the fund was started eighteen years ago to about $1,000 today," Mr. Morgan explained, "and it will continue to increase until normally it will be one-half of the average clerical salary. This compares favorably with the benefits contemplated by the social securities act, which will be small for many years and can reach their contemplated maximum of $1,020 only after about 40 years. The fund's current pensions are now being paid at the rate of $1,192,000 a year.

As showing the growth of the fund's subsidiary and affiliate, Mr. Morgan disclosed that the fire insurance corporation now had insurance in force totaling nearly $70,000,000, while the life insurance corporation now has $18,783,000 in life insurance in force upon clergy, church officers and their immediate families.

BABY ORANG HOLDS ITS OWN IN STRUGGLE TO LIVE

The 8 day old baby orangutan at the Lincoln Park zoo, whose valiant struggle to survive in a civilized world is being followed by well-wishers throughout the country, yesterday appeared "just as strong" as on the previous day, Floyd S. Young, zoo director, said.

Nancy, the baby's mother, has no breast milk to feed him, and he and she are cooperating in a makeshift method which zoo officials have been unable to improve upon. She takes a sip of cow's milk from a pan in her cage and lets it fall drop by drop from her own mouth into her baby's.

The infant orangutan is a male. Nancy's first baby, born in May, 1934, was a female, named Betty. She died from malnutrition on her tenth day of life, after the same method Nancy is using to feed her son failed to give the infant enough milk. Whether the young male has any better chance of survival Mr. Young couldn't say.

"Sometimes we think he's catching on oetter as to how to take the milk from Nancy's mouth," he said. "Then again we don't think he's becoming any more expert. We can't tell how much he gets. We're full of hope--just as we hoped right up to the last with Betty."

Mrs. Davidson, 20 Years a Policewoman, to Retire

Mrs. Georgia L. Davidson, a Chicago policewoman for 20 years, will retire from the force on Friday. Attaches of the Criminal court, where she has worked for the last six years, gave a party for her yesterday in the chambers of Judge Matthew D. Hartigan of the Felony court. Mrs. Davidson said she would devote most of her time to caring for her flowers at her home, 8227 Drexel avenue.

WOMAN IS KILLED BY CAR ENTERING PARK DRIVEWAY

Mrs. Rose Podstrasiak, 48 years old, was killed last night when she was struck by an automobile while walking on a crosswalk at the driveway into Sherman park on Garfield boulevard near Racine avenue. Harry Amirante, 28 years old, 5428 South Marshfield avenue, was the driver of the car.

Clyde Adkinson, 42 years old, 2952 West Monroe street, died last night in Garfield Park hospital from injuries suffered Saturday night when hit by an automobile at Madison street and Sacramento boulevard. The driver of the car was Sol Weiner, 35 years old, 3854 Wilcox street.

William H. Pope, 76 years old, of Wadsworth, Ill., and his brother Henry, 75, of 910 Lake avenue, Wilmette, were slightly injured yesterday when the automobile in which they were riding, driven by Henry, was struck by a North Shore train in 4th street near Greenleaf avenue in Wilmette. The North Shore tracks are not elevated at this point.

Nels Peterson, 54 years old, 717 North Clark street, was injured critically last night when he was struck by an automobile in Chicago avenue near La Salle street. The driver, Henry Bertilmil, 27 years old, 4952 West Erie street, told the police that Peterson had walked in front of the car. Peterson was taken to the County hospital.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 795 persons had been killed in automobile accidents in Cook county since Jan. 1, according to figures from the coroner's office. In the same period 619 persons had been killed and 14,320 injured within the city limits.

STUDENT ADMITS BEING BURGLAR AFTER SCHOOL

Charles Johnson, 17 years old, 4302 North Newcastle avenue, a pupil in the Sayre branch of the Steinmetz High school, on parole from Pontiac reformatory, confessed last night, according to the Cragin police, that he committed several recent burglaries after school hours.

Police arrested Johnson on Friday as he was ringing doorbells in the neighborhood of Thomas street and Normandy avenue. They said he admitted his method was to ring the doorbell, and if no one answered, pry open a window, and loot the home.

Under a mattress in the boy's home investigators found jewelry valued at $2,000. Johnson admitted disposing of $2,000 more in loot which police are seeking. Five complaints have been signed against him.

SEE VANDENBERG AS COMPROMISE FOR NOMINATION

Viewed as Leading G. O. P. Dark Horse.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, leading "dark horse" in the field of potential Republican candidates for President, does not believe that the sum total of all wisdom abides in the G. O. P. He is willing to give the New Deal credit for a certain measure of improvement of our common lot—but not very much.

This is what might be expected of a moderate liberal such as Vandenberg. And to his capacity for embracing New Deal measures with reservations is attributed his reelection to a second term in the senate a year ago when the New Deal was at its pinnacle of popularity and few Republicans survived the second Roosevelt landslide.

In the Vandenberg political philosophy government must accept a greater measure of "social responsibility," which derives from the "social justice" doctrin of Theodore Roosevelt, whom young Vandenberg followed, up to the point of breaking ties with the old party.

Parts Company on Some Points.

That part of the New Deal represented by a development of the social responsibility of government, by regulation of business as distinguished from control, by sound loans to ease credit, and by the economy program with which Mr. Roosevelt inaugurated his administration the Michigan senator applauds. But he parts company with the New Deal on price fixing, soft money, regimentation, extravagance, and repudiation.

Thus the senator explains his votes in the senate in favor of the social security legislation, the regulation of security issues and stock exchanges, the Frazier-Lemke farm mortgage moratorium, the home owners' loans, the CCC, the Jones-Costigan sugar bill, the economy bill, the insurance of bank deposits, and the railroad retirement pensions.

By the same token he voted against the AAA, the NRA, the TVA, devaluation of gold, repudiation of the gold clause, the holding company bill with its utilities "death sentence," the greenback soldier bonus, reciprocal tarif bargains, the 5 billion dollar relief bill, the Wagner labor disputes bill, the Guffey coal control bill, the tax bill, and suspension of the anti-trust laws.

Originated Deposit Insurance.

One of the New Deal measures for which the President is claiming vast credit sprang in fact from Vandenberg's brain. This was the insurance of bank deposits. He moved it as an amendment to the Glass-Steagall bill and carried it, despite the opposition of Senator Carter Glass [Dem., Va.] and the President, who wrote a letter to the conferees urging its elimination. Vandenberg, who has no fears of the ultimate success of deposit insurance, calls it the "main steel beam in the New Deal's fiscal structure."

Taken by and large, however, the New Deal, in Senator Vendenberg's opinion, bids fair to ruin the country unless it be checked in its career of extravagance, regimentation, and financial and economic experimentation. The destruction of the NRA he hails as a tremendous gain, tracing the present improvement in business in large part to the Supreme court decision.

The AAA, with its regimentation and cumbersome machinery for enforcing curtailment of production, he regards as the wrong approach to the farm problem, a solution for which he considers the greatest challenge to the statesmanship of the Republican party.

Gives Farm Views.

In the course of a three hour talk with the senator today I asked him to give his views of the farm problem. Mr. Vandenberg puffed at one of those denicotined cigars he smokes, knitted his bushy black eyebrows between which and a receding thatch of graying hair rises a high domed forehead, and fixed me with the gaze of a pair of burning brown eyes shining through rimless spectacles.

"Well," he said reflectively, "there is a farm problem all right. It can't be separated from the industrial problem because industrial prosperity must provide the markets in which farm commodities must find their purchasers. Nor can it be separated from the tarif problem because the farmer must enjoy the complete control of his domestic market before any prosperity whatever can be planned for him. This axiom, by the way, is recklessly violated today.

"Beyond these general considerations, there must be specific treatment of the farm surplus problem if the farmer is to have cost of production and a reasonable profit. To be perfectly frank, I don't know the answer yet. But I am sure the present device is not an answer. The AAA is a narcotic, not a cure. I believe the cure finally will build itself around the McNary-Haugen equalization fee idea for which I have always voted. This idea represents complete farm coöperation and an automatic surplus control at the expense of the commodity and not at the expense of the public treasury."

Urges G. O. P. Farm Plank.

"The Republican party must write a definite and specific farm plank in its next platform. I am not sufficiently expert to write it or to forecast it. In my view the best Republican leadership which knows the farm problem intimately should clinically study the matter and make its recommendations to the convention. Among those whom I have particularly in mind are Ex-Gov. Lowden of Illinois and Senator McNary of Oregon."

Throughout our talk the senator returned again and again to the thought that the best brains of the party must be marshalled in the convention to frame the proposals of the measures deemed necessary to the salvation of the nation. He hoped that partisan considerations arising from rival ambitions for the nomination would not be allowed to interfere with the selection of the ablest minds to come together in a "free parliament of the party" to frame the platform and choose the candidate.

If the senator is running for the nomination he is doing it by appearing to run away from it, thereby promoting his own peace of mind, if not his chances of selection. He swings down the street accepting the handclasps, but laughing off the suggestions of his candidacy with the remark that he has a lively sense of his own limitations. He has vetoed any canvass for delegates, has urged Michigan to send a wholly uninstructed delegation to the convention, and hoped all other states would do likewise.

Potential Dark Horse.

Thus Vandenberg approaches the convention as a potential "dark horse" compromise to whom the delegates might turn in the event of such a deadlock as occurred in 1920. And with the three other Republicans most prominently before the country in connection with the Republican nomination—Gov. Alf Landon of Kansas, Senator Borah of Idaho, and Frank Knox of Illinois—Mr. Vandenberg is on terms of the most intimate friendship.

Vandenberg, descendant of Dutch and English immigrants, was born in this furniture making center of Dutch settlements 51 years ago. Son of a harness maker who was ruined in the depression of 1893, Vandenberg went to work at the age of 9. Fate determined his career when his boss fired him for taking time off, contrary to orders, in order to see Theodore Roosevelt parade the street in the campaign of 1900. He got a job as office boy at the Grand Rapids Herald, became a reporter and finally editor and publisher of the paper for 23 years, till he went to the senate. During those 23 years he molded thought in community and state, led many a fight for reform, forged to the front in political affairs.

In the senate Vandenberg first attracted attention as the leader of the "Young Turks" who rebelled against what they regarded the lack of loyalty on the part of the Republican leadership to President Hoover. "Mustapha Kemal," George Moses dubbed him. But Moses, who had been president pro tempore of the senate, bit the dust in the next election and poetic justice was satisfied by choice of "Mustapha Kemal" by the Republicans for Moses' successor in the office.

Forced Reapportionment.

Vandenberg won his spurs in the senate when he forced the reapportionment of congress after a lapse of 10 years. The members from states that would lose representatives had stalled the bill. So Vandenberg stalled the bill for the 1930 census with its vast patronage and kept it stalled till the recalcitrants surrendered.

He was co-author of the munitions inquiry in which he pried relentlessly into the manipulations through which Roosevelt administration insiders got bonanza navy contracts. Out of the munitions committee came the neutrality legislation which Vandenberg was influential in promoting. He intends to move for the strengthening of the neutrality rules at the next session.

"Americans," he said, "should be completely prohibited from traveling on belligerent ships at all, except if necessary to leave a war zone, because I do not believe it is possible for them to travel 'at their own risk.' Also, loans to belligerents should be completely prohibited. With arms, ammunition, and implements of war embargoed, export of other articles to belligerents should be on a cash and carry basis. Tell the belligerents to come and get what they want at their risk, not ours. By such measures we would keep free of such entanglements as brought us into the world war."

Backs Postal Measure.

In the last session the senator launched a movement for an expanded civil service including a "career service" in the postal system, whereby political postmasters would be eliminated and letter carriers enabled to rise to first assistant postmaster general.

"The prostitution of the civil service under this administration," said the senator, "is one of the greatest scandals in recent times."

Vandenberg voted for the Roosevelt money legislation of 1934 whereby the government appropriated the paper profit on the devaluation of the dollar. He defended his course with the reminder that he voted against the Thomas amendment of 1933 with its provisions for gold devaluation and printing press money.

"The 1934 act," he said, "sharply restricted the range of gold devaluation as compared with the range in the Thomas amendment. Therefore, I consider it a long step toward stabilization and certainly a long step toward a modernized gold standard and toward the traditional Republican sound money view. That view does not need to be static in order to be safe. It is no desertion of sound money to change the basic gold value. That always has been a matter of statutory decision and it may well be that our staggering private debt situation requires it."

ROOSEVELT AWARDS AIR MAIL MEDALS TO SEVEN AVIATORS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today awarded the air mail flyer's medal of honor to seven aviators for extraordinary achievements during the past year.

Those who were given the medals were:

Lewis S. Turner, of Fort Worth, Tex.; James H. Carmichael Jr., Detroit, Mich.; Edward A. Bellande, Hollywood, Cal.; Gordon S. Darnell, Kansas City, Mo.; Wellington P. McFail, Murfreesboro, Tenn.; Roy H. Warner, Portland, Ore., and Grover Tyler, Seattle, Wash.

The medals are authorized by congress upon recommendation of the postmaster general.

The selection of the pilots was made after examination of numerous cases of "extraordinary achievements" by a board composed of officials of the air mail service.

Postmaster General Farley and Assistant Postmaster General Branch presented the flyers to the President.

Farley also gave letters of commendation to two co-pilots—Lynn Berkenkamp of Glendale, Cal., and R. H. Taylor, a native of Erie, Pa., for their conduct in emergencies.

COUP OF GOVERNOR IN SOUTH CAROLINA STRIKES LEGAL SNAG

Columbia, S. C., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Gov. Olin Johnston's militia-made highway administration struck a legal snag today in an opinion by Attorney General John M. Daniel that its claims, for funds were invalid.

Controler General A. J. Beattie announced Daniel had advised him to approve only vouchers signed "by duly constituted regular officers of the state."

Johnston today took control of $1,871,352 in three banks here under terms of his edict, sending troops to make sure the ousted commission would not have access to the funds.

Meanwhile Gov. Johnston sought a valid way to cap his military coup in seizing control of the highway administration by providing $3 license tags to South Carolina motorists.

Test Boy Patrol Effigies in School Safety Effort

William J. Bogan, superintendent of schools, announced yesterday that on the advice of Mayor Kelly's Keep Chicago Safe committee, school authorities are experimenting with five foot effigies of school boy safety patrols designed to be used as signs to slow down motor trafic in school neighborhoods. Several of these signs have been set up in 95th street in the neighborhood of the Vanderpoel elementary school. According to Kenneth Myrick, principal of the school, the signs are aiding in slowing motor trafic.

FLORIDA TO OUST 1,700 JOBLESS IF U. S. AID STOPS

Soldiers Already Block Influx at State Line.

Tallahassee, Fla., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Gov. Dave Sholtz said today that if the federal government ends its transient program in Florida on Dec. 1 he will order 1,700 jobless wanderers hauled to the state border.

"If necessary I'll place the national guard along the border to see that they don't come back," he added.

He referred to the 1,700 persons now quartered in transient camps whose operation the federal government has ordered stopped.

"I'm not going to have these transients turned loose in Florida to become potential highwaymen if the transient program is stopped," the governor declared.

Earlier reports from Washington had been that the service would cease on Oct. 31. Then Gov. Sholtz took to Washington a request of his transient committee of 50 citizens for continuation of the program. He returned with the report that federal officials had denied the request. Today he said he had been given to understand the service would be extended through November.

Gov. Sholtz estimated that 150,000 "hoboes, tramps, and undesirable persons without any means of support" attempt to come into Florida each year.

"That amounts to 10 per cent of the state's population," he added. "As a result it is absolutely necessary, for the preservation of public peace and protection of bona fide tourists, to exclude these persons."

Already guards are stationed at the state's nine highway entrances in an effort to discourage the regular winter influx. Whatever the outcome of the present program, the governor said, that part of the campaign will not be altered.

DAUGHTER GETS DAD'S ADDRESS AFTER 25 YEARS

Mrs. Dorothy Wilson of Flushing, Long Island, N. Y., who has not seen her father since she was a baby twenty-five years ago, has learned of his whereabouts through an investigation conducted here by City Detectives Robert McKee and Martin Larsen.

Mrs. Wilson gave the police two addresses where her father, Fred C. Halsey, lived more than twenty years ago in Chicago. She said also that Halsey had known a man named "Tops" here. Detectives McKee and Larsen learned that "Tops" was James Topps, proprietor of a warehouse at 5844 South State street.

Topps recalled Halsey and said his wife had been corresponding with Halsey's second wife. Halsey's present address, which the detectives forwarded to Mrs. Wilson, is the Arcadia ranch, Lamont, Idaho.

GREEKS DON MONOCLES, RAISE MUSTACHES TO HAIL KING'S RETURN

[Copyright: 1935: By the New York Times.]

ATHENS, Oct. 29.—Monocles and handlebar mustaches are appearing upon boulevards as a royal touch in male fashions in anticipation of King George's return.

The Republicans find themselves obliged not only to change their politics overnight, but to change their eyelid muscles and bring either the right or left eye fashionably out of focus in imitation of photographs showing George bemonocled.

Canstantinist mustaches are developed at even more sacrifice for they necessitate privacy at a time when it is most necessary for fledgling monarchists to be active.

EFFORT TO HALT SILK WORKERS' STRIKE FAILS

Paterson, N. J., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—An attempt to prevent the strike of 8,000 silk workers, scheduled to begin tomorrow at midnight, failed late tonight when the strike committee of the Paterson branch of the National Federation of Silk Workers announced it was too late to change plans.

Earlier in the day a labor conciliation committee formed by Mayor John V. Hinchcliffe of Paterson made a request to the strike committee that the strike be postponed so that the more than 400 silk manufacturers might form an organization to deal with the union.

The employers' organization, active several years ago, was disbanded last year. Alexander Williams notified the committee after a union meeting that the strike could not now be called off.

SOUTH DAKOTA GROSS SALES TAX IS HELD INVALID

Mitchell, S. D., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Although holding the graduated gross sales tax law invalid, Circuit Judge E. E. Wagner today denied an injunction suit brought by J. C. Penney company and intervening plaintiffs to avoid payment of the state chain store tax. The judge sustained a demurrer interposed by the defendants in the case.

G. O. P. MEMBERS PLAN PARLEY ON NEW DEAL BILLS

Assembly Group on Guard Against Encroachment.

BY PERCY WOOD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—A vigilance against further encroachments by the New Deal into the field of state legislation was exhibited today when Republicans in both branches of the general assembly decided to hold a joint conference next week to discuss the latest bills emanating from Washington which were introduced when the special session convened last night.

Minority Leaders Earl B. Searcy of the senate and Leroy M. Green of the house asked their followers to study the old age pension and unemployment insurance bills over the week-end and be prepared to recommend what should be the Republican position toward them in a conference which will meet either next Tuesday or Wednesday.

Searcy Warns Republicans.

Senator Searcy, who represents the Springfield district and is an announced candidate for governor, wishes to warn the Republicans, he said today, of bills he understands will be presented later in the special session to permit municipalities to issue bonds without referendums to provide funds to match federal grants offered by the New Deal for public works.

"It's all very well," Searcy said, "to have a new water works or some other improvement, but if it is going to result in an increase in local taxes, certainly the people should be permitted to vote upon it. No matter what the intention may be, it is absolutely essential that the project be ratified by the voters.

"I am going to tell the conference that I believe the sound attitude would be to oppose all bills of that sort which do not carry referendum clauses. And I, for one, will vote against all which haven't such clauses."

Bill Sent to Committee.

The unemployment insurance bill was sent to the house judiciary committee today by Speaker John P. Devine and the chairman, Thomas P. Sinnett [Dem., Rock Island], announced that at 2 p. m. next Tuesday proponents of the bill will be given an opportunity to be heart, with the opponents coming before the committee at 7 p. m. the same day. The same bill is on second reading in the senate.

While none of the labor bloc wished to say so openly, it was believed that labor would not oppose the provision written into the bill at Gov. Horner's suggestion providing for small payments to the fund by labor. The federal tax imposes a 1 per cent pay roll levy upon employers for 1936, 2 per cent for 1937, and 3 per cent for 1938 and thereafter. The Horner bill would tax employes one-fourth of 1 per cent of their salaries for 1936 and 1937 and one-half of 1 per cent for 1938 and thereafter.

"There's a lot to be said for that," one labor leader in the assembly said today. "The workers would then have a say in how the insurance would be paid, for it would be a fund which they, and not only their employers, had raised."

Sent to Second Reading.

The old age pension bills, which make minor amendments to the measure passed by the regular session, were sent to second reading without committee reference in the house today, but it was not determined when they would be considered.

In the senate the insurance code—which was referred to the insurance committee last night—was set for a rehearing next Wednesday at 2 p. m. A drivers' license bill was included in the special session agenda by the governor, but the administration has not yet perfected its bill. Presumably it will be introduced next week.

This week's session ended today for the house, but the senate will work tomorrow.

DR. AND MRS. JAMES E. WEST.

Dr. James E. West, chief executive of the Boy Scouts of America, arrived here yesterday en route to St. Paul, Minn., where he will attend a series of regional Scout meetings. In his party were Mrs. West and Arthur Schuck, director of the division of operations of the national Scout organization.

CHAIR BUSTING DAYS OVER FOR STATE SENATOR

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—The beneficent commonwealth of Illinois today provided Senator Peter P. Kielminski [Dem., Chicago], with a new chair—a mammoth throne of polished wood and shiny lether heavily reinforced with steel so as to safely cradle his current impressiveness of 375 pounds.

Attachés of Lieut. Gov. Donovan's office were chary of revealing how much the extraordinary seat cost, but probably it will be money well spent inasmuch as Senator Kielminski has demolished its three predecessors, not with roughness but simple occupancy.

No longer will it be necessary for the assistant superintendent of Chicago's house of correction—the Bridewell—to slide uneasily into his first row chair in the senate. The new seat is twice the size of those which hold his colleagues and its specifications were from measure—figures not revealed. Mr. Kielminski tried it today. It fit.

Accommodating Pheasant Bags Self for Motorist

Chester T. Myers, 4911 Ohio street, went duck hunting Sunday and brought home a pheasant despite the closed season on them. He was driving along route 60 just north of Waukonda when a cock pheasant rose from the road and crashed through the windshield of his car. Myers, alone in the car, was uninjured by the flying glass.

ASSEMBLY GETS 2 BILLS TO KILL SALES TAX LEVY

Three Measures Offered to Benefit Schools.

BY STANLEY ARMSTRONG.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Sales tax repealers were placed before both houses of the Illinois general assembly today in defiance of Gov Horner's omission of any specific reference to this subject in his call for the special session.

In the house Clinton Searle [Rep., Rock Island] submitted a repealer of the 3 per cent retailers' occupational [sales] tax law. Senator Francis J. Loughran [Dem., Chicago] presented in his chamber a repealer of the same levy on utility services, which were included under the sales tax act only a few months ago in the regular session of the 59th assembly.

Loughran's bill went to second reading without reference to a committee, while Searle's measure was held on Speaker John Devine's desk for examination to see if it is within the scope of the session call.

May Seek Reduced Levy.

Searle said that if his bill is ruled out by the speaker he will introduce another to reduce the tax from 3 to 2 per cent on the ground that State Treasurer John Stelle has been quoted to the effect that he belives relief needs no longer necessitate the higher levy.

"The sales tax is unfair and oppressive," said Searle. "It is an income tax in reverse, bearing heaviest on those least able to pay, and should be repealed.

"But, if the Democrats will not let repeal of the entire sales tax act be considered, they should be willing to hear Treasurer Stelle's opinions on reducing the levy to 2 per cent. If they don't let the repealer come before the house I'll introduce a reduction measure."

Foresees Tax Passed to Patron.

In support of his bill Senator Loughran said that eventually the 3 per cent tax on utility services will be passed along to the consumers, either in an increase of rates or as an additional item on the consumers' bills.

In the brief session of the senate today six measures were advanced to third reading. These included three bills of the Chicago board of education and three bills covering the pay and expenses of the legislators and the expense of the help that they require for the special session.

One Bill to Help Teachers.

Our school board bill would make payment from the school distributive fund monthly instead of quarterly, a measure that would release $500,000 for teachers' pay in October and November that otherwise would not be available until January. A second bill would permit numerical numbering of school tax warants and their redemption in the same order.

The third school bill provides that if taxes are not collected in sufficient amounts to effect a complete reimbursement of loans from the working cash fund, the deficiencies should be made up from delinquent taxes when collected. School authorities say this would help in meeting current expenses.

Woman Drives 85 Miles to Lose Cat—She Hopes

Mackay, Idaho, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Mrs. Thomas Gentry's cat kept the neighbors awake nights so she bundled it into her car, carried it 85 miles across the Lost River desert and dumped it. That was 30 days ago. Yesterday Mrs. Gentry opened the door. In strolled the cat—gaunt, shaggy and insulted.

QUEEN MARIE MARKS 60TH BIRTHDAY WITH CANTER ON GIFT HORSE

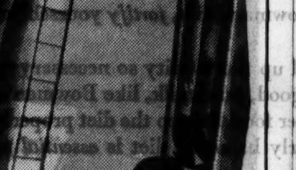

SINAIA, Rumania, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Marie of Rumania—"the queen who was"—began the celebration of her 60th birthday today by riding through new-fallen snow on a thoroughbred horse, a birthday present from V. P. Sassu, minister of agriculture.

All members of the tempestuous royal family, save one daughter, the widowed Queen Marie of Jugo-Slavia, gathered at the summer palace for the birthday party. Gifts included a necklace presented by Premier George Tatarescu and other jewelry. There were hundreds of telegrams of felicitation from all over the world, including many from American friends.

The grand dinner was arranged by King Carol and the guests included the entire corps of government officials. The Prince and Princess Friedrich of the house of Hohenzollern and the princess of Hohenlohe were among the distinguished foreign guests. The queen's children present were Princess Ileana of Hapsburg, Prince Nicolas and King Carol.

STATE ENJOINED FROM ENFORCING WATER BILL TAX

Circuit Judge Walter J. La Buy issued a temporary injunction yesterday restraining Knowlton L. Ames Jr., state director of finance, and John Stelle, state treasurer, from enforcing the 3 per cent sales tax on city water bills. The order also enjoins the state officials from utilizing $54,146, collected on the tax during July, August, and September, and which was turned over by the city under protest. Barnet Hodes, city corporation counsel, and Assistant Attorney General William C. Clausen agreed on the temporary injunction order to keep the situation in status quo until the courts can determine the legality of the act. The measure, which taxes city water bills with other utilities, became effective last July 1.

NRA PAYROLLERS, WORKLESS, KEPT BUSY BY MOVING

Units Are Shifted Every Two Weeks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—In the five months since the Supreme court plucked the blue eagle and took the wheel of industry and the crackdown thunderbolts from its talons twelve units of NRA burocrats have been wandering around Washing in search of the New Deal promised land of easy money and no work.

From out of the burocratic bullrushes came a new Moses, Maj. George L. Berry, successor to Donald R. Richberg, in turn successor to Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, who was to lead them out of the wilderness into administration of codes voluntarily entered into by private business.

Appeals to Industry.

Maj. Berry sent out his appeal to industry. He drew no response. Meanwhile, the 3,791 employed in the unit on the date of the court decision had nothing to do with almost 16,000 regimenting codes merely scraps of paper. About 1,200 were transferred to other New Deal pay rolls, but about 2,500 remain to do nothing.

Maj. Berry set about to find something for his charges to do until industry responds to his plea. Fertile minds of brain trusters went to work and furrowed brows produced the suggestion that units be moved about. The brain trusters confessed there was not much to their plan, but it would at least keep the employes busy.

They Keep Busy Moving.

Now every two weeks units are shifted about, sometimes from floor to floor and other times from building to building, but always on the jump. The plan gives the units about five days to gather papers—now of almost no value—two days to move and another five days to get settled in new quarters. Occasionally the units get a week in which to wonder where they will go next, but usually they get orders to fold their tents and steal away as soon as they are settled.

In the Albee building the NRA holds a lease on the third and fourth floors. Since the Supreme court decision units have been moved in and out at regular intervals of two weeks. Inquiry revealed the same situation holds true in other NRA offices. The moving bills come out of taxpayers' pockets.

PRESIDENT COUPLES PLEA FOR PEACE TO ARMISTICE DAY CALL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Stressing again the hope that America will remain at peace with all nations, a sentiment expressed by him on several occasions in the last few weeks, President Roosevelt today issued a proclamation calling upon the American people to observe Armistice day, Nov. 11.

"It is particularly fitting," the President announced, "on this anniversary of the armistice that we should express our determination to remain in peace with all nations and our conviction that permanent peace can and must be attained throughout the world."

The proclamation directed that the American flag be displayed on all government buildings Nov. 11 and invited the people to observe the day with appropriate ceremonies in schools, churches, or other suitable places.

President Roosevelt will make the main address at the Armistice day exercises to be held at Arlington National cemetery. In addition he will personally place a wreath on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

SENATOR HOLT TO SEEK REPEAL OF POTATO ACT

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—(AP)—A prediction that the new potato control act would lead to potato bootlegging came today from Senator Holt [Dem., W. Va.].

Announcing he would seek repeal of the law at the next session, Holt termed the potato control law "the most unpopular piece of legislation in the last session of congress."

"I have yet to find a single, solitary farmer in favor of it," he said.

LAWYER IS FINED $1 AND COSTS ON PARKING CHARGE

Attorney John E. Owens, 2418 Greenleaf avenue, was fined $1 and costs by Municipal Judge John Gutknecht in the Trafic court on Monday, it was learned yesterday. The lawyer, who has offices at 160 North La Salle street, was given a trafic violation ticket by Policeman C. J. Shea for parking his automobile in front of 321 South Wabash avenue, which is in the zone where parking is prohibited during daylight hours.

When Owens appeared before Judge Gutknecht he insisted he had not seen any "no parking" sign in the block where he left his car. Policeman Shea informed the court there are three such signs prominently placed in that block. Judge Gutknecht, in levying the fine, reminded the lawyer that the no parking ordinance restricting the area between Harrison street and the river during daylight hours has been in effect since 1926.

John Owens recently was involved in another matter which took him into court as a result of a trafic dispute. On June 29, with his brother, Thomas L. Owens, also a lawyer, he was arrested and charged with assault and battery.

ITALIANS MARCH ON IN DESERT; SEE ETHIOPIAN TRAP

Warriors Await Chance for Surprise Attack.

BY HAROLD DENNY.

[Special Correspondent of the New York Times and the Chicago Tribune.]

[Copyright: 1935: By the New York Times.]

HARRAR, Ethiopia, Oct. 29.—Military advices received here from the southern desert front admit that the Italian army advancing up the Webbe Shibeli river has been taking village after village, but it is explained that this advance fits in with the Ethiopian plans. The defense forces have simply been retiring to the hills, permitting the Italians to get deeply into terrain that will be favorable for the defense.

It is pointed out that the Italian troops in the Fafan region to the northeast of the Shibeli operations have been threatening to take Gorahai for weeks, but remain at a standstill.

Italian Plane Shot Down.

Ras Nasibu, who has charge of part of the southern defense, is putting strong forces in the regions between the Italian columns, with the idea of attacking if an opportunity arises. He is also preparing to put up a strong fight at Gabrederre, about thirty miles north of Gorahai, and at Daggah Bur, 120 miles further up the Fafan valley and about 100 miles south of Jigjiga. Both have been well fortified.

An Italian plane was reported today to have been shot down at Daggah Bur by an Ethiopian machine gunner. The Italian pilot and two observers were killed.

Ethiopian losses from plane raids are reported to be slight. Thus far only five wounded have been brought to the base hospital at Jigjiga.

Push Forward on Two Fronts.

ROME, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Tanks and airplanes thrust the spearhead of the Italian advance still deeper into Ethiopia, Italian correspondents reported tonight.

Dispatches from Mogadishu, Italian Somaliland, said a group of tanks, supported by aerial bombers, carried out "an effective action" against fortified positions in the Ethiopian town of Scillave.

Previously, an official communique here reported a sharp advance on the northern front and a victory in the south.

The correspondents also reported that on the northern front the Italians have been machine-gunning the opposite bank of the Setit river, where heavy concentrations of Ethiopian warriors are gathering.

These tribesmen did not attempt to cross, although they were much stronger than when they made their last effort on Oct. 27 and were "repulsed with heavy losses," the reports said.

Claim 25 Mile Advance.

Patrols of Gen. Emilio de Bono's northern army went 25 miles farther into the interior and are now half-way between Adigrat and Makale, it was announced in a communique issued here. Makale is the next Italian objective on the northern front.

The communique, issued on the 27th day of the African fighting, said:

"Oct. 28, a detachment of the first army corps executed a reconnaissance upon Hauzien, the capital of the Haramat region.

"Various prominent inhabitants of the district, which has not yet been garrisoned by our troops, presented themselves to the high command at Adowa to make acts of submission.

"The patrol executed a reconnaissance from Aksum toward the Takaze river without encountering noteworthy resistance.

"On the Somaliland front, patrols of Dubats [native Somaliland soldiers] put to flight groups of armed Ethiopians between Scillave and Gorahai.

"Numerous submissions of chiefs also continue on this front. There have been 732 rifles captured.

"The air forces executed reconnaissance flights on both fronts."

Italians Bomb Town.

WITH THE ITALIAN FORCES IN ETHIOPIA, Oct. 29.—[Exchange Telegraph.]—Italian war planes flew over Magalo, 225 miles southeast of Addis Ababa, today and found the town strongly fortified with a large concentration of Ethiopian troops.

The planes were greeted with artillery fire. A number of bombs were dropped, the Italians reporting that at least two Ethiopian anti-aircraft guns were silenced and many fires started.

The Ethiopians were described as having fled in panic at the approach of the planes, which returned safely to their base.

King's Tent Off to Dessye.

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Emperor Haile Selassie's imperial red tent was moved to Dessye today, along with that of his double, Haile Likamokwas, whose presence on the battlefield is intended to attract attention away from the emperor.

The tents of both king of kings and his double are small, obscure and well camouflaged, but inside the real emperor's shelter is a lining of rich silk brocade.

Both Haile Selassie and Haile Likamokwas will also carry red silk umbrellas with gold fringe. The Coptic Christian church supplied the emperor's umbrella, in accordance with tradition, and a high official provided the tent, getting exemption from taxation on his land in return.

Belgian Officer Dead.

An airplane today brought the body of Lieut. Roger Cambier, Belgian officer, from Sidamo where he died of pneumonia—the first European to die in Ethiopia during the war. Diplomats, government officials and members of the Belgian military commission to which he was attached attended the funeral here.

After representing Emperor Haile Selassie for three years as minister to France and delegate to the league of nations Gen. Tecle Hawariate returned to the capital today.

Hawariate, former minister of finance and reputed to be one of the ablest military men of his nation, is expected to go to Dessye with the emperor. Authoritative sources said they believed he might be made chief of the general staf.

Joseph and Benjamin Martin, sons of the Ethiopian minister to London, also arrived here today to fight for their country.

Italian Envoy at Djibouti.

ITALIAN ARMY HALF WAY TO GOAL

The Italian government yesterday announced advances by its armies in both northern and southern Ethiopia. The Fascist forces in the north were said to be half way from Adigrat to Makale, their objective.

EMPEROR IS ANGRY; MEAT FOR HIS LIONS GIVEN TO CIVET CATS

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Emperor Haile Selassie took his royal lion keepers to task tonight for appropriating large quantities of raw meat intended for the 55 imperial beasts.

The keepers pleaded they had not stolen the meat for themselves, but to give to the emperor's civet cats, which also are caged in the royal grounds.

This explanation failed to satisfy Selassie, however, and he ordered that the lions, which represent the national emblem of Ethiopia, be given the fullest ration of beef daily under pain of dismissal of the keepers.

15,000 JAM OFFICE TO PAY $1,525,000 TAXES IN ONE DAY

Fifteen thousand taxpayers thronged the county treasurer's office yesterday to pay their 1934 tax bills before the penalty deadline Friday night. They left Cook county $1,525,000 richer last night, with $204,260 collected on personalty and $1,320,790 on general property. Mail payments were not computed.

To accommodate the lines of taxpayers at the county building, densely packed clear out onto Clark street, County Treasurer Gill opened five additional cashiers' cages in the tax warant division of his office on the second floor at 30 North La Salle street. Taxpayers who are not entitled to a 15 per cent credit refund may pay their bills there.

The treasurer commented that small tax payments currently exceed the volume that came in during the corresponding period before the 1933 penalty date. Comparison of the payments for the two periods, he said, is not feasible until after the penalty date because the larger taxpayers withhold their payments until the last day.

During the day the treasurer distributed $2,000,000 in current tax collections to the major taxing bodies. The city and board of education received the largest share, $1,500,000.

Former Chicago G-Man Faces Income Tax Suit

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Lucien Wheeler, district attorney's investigator and formerly a federal investigator in Chicago, has been made defendant in a United States income tax lien seeking $2,672 additional tax payments on his 1934 income. The suit was filed in federal district court here.

Park Board Approves Lease of 180 Acres for New Fair

The Chicago park board yesterday authorized Robert J. Dunham, president, and J. Frank Lyman, secretary, to execute a 25 year lease turning over 180 acres of Burnham park to the Chicago Exposition authority for the permanent lake front fair.

BOYCOTT WALL IS BUILT HIGHER AROUND ITALIANS

29 Nations Agree to Buy Nothing from Fascists.

GENEVA, Oct. 29.—(AP)—The league of nations' general boycott of Italy continued to grow tonight by slow but steady stages, as 29 countries had agreed to buy nothing from Italy.

A complementary weapon to the economic boycott—namely, a pledge to prohibit exportation to Italy of key products essential for manufacture of armaments—also had been accepted by 29 countries.

By a relentless, grinding process of isolation, the league hoped Premier Mussolini's capacity to wage war in Ethiopia would eventually be reduced, and he would be forced to sue for peace.

39 Bar Arms to Italy.

Application of an arms embargo against Italy and removal of any arms embargo against Ethiopia had been approved by 39 countries and 32 nations pledged their readiness to apply financial sanctions against Italy, giving Mussolini no credit whatsoever. Twelve countries had accepted the project of mutual assistance to nations which suffer most because of the boycott against Italy.

League of nations officials said they expected many more adhesions to the league plan within the next few days. The league committee of 52 will meet Thursday to discuss when the sanctions will be formally made effective. The general opinion is that they will be operative at least by Nov. 15.

The Boycott Nations.

The approval of the economic boycott by Czechoslovakia, Uruguay, Iraq, Turkey, and Afghanistan this afternoon brought the number of nations accepting it to 29. The others are Australia, Belgium, Great Britain, Bulgaria, Denmark, Estonia, France, Greece, Guatemala, India, Latvia, Liberia, Lithuania, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Poland, Rumania, Sweden, Switzerland, Russia, the Union of South Africa, and Jugo-Slavia.

Poland's acceptance of all sanctions against Italy contained a reservation concerning the economic boycott—that a steampship being constructed by Italy for service between Poland and New York be completed, as it is of special importance to Poland.

Rumor on Peace Talks.

League officials expect Sir Samuel Hoare, British foreign secretary, to attend the meeting of the committee of 52, and this has given rise to rumors that peace negotiations may be attempted at Geneva. Officials, however, emphasized there was no real foundation for the rumors.

A tendency was noted in league quarters to take a series of quick decisions before the end of the week, including one to establish a permanent mechanism for execution of sanctions.

It was expected all unnecessary discussions and controveries would be avoided, so that the meeting of 52 nations may be held with the same lightninglike rapidity that marked the last session, which approved sanctions with the greatest rapidity.

Officials forecast that new sanctions against Italy will not be proposed at the session.

1,300 WORKERS GO ON STRIKE IN EGYPT FOR 'BIG WAR SALARIES'

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Visions of "big war money" which failed to materialize led to a strike today of 1,300 cottonseed workers, who demanded wages such as they enjoyed in the affluent days of the world war.

The walkout developed at the height of a rush by exporters to meet orders for the immediate shipment of cotton to Italy in advance of the end of the month, when league of nations sanctions go into effect.

American motor car distributors were reported to have received instructions from their home offices in the United States to cease shipping trucks and other vehicles to Italian East Africa, but were allowed to sell to Italians locally for cash.

400 MEMBERS OF BRITISH FAMILIES EVACUATE MALTA

VALETTA, Malta, Oct. 29.—(AP)—The British steamer Neuralia left today for England with 400 English women and children, wives and families of British naval officers and British civilians.

When the evacuation of women and children was proposed on Oct. 14, authorities asked those planning to leave to make a statement of indebtedness.

Today's departing groups were granted free passage on the ship and trains and promised free return passage after three months if the situation is cleared up.

NOBLEWOMEN OF ROME 'BOYCOTT' LADY DRUMMOND

[Copyright: 1935: By the New York Times.]

ROME, Oct. 29.—The Italian feeling against Great Britain, whom they blame for the drastic economic sanctions being put into effect now by the league of nations, manifested itself in a number of different ways today.

Sir Eric Drummond, the British ambassador, and Lady Drummond have been virtually ostracized by Roman society. Some women of the aristocracy refused a few days ago to sit at a bridge table with Lady Drummond.

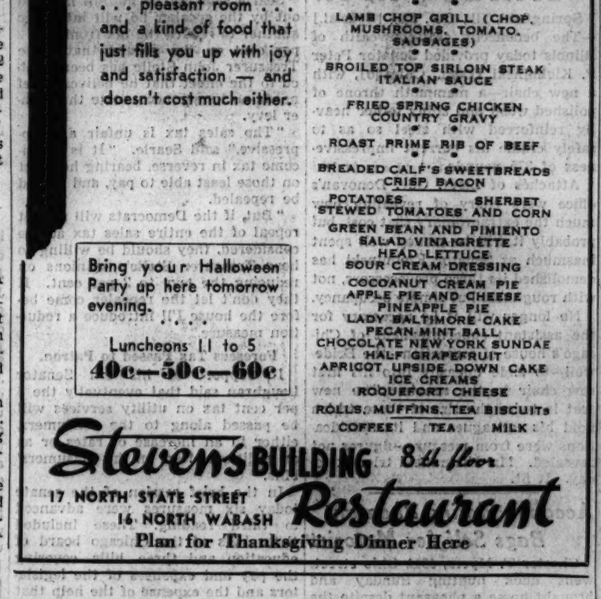

Shopkeepers report that the public will not buy British goods and would not take them as a gift. This is a spontaneous reaction, because there has been no propaganda for a boycott of British goods.

FOREIGNERS LIVING IN ETHIOPIA TO GET IDENTIFICATION CARDS

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Foreign military attachés at a meeting today decided every foreigner shall be given an identity card entitling him to enter his country's legation for protection in event of air raids or invasion. Bulletins posted in cafés and other public places urged the foreign born persons to present themselves to the military attachés as soon as possible.

THREE STEPS TO RELIEVING CONSTIPATION

You can find no safer advice than this, to find the solution to your bowel worries.

Just do what hospitals do, and the doctors insist on. Use a liquid laxative, and you can bring yourself to clocklike regularity without strain or ill effect.

You can use a liquid laxative at home. And if you knew what a doctor knows, you would use only the liquid form. A liquid can always be taken in gradually reduced doses. Reduced dosage is the real secret of relief from constipation.

Ask a doctor about this. Ask your druggist how very popular liquid laxatives have become. They give the right kind of help, and right amount of help. Taking a little less each time, gives the bowels a chance to act of their own accord, until they are moving regularly and thoroughly without any help at all.

Once you have experienced this comfort, you will never go back to any form of help that can't be regulated to suit the need!

The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara — both natural laxatives that form no habit, even in children. The action is gentle, but sure. It will relieve any sluggishness or bilious condition due to constipation. It is the very nicest tasting, nicest acting preparation you can buy. So, try Syrup Pepsin, taking regulated doses till Nature restores regularity.

FRANCE, BRITAIN TO HAND IL DUCE NEW PEACE PLAN

Seek to 'Legalize' Italian Grab in Ethiopia.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Oct. 29.—As a prelude to decisive negotiations concerning the Italian-Ethiopian war which will start Friday at Geneva, the French and British governments, it was semi-officially revealed today, have reached a double agreement. The first part provides for the presentation of a joint peace proposal to Italy and the second part for coördination of action to bring pressure on Premier Mussolini in case he rejects the peace terms.

Political and juridical experts of the French and British foreign offices have been working here for several days on the peace terms. It is believed they have agreed upon a tentative formula which would legalize the Italian occupation and control of the outlying provinces of the Ethiopian empire—chiefly Ogaden—with the exception of Harrar, which, it has been decided, must be left to Emperor Haile Selassie. This formula is believed to be based upon the system of territorial concession in China.

Hunt for Trick Solution.

The greatest difficulty is the status of Tigre province, which the French and British are agreed must be put under effective Italian domination somehow—otherwise Mussolini would never consider the offer at all—but yet not seem to legalize the Italian military conquest of the province.

The second part of the agreement covers the policy of the two countries with regard to the application of sanctions. This, it is understood, covers the following points:

FIRST—The British abandon all idea of a naval blockade of Italy without the coöperation of the United States, Germany, and Japan.

France to Aid Britain.

SECOND—The French accept the British military precautions, including the naval concentration in the Mediterranean, as long as the present tension exists and, in accordance with the latest French note, agree to come to the aid of the British fleet if the latter is attacked by Italy, providing, of course, the British have taken no new steps without previous French agreement.

THIRD—There will be no postponement of the application of the economic sanctions already decided on at Geneva. Without awaiting the result of new peace negotiations, the date on which the sanctions will be effective will be set Thursday at Geneva—Nov. 10 is considered as probable.

TURKEY OFFERS TO AID BRITAIN IN WAR WITH ITALY

[Copyright: 1935: By the New York Times.]

ATHENS, Greece, Oct. 29.—Turkey has informed Great Britain that it is willing to grant armed support in event of a Mediterranean conflict with Italy. As the price of such aid, Turkey stipulated that several Dodecanese Islands lying within sight of the fortified Turkish shore be surrendered to it and the remainder removed from Italian control.

The Turkish offer was made in a verbal note delivered to the British foreign office the first week of this month. It was not solicited by the British government and made a specific offer of military and naval support and the use of Turkish harbors, but it was understood that the closing of the Dardanelles was not discussed.

Celebrates 98th Birthday Today

Mrs. Maria E. Reagan, 7612 Marquette avenue, who will celebrate her 98th birthday today. She was a civil war nurse, later becoming a telegrapher and sending out the news of assassination of Abraham Lincoln.
[TRIBUNE Photo.]

TELLS HOW SHE FLASHED LINCOLN DEATH DISPATCH

Chicago Woman, 98 Today, Recalls War.

BY MARCIA WINN.

"President Lincoln has been assassinated!"

The clicking telegraph instruments along the line of the Reading railroad flashed that message on the morning of April 15, 1865. The sender was a white faced young woman who had run a long distance to the depot office at Mahanoy, Pa., to transmit it. Yesterday in Chicago, on the eve of her 98th birthday, she told about it as the most thrilling moment of her life.

"I was one of the several women telegraph operators during the civil war," recalled Mrs. Maria Ellis Kepner Reagan, 7618 Marquette avenue. "I was at home on that morning when an office boy called me at about 7 o'clock to tell me President Lincoln had been assassinated. He had read the message as it was ticked off by the wire from Washington, but was not allowed to touch the sending instrument at our relay station. I ran all the way to the office to send out the message, then I sent the boy to tell every one in town."

They Doubted Her.

But then, even as now, she commented sadly, there were many who would not take the word of a mere woman, "so they went all the way to Philadelphia to find out for themselves that I was right," she said. "The year before, when I was receiving returns of the voting that reelected Lincoln, four armed men guarded the telegraph office from those who were trying to delay news of the outcome.

"But all the different excitements came so fast it was hard to tell them apart. I remember when Lincoln sent out his call for 75,000 volunteers, and all the men gathered at my father's house. I still have that card Lincoln sent, packed away with my marriage certificate. I remember that my brother, who was in bed with typhoid fever, got up and rode away with the Pennsylvania Lancers," she added.

Experiences as a Nurse.

Earlier, as a volunteer nurse with the Army of the Potomac, she scraped lint, made bandages from bed linen and crocheted woolen socks from the fringe on her mother's great red and white crocheted afghan. She still has the afghan, completely stripped of its fringe.

"Many of the girls wrote their name on slips of paper which they placed inside the socks and had romances," she recalled, with a fleeting smile. "I myself sent a ring to a friend of mine, and he wrote me that wearing it over his heart was the only thing that had kept the bullets from striking him."

Mrs. Reagan's voice, at 98, is still clear and resonant. Her memory is as excellent as her eyes, which are a bright blue. She uses a cane when she walks but only, she explains with dignity, "because of an injury when I was 65."

Mrs. Reagan is the widow of a civil war veteran, as well as being a veteran herself, and came to Chicago in 1885 after his death. She has three children, Mrs. Charles W. Baum, Frank P. and Alberta Reagan, seven grandchildren, and twelve great-grandchildren.

Winnipeg Boxer Hanged as Protesters March

LONDON, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Raymond Henry Bousquet, Winnipeg boxer known as Del Fontaine, was hanged today for the murder of Hilda Meeks, while opponents of capital punishment demonstrated outside Wandsworth prison. Twenty men employed by Mrs. Van Der Elst walked up and down the street with placards denouncing the death penalty, and a sound truck played hymns. Mrs. Van der Elst is the leader in a movement which frequently makes such demonstrations.

ACCUSE BONFILS OF 'SELLING OUT' IN FIGHT ON GAS

Claim $350,000 Changed Policy of Paper.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—The late F. G. Bonfils, celebrated as the founder, owner and editor of the Denver Post, was accused in a sworn report, made public today by the federal trade commission, of dropping the campaign eight years ago against natural gas in Colorado after $350,000 had been set aside by the Colorado Interstate Gas company, apparently as a fund for Bonfils.

The charge, according to reports here from Denver, was met with the immediate denial from an attorney representing Helen G. Bonfils, daughter of the late publisher. The federal trade commission revealed the accusation in a report by Lewis G. Pritchard, a commission examiner. His statement said that the $350,000 was spent "to obtain a favorable, instead of a previously unfavorable attitude" by the Post "with regard to the natural gas rate ordinance" in Denver.

Report Payment in 1927.

The payment was made, according to the report, by the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, in October, 1927, to J. B. Luse, who then was treasurer of the Colorado Interstate Gas company and employed by the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

The commission record contained a photostat copy of the check given to Luse by the Standard Oil company.

Two affidavits by officials who formerly worked with Bonfils were also in the record. These affidavits tended to refute the accusations made in Pritchard's report. Also in the Pritchard report was an item for $50,000 "legal services" and for "influence with Mayor Stapleton of Denver in the matter of the rate ordinance."

Post Publishes Denial.

Denver, Colo., Oct. 29.—(AP)—The Denver Post today published a statement calling a federal trade commission examiner's report that $350,000 was paid in 1927 to influence the editorial policy of the newspaper "palpably insufficient and inherently improbable and utterly devoid of factual or circumstantial value."

The statement was by Philip Hornbein, attorney for Helen G. Bonfils, daughter of the late F. G. Bonfils, publisher of the Post.

Addressed to Walker.

Hornbein's statement was addressed to Francis Walker, chief economist for the trade commission.

"Apparently the report charging that the deceased, F. G. Bonfils, was paid $350,000 as 'additional incentive for the publishers to favor the natural gas franchise' is based entirely upon a statement purported to have been made by one F. H. Lerch Jr., vice president and treasurer of the Colorado Interstate Gas company," the statement said.

"Mr. Lerch did not claim that he had any transaction with Mr. Bonfils, but that one J. B. Luse, also deceased, conducted the transaction through a special messenger. If F. H. Lerch Jr. claimed that he himself had the alleged transaction with Bonfils, deceased, it would be exceedingly questionable to say the least whether your honorable commission would be justified in deducing the conclusion which you apparently do.

"Undoubtedly the honorable commission is familiar with the well settled legal principle that where death silences the voice of one party to a transaction the law closes the mouth of the other.

"This principle rests upon no technical consideration but is grounded upon natural justice, for a dead man cannot speak in his own behalf.

"It is respectfully submitted that to use the statements of one dead man to blacken the memory of another dead man transcends the bounds of common decency. Dead men cannot accuse each other, nor can they defend themselves against each other's accusations."

SPANISH CABINET REVAMPED; TWO MINISTERS FIRED

MADRID, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Premier Joaquin Chapaprieta, whose cabinet dissolved around him today as the result of a gambling scandal, went right back into office a few hours later with a reshuffled ministry.

Former Premier Alejandro Lerroux, who had served Chapaprieta for a month as foreign minister, and Juan José Rocha, the minister of education, both of whom were drawn into the scandal, were absent from the new list. Two radical party members replaced them on the list, but otherwise the cabinet personnel was unchanged.

Luis Bardaji went in as minister of education, and Luis Usabiaga was made minister of agriculture, industry, and commerce. The latter succeeded in that post José Martinez de Valesco, who was made foreign minister, replacing Lerroux. There were no other changes.

2 Flyers Land in Britain Ending 22,000 Mile Trip

LONDON, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Harold Farquhar, British diplomat, flyer, and Fritz Beller, German aviator, landed at Heston airdrome at 4:20 p. m. today [10:20 a. m. Chicago time] from Paris to terminate a 22,000 mile flight which began in Mexico City last August. The flight proceeded from Mexico City Aug. 18 to New York, across Canada, Alaska, Siberia, China, India, and eastern and northern Africa. The flyers declared their trip was merely a "vacation." Farquhar is secretary of the British legation in Mexico.

FIRST OF GERMAN CONSCRIPT ARMY START FOR CAMP

400,000 Men Drawn from Class of 1914.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Oct. 29.—With flowers in their coat lapels, and with mothers and sweethearts clinging to their arms, the first conscripts of Reichsfuehrer Hitler's reborn German army started for garrisons today. They are to be on duty early the morning of Nov. 1.

These were men born in 1914, the first year of the world war. This imposed a special obligation on them, they were told by the officer who addressed them in the Berlin railroad station.

The recruits, presented to their officers the orders, received after previous examinations, assigning them to the infantry, artillery, anti-aircraft or whatever branch the recruiting officers had decided they were best fitted for.

Already Well Drilled.

The first military order to the recruits was the German equivalent of "attention" — stillgestanden— which echoed through the halls of the stations.

Since many of the men are former members of Hitler Youth, the Labor Service, Storm Troops, and the Schutz Staffel [Hitler's picked guards], they presented an almost military appearance.

Lieut. Col. Saenger warned the men:

"The school awaiting you is not easy and it will tax your physical and mental strength. You must tackle it with a fair mind and a big dose of good will. Those of you who served in the Labor force or the Storm Troops will realize that they represent an excellent preparation for the service."

Will Number 400,000.

Most of the Berlin recruits who started today were sent to garrisons in northern Germany. The transport of troops will continue for three days until close to 400,000 men of the class of 1914 have reached the garrisons.

Despite renovations and enlarging of barracks there is still a shortage of space. Many former members of the reichswehr [regular army] who serve as noncommissioned officers in the new army are being given private quarters to make it possible to house all the newcomers in barracks.

Los Angeles, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Blonde Mae Marsh, one of the silent screen's best known actresses, was "steadily sinking" tonight at Santa Monica hospital, where she was taken last week when her appendix burst and infection developed.

Gordon Westcott, polo playing actor hurt in a game last Sunday, was said to have made a slight gain but his condition still was critical.

Adolphe Menjou had rallied from a stomach ailment that caused concern to his physicians.

Doctors at the National Military Home hospital, Sawtelle, said Buster Keaton, comedian, was making steady, if slow progress from a nervous breakdown.

PLAN 20 WORLD TRAVEL TALKS DURING WINTER

Lectures Each Week at Fair Store.

BY FREDERIC BABCOCK.

Invitations are being issued this week for the first two of a series of twenty travel lectures to be given at the Fair store in Chicago. The opening program will be devoted to "Soviet Russia As It Is Today," with Albert K. Dawson as the lecturer, and it will be presented at 11:30 a. m. Friday. The second of the series will be on "The Mediterranean Pageant;" Howard B. MacDonald, a fellow of the Royal Geographic society, will talk, and the time will be 11:30 a. m. Friday, Nov. 8.

In making the announcement yesterday Fred W. Darby, director of the World Travel institute, said the series would last all winter and that each of the weekly talks would be accompanied by motion pictures and colored slides. Among the subjects scheduled are a world cruise, Ecuador, Peru, Chile, Havana, the Panama canal, Egypt, the West Indies, Bermuda, Italy, Australia, Czechoslovakia, Mexico, France, Japan, the British Isles, Norway, Denmark, Germany, Guatemala, and Sweden. Speakers so far engaged include Ross Skinner, Cameron Rogers, David Lindsay, Lewis A. Till, Eugene C. van Wyk, and James N. Findlay. A number of steamship and travel agencies are cooperating in the arrangements.

Holds Travel Interest.

"Travelers returning from the soviet union bring many opinions regarding the experiment being conducted there," said Mr. Darby. "But no matter how divergent and controversial these opinions may be, on one point all are agreed: the U. S. S. R. contains within its 30,000 mile frontier an infinite variety of scenic beauty, strange and stirring contrasts, and a motley assortment of peoples. Accordingly, travel to Russia, until recently limited to those interested primarily in its new system, has now spread, and is still spreading, to those intent upon seeing new worlds, new scenes, and new peoples solely for the pleasure and knowledge to be derived from such experiences."

The institute director said a trip to the U. S. S. R. produces a picture as varied as the world itself.

"Russia's shores touch the seven seas," he said. "Its mountains are the mightiest in Europe, and its face is diversified by boundless forests, great rivers, rolling steppes, farms, lakes, and deserts. There are walled cities older than written history, and new cities rising swiftly from virgin soil. Yesterday, today, and tomorrow mingle there, and the 160,000,000 people, with their 183 nationalities, picturesque customs and different languages and dialects, lend international color to the canvas."

Keeps Record of Travel.

Mr. Dawson spent last summer in the soviet republic, and his lecture is a pictorial record of his journey. He depicts the daily life of the citizens, how the churches are being used, the system of marriages and divorces, the mechanized farms, the day nurseries, and the former palaces now being used as rest homes.

Interest in Russian travel has increased to such an extent in recent years that the American Express company has sent over a group of its branch office officials, including Charles J. White, manager of the Chicago district, to find out what it's all about. The party is now on an eight weeks' inspection trip through the soviet country and its neighbors.

For the second lecture of the series Mr. MacDonald plans to take his audience on a movie tour of the Mediterranean and the countries bordering on it. He will trace the pageant of civilization from prehistoric times to modern fascism. Among his ports of call are Cannes, Messina, Venice, Athens, and Istanbul, and among the places to be visited are the Barbary coast, Egypt, Malta, Rhodes, the Dalmatian coast, and Syria.

"At any period in the history of travel," said Mr. Darby, "the Mediterranean has held its place among the leaders. This year, more than any other recent time, each day's events are making front page news, and the political and international questions involved are widening the interest of the traveling public. No visitor to those lands has failed to be impressed with their grandeur, their scope, and their beauty. It would seem that nearly everybody wants to go over there this winter. Mr. MacDonald's lecture is designed to give the travelers a preview of what they'll see when they get there."

TRAVEL QUERIES ANSWERED

What's your travel problem? Address queries regarding where to go, how to get there, costs, and accommodations to the Travelers' Guide, Chicago Tribune, inclosing stamped, self-addressed envelope.

When are next year's Olympic games in Germany scheduled to begin? W. A.
Aug. 1.

What facilities are there in Canada for handling whatever big game we might kill there this fall? E. G. M.
Nearly every railway station in the game territory is equipped to help in the proper dispatch of trophies and to provide adequate documents for the customs officers.

Will there be a Grace line ship leaving for South America the latter part of January? L. J.
Yes. The Santa Barbara is due to sail Jan. 25.

What can you tell me about the next international exhibition in Paris? C. N.
It will be held in 1937 in the Champs de Mars, the park extending from the Ecole Militaire to the Quai d'Orsay and the Seine. The foundation stone of the Museum of Modern Art was laid by President Lebrun last summer and the museum will form part of the exhibition and remain as a permanent structure.

When is the Empress of Britain due to leave on its next world cruise? Jan. 9, 1936.

How did the Virgin Islands get their name? E. V. W.
History records that the islands puzzled Columbus when he sighted them on his second voyage. Amazed by their beauty and number, he could not think of enough saints in whose honor to name them. So he took a short cut and called them the Virgin Islands, a tribute to St. Ursula and her 11,000 virgins.

What is the best time to visit Hawaii? B. K.
The Hawaiian climate is delightful the year round, but middle westerners usually prefer to go there in the winter, when there is a more decided contrast with the weather encountered here.

HAPSBURGS SEEK TO LEARN PLANS OF STARHEMBERG

VIENNA, Oct. 29.—(AP)—The "Starhemberg for King" movement came to grips tonight with the Austrian drive for restoration of the Hapsburgs. Supporters of the vigorous and powerful Vice Chancellor Prince Ernst Rudiger von Starhemberg, conferred with representative legitimists who are seeking to make the Archduke Otto the head of a restored Hapsburg monarchy.

A legitimist leader said an effort was made to obtain a clear statement as to the aims of Starhemberg's supporters, and the answer was a quotation from the prince's speech of last February, at which time he asserted he favored a monarchy.

However, Starhemberg in his speech did not indicate who he thought should be king, and has entered into no public discussion of the matter since. His supporters' first aim is to make him regent, and it was indicated his accession to the throne is a distant objective.

NEW PHILIPPINES ARMY TO ASSIGN CHILDREN DRILLS

MANILA, P. I., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Filipino children will play a part in defending the newly won independence of their islands under plans of President-elect Manuel Quezon. The new commonwealth government will be inaugurated Nov. 15.

Legislators said a plan to drill school children beginning at the age of 10 was part of a program Quezon will lay before the new national assembly.

Quezon was said today to be preparing to propose a standing military force of 19,000 men in addition to universal training.

CLERGYMEN PRAY FOR HITLER AND HOHENZOLLERNS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Oct. 29.—Prayers for Reichsfuehrer Hitler and the Hohenzollern family were offered by Protestant pastors today when they unveiled a monument to John Calvin [French Protestant reformer at Geneva, who lived from 1509 to 1564] beside the church of the French Protestants who fled from France at the time of the persecution of Protestants in the 16th and 17th centuries.

The old church has been redecorated and it was reopened in the presence of numerous descendants of the Hugenots and members of the French colony.

To show the gratitude of the Protestants to the Hohenzollerns, who gave them refuge, their name was included in all the prayers to which that of Hitler has been added since he became fuehrer. The ceremony ended with the call: "Heil Hitler."

NAZIS STOP LEGAL ACTION AGAINST REBEL PASTORS

BERLIN, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Legal action against Protestant pastors in Prussia was ordered stopped tonight by an Evangelical church committee recently created by Hans Kerrl, minister for church affairs.

The decree was presumed to mean the two-year attempts of the government church administration against the opposition pastors for not bending to the Nazi will is to be ended. Is was announced as being in line with Kerrl's desire to bring about church peace.

At the same time the Catholic church settled its differences with the Nazis over the question of whether papal or Nazi flags should be flown on churches. The paper flag will fly on religious holidays and the swastika flag on Nazi holidays, but the two will never be displayed together.

As orders for raising the swastika have become increasingly frequent, the ruling may result, it was believed, in the Nazi flag appearing more often on churches than the papal banner.

Father Devine, Harlem's 'God,' Loses Damage Suit

Bel Air, Md., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Judgment of $7,500 damages was awarded today to two plaintifs injured in an accident involving their automobile and a bus owned by Father Devine, the evangelist New York's Harlem Negoes call "God." The plaintifs were I. W. Bayless, Aberdeen canner, and his wife, aged 75 and 64. They sued for $10,000 each.

FRANCE TO LET RUM BASE ISLES ELECT COUNCIL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ST. JOHN'S, Newfoundland, Oct. 29.—Instructions from Paris received today by Inspector of Colonies Herat, now at St. Pierre, decree election of twelve local men to govern the islands of St. Pierre and Great and Little Miquelon, France's possessions off the coast of Newfoundland. The orders provide that the chairman chosen from among the twelve elected men shall be the governor.

The islands, which were the bases of rum running operations during the United States' prohibition era, have a population of about 5,000. The loss of liquor and bootlegging revenue since the United States repealed prohibition has dried up the islands' income.

The new proposals embody financial assistance from France, drastic reduction in the budget and the scraping of high salaried positions.

'GIFT OF GOD' BABY WILL GO TO COURT TODAY

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 29.—(AP)—The "gift of God" baby, claimed both by Mrs. Nellie Tipton Muench, member of a prominent St. Louis family, and by Anna Ware, an unwed Pennsylvania girl, will be brought into the Circuit Court of Appeals tomorrow where the battle over its parentage is being waged.

The state Supreme court today denied an application for a writ of prohibition, asked by Mrs. Muench, which would have prevented Miss Ware from getting a glimpse of the baby she asserts is her own.

Mrs. Muench, sister of a state Supreme court judge and wife of a physician, today asked Commissioner Rush H. Limbaugh to provide police protection for herself and the infant when they come to court tomorrow. The commissioner assured her the protection would be given.

Mrs. Muench said the baby was a "gift from God in my time of despair," born while she awaited trial on a charge of complicity in the kidnaping of Dr. Isaac D. Kelley, St. Louis specialist.

Mrs. Muench's request for a writ of prohibition was made after the Court of Appeals here ordered her to produce the 10 week old infant for identification purposes. The baby now is in the possession of Mrs. Muench.

Reveal William Bost's Marriage at Waukegan

William Dale Bost, president of the Orange Crush company and the Bost Toothpaste company, and Miss Marguerite Parsons, daughter of Mrs. Eugene Parsons, 525 Brompton avenue, were married secretly at Waukegan Monday, it became known yesterday. Bost gave his age as 45 on the marriage license and the bride as 23. Mr. Bost and his bride are living in the Lake Shore Drive hotel, 181 Lake Shore drive. Mr. Bost was divorced on April 30 by Mrs. Bernice Challenger Bost, publisher of Inland Topics.

JAPAN LAYS DOWN 3 POINT PROGRAM TO GUIDE CHINA

Declares Nanking Has Not Kept Pledges.

BY JOHN POWELL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Oct. 29.—The imperial Japanese army today delivered a so-called "warning" to north China authorities as the opening gun of a fresh campaign to compel the Nanking government to agree to a three point program. It is:

FIRST—A complete, positive elimination of all anti-Japanese activities throughout China with the realization of Sino-Japanese economic coöperation.

SECOND — The coöperation of China, Japan, and Manchukuo in the development of projects throughout north China, including China's recognition of Manchukuo.

THIRD—A political and military alliance among China, Japan, and Manchukuo designed to prevent a spread of communism in north China and Mongolia, but with the underlying purpose of enabling Japan to consolidate its position in north China in preparation for war against the soviet union.

The note also demanded settlement of the "Lanchow incident," in which Japanese alleged terrorists killed an official of the north China demilitarized zone and wounded another Japanese.

Charges Agreement Broken.

The ultimatum alleged China has not observed the agreement signed last June following Japan's drive in the Peiping-Tientsin district.

The terms of this agreement have heretofore been secret. It is now disclosed China was bound to abolish all branches of the Kuomintang [People's party] in the northern provinces; to eradicate all anti-Japanese and anti-Manchukuan organizations, to abolish the Peiping political council, to dismiss Gen. Yu Hsueh-chung, then chairman of Hopei province and a number of other minor officials including Chang Tin-gao, mayor of Tientsin and to transfer all soldiers belonging to Marshal Chang Hsueh-liang, former Manchurian war lord, from north China.

The Japanese army charges that secret anti-Japanese intrigue is continuing, that the situation in north China and Inner Mongolia is growing worse and that terroristic acts against the Japanese have been carried out under a "well devised plan."

Japan Fears for Orient.

Maj. Gen. Hayao Tada, commander of the Japanese garrison in north China, in a supplementary statement declared:

"Japanese authorities cannot overlook China's attempt to check Japan through the sovietization of the northern provinces and Mongolia. Japan fears for the future of the orient if matters are allowed to drift, hence Japan, having in mind the welfare of China's four hundred millions, warns the Nanking government that it must observe strictly its obligations."

The Japanese ultimatum is thought to be responsible for Dictator Chiang Kai-shek's early return to Nanking this afternoon from his native village of Fenghwa, in Chekiang province, where he has been resting. The Peiping military council also is holding an emergency session. Nanking recently has been heavily fortified, with many new troops marching in.

Sees Trade Mastery.

Japanese newspapers in Shanghai today quoted Chuji Machida, Japanese minister of commerce and industry, as saying:

"If the China-Japan-Manchukuo economic bloc is consolidated and, in addition, if Japan is able to consolidate its economic position in the Pacific islands, Japan's industries will be able to develop without importing any raw materials from the west and the Japanese nation will be able to carry out a powerful trade policy forcing every other country to abandon its irrational commercial policies."

Local Japanese newspapers today charged that Nanking recently has become "too friendly" with soviet Russia. Further allegation was made that Gen. Chiang Kai-shek has made a secret deal with the Chinese Reds, abandoning the anti-Red warfare.

Japanese soldiers will begin sham battles along the Peiping-Tientsin railway soon, it was announced today at Tientsin.

BRANDY REVIVES 25 GEESE SAVED AT NIAGARA FALLS

Niagara Falls, Ont., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Brandy fed with a medicine dropper revived 25 out of 27 wild geese which lived after being carried over Niagara falls while the flock of between 5,000 and 10,000 rested in dangerous waters above the cataract Sunday and yesterday.

Canadian Royal Northwest mounted police fished the geese from the rapids below the falls and hurried them to a farm near Queenstown where there is a bird sanctuary. There R. W. Sheppard, district inspector for the Canadian department of agriculture, fed them the brandy.

The birds all were more dead than alive when they were taken from the river.

INDIANA WOMAN SENT TO PRISON FOR MAIL FRAUD

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Mrs. Lutie Fredenburg, 30, Marion, Ind., late today was sentenced by Federal Judge Thomas W. Slick to spend two years at the federal woman's prison at Alderson, W. Va., for using the United States mails to defraud. Mrs. Fredenburg pleaded guilty to the charge. The government charged that the red haired siren had taken from $800 to $1,000 from each of one hundred men with whom she corresponded through a matrimonial correspondence society. Using a fictitious estate of $3,000 as lure the woman had obtained "loans" from her correspondents.

SCANDAL CHARGE PERILS AMERICAN UTILITY IN CHILE

Electric Firm Accused in $10,000,000 Case.

BY NORMAN A. INGREY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SANTIAGO, Chile, Oct. 29.—The "electric scandal" developed national dimensions today and threatened political complications in high places. Twenty-three prominent members of the American, British and Chilean communities, company directors and brokers, were arraigned in Chilean courts on charges involving alleged illegal exchange transactions totaling approximately $10,000,000.

The government alleges that officials of the electric power combine known as the Chilean Electric company, which is controled by the Electric Bond and Share company in New York, remitted dollars by means of the local black [illegal] bourse without the authority of the Chilean exchange control commission. This action, it is charged, had the effect of devaluing the domestic currency and of indirectly reducing wages.

Directors Admitted to Bail.

Directors of the company, admitted to a nominal bail of $75 each after spending one night in jail included Archer Jones, American general manager of the company, and Frederick Krieghoff, a naturalized American.

The position of British directors involved in the case has been the subject of conversations between the Chilean authorities and the British chargé d'affaires, Cavendish Bentinck, it is understood. The United States chargé d'affaires, Winthrop R. Scott, declared he so far has received no request for diplomatic intervention in favor of the American interests or persons concerned.

It is recognized that a $50,000,000 American public utility investment is in jeopardy because the law demands a fine of double the amount of the illegal transaction. The British indirect financial interest is limited to a balance of approximately $4,000,000 owed the Whitehall Electric securities concern of London by the Electric Bond and Share company.

Andrew W. McLimont, president of the company, who was in New York when the charges were brought forward and who allegedly directed the exchange operations, cabled his resignation after the local directorate passed a resolution that the exchange purchases had been made without their knowledge.

Has Power Monopoly.

The Chilean Electric company has a monopoly of the generation and supply of electricity in the leading cities and towns and operates the street car services in Santiago and Valparaiso.

The discovery of the alleged illegal currency operations was made when the company's accounts were investigated at the request of the Chilean minority stockholders who were disgruntled by the suspension of interest payments.

The company takes the stand that all its obligations are in dollars and that it is impossible for it to continue accumulating scores of millions of pesos. It was stated on behalf of the company that the exchange control authorities, unable to supply official exchange, recommended that the company resort to the black market.

The case has resulted in widespread political demands for nationalization of the electric industry. A mass protest meeting is planned for tomorrow.

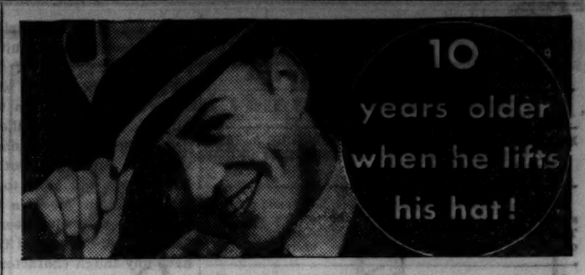

BRITONS BUY ELECTION INSURANCE AGAINST DAMAGE BY ROWDIES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Elections in Great Britain mean money even for the insurance companies. The candidates are taking no chances with hecklers and rowdies. With the campaign scarcely opened they are taking out policies against damage from free for all fights.

The policies cover accidental, malicious or riot damage to the election premises, the death or disablement of election car drivers and voluntary workers and damage to cars.

The highest premium is payable on the election premises. It is rated at ⅝ of 1 per cent, while campaign autos, always the target of opposition rowdies, pay a double rate—3-16 of 1 per cent—on the polling day. Apparently there is little fear of really serious disturbances for the rates on election personnel vary from 3-80 of 1 per cent to 1-40 of 1 per cent in the event of death or disablement.

THE JOKER IN THE UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE SCHEME.

Under the unemployment compensation scheme which the Roosevelt administration has asked the Illinois legislature to pass not a dollar can be disbursed for relief until 1938. The proposal is thus not one to relieve unemployment here and now, when the Illinois Emergency Relief commission doesn't know from one month to the next where its money is coming from, but rather by collecting a tax, the proceeds of which cannot be used for several years, and through which our capacity to provide money for the unemployed will be impaired. That is especially true because the money collected from the proposed state unemployment compensation tax is to be deposited in the federal treasury.

What is back of this remarkable provision requiring state money to be deposited in the federal treasury was testified to before the house ways and means committee by Alvin Hansen, the government economist, who was chairman of the subcommittee which devised the unemployment benefit system. There was no pretense on Mr. Hansen's part that there was a stronger lock on the safe at Washington than on the one at Springfield. Washington frankly wanted the money. The government desires the funds so that the treasury can use them, Mr. Hansen testified, together with other money, to manipulate the markets and credit. With the vast sums in the treasury it could put up markets by buying securities or put them down by selling. Said Mr. Hansen in concluding his exposition of the point:

"It seems necessary to leave the utmost flexibility to the judgment of the currency authorities who have control of the credit system, so that the particular manner of handling funds could instantly be used in the way which seemed most desirable at the moment. There are other ways in which the funds might be utilized, some of which might have even a more stringent effect upon credit than the one which I have described, but I think I have stated the two general methods [of investing unemployment insurance funds] which perhaps would seem the most serviceable, which on the one side could be used to check an undue expansion, if necessary, or, on the other hand, to stimulate the market if that seemed appropriate at the moment."

Another explanation of the provision current at Washington and in New York is that the treasury wants the money to thaw out the banks, overloaded with bonds which cannot be sold.

If there is to be an unemployment insurance scheme in Illinois the funds should stay in the state, earning as large a return as is consistent with safety, rather than in Washington to be used in playing the markets or invested in bonds bankers want to be rid of. The control of credit is one of the functions which government likes to undertake but which it does badly. If politicians were more level-headed and foreseeing than private persons and institutions, and acted always in the public interest, that might be true. But, representing the majority, government officials are likely to launch out further in time of boom than the whole mass of business men which contains a number who can act and do act in prudent disregard of prevailing sentiment. In 1927 the government began to manipulate credit in the public interest, but the manipulations were so unsuccessful that they produced the boom which couldn't be controled. Washington now believes that with more money to play with a better job of manipulating can be done. And for this purpose money is to be collected in the states under the guise of providing insurance for the unemployed. The Illinois legislature has no authority to instruct the secretary of the treasury not to play the markets. But it has the power to refuse to supply Illinois money to finance him in his market operations.

DEAD MAN'S GULCH, N. Y.

The many friends of Dutch Schultz, nee Flegenheimer, will regret to learn that he checked out in the Newark City hospital. Mr. Schultz's friends were legion. Somebody shot him. Mr. Schultz was in New Jersey for his health.

Mr. James Farley of here and Washington has been in South Carolina on business.

The popular Otto Berman was shot four times in Newark and died in the City hospital. Somebody shot him. He was with Mr. Schultz. Somebody shot Mr. Schultz.

Former Mayor James J. Walker is on his way home. Jimmie says he has been homesick all the time he has been away. His many friends will be glad to see him.

Leo Frank, popular with a host of friends, died in the Newark City hospital. Somebody shot him He was with Mr. Schultz when somebody shot Mr. Schultz.

Pretty Amberg, who was missing from his favorite haunts, has been found. Nobody shot Mr. Amberg. Some one killed him with a hatchet. He will be missed. Friends recall that somebody shot Mr. Amberg's brother a short time back. Here today and gone tomorrow. Last month it was Abraham Meer, a friend of Mr. Schultz. Somebody shot Mr. Meer.

His Honor Mayor La Guardia says he will not have any tough characters hanging around town.

Somebody shot Marty Krompier and Sammy Gold the other evening.

Some early bird shot Joe Pegno and Hugo Garaldo on their way to breakfast. Public opinion is against this. There's a police campaign against unreasonable noises—mayor's orders.

It's been rather quiet here. Marty Jones was fined $10 for playing a saxophone at 10 p. m.

A NEW DEAL IN POLITICS.

There is one mark of our political thinking at the present time the Republican party will ignore or underestimate at heavy cost. It expresses itself in impatience with time worn methods of political contest and with those would-be political leaders who cling to them. It expresses itself in a demand for better standards and better men to assert them.

This is not observed merely among the younger generation's reactions in its first contact with politics, though it is powerful among them. It is widespread and emphatic among their elders, who are not seeking jobs or other benefits from political activity but only the common interest in better government. It was decisive in the election of Franklin Roosevelt and fortunately it has survived the disappointment and disillusionment of his régime. The New Deal, for which millions of Republicans deserted their party allegiance, has perpetuated and aggravated on a staggering scale the worst features of old deal politics, but to the credit of the spirit and intelligence of the rank and file of Republican voters this experience has not weakened their demand for better politics and better men in politics than the old deal, whether under the fraud of the self-styled New Deal or in the reviving ambitions of Republican bosses, represents.

What is demanded is a real new deal in politics, not the sacrifice of American principles of government, of sound economics, and of the essentials of justice and integrity among men, but the adoption of higher standards of public service and the appearance in our political life of men who will faithfully uphold them. This is the new deal the American people are still seeking and it should be the determined purpose of the Republican party to establish it. The American people have been defrauded of their hopes in 1932, but they are going forward to its fulfilment sooner or later. In their path are the false new deal and too many vestiges of the old politics in its opponents. The Republican party must get rid of both. Reviving Republicanism must open the way to the men of a new political régime, who share and respond to the people's aspiration for better politics and better government, men not fossilized in the old patterns of political method, young men without entanglements in the old give and take, and older men who have demonstrated their devotion to public service, their courageous loyalty to principle and force of character in public life.

Such men are available to the nation. A man in our state like Otis Glenn is typical. The senatorial office which he has filled with honor to himself and benefit to Illinois and the nation has attractions of social prestige as well as political prominence to which he exhibited in his term an indifference as rare as it was gratifying to self-respecting Americans. His gift of eloquence and his personality never tempted him to display. His service was as modest as it was able and devoted to principle and to honest and competent government. His place is in the senate, as fitting representative of a great commonwealth, as representative of the standards of public character to which the people not only of Illinois but of the nation look for better government, for a restoration of political integrity and sound principles of public action, for an escape from the deep demoralization and destruction of the false new deal.

Editorial of the Day

AN ABSURD SITUATION.

[Boston Post.]

The hog raisers of Middlesex county who were paid $365,000 last year for cutting hog production have voted unanimously to accept the government bounty in 1936.

Naturally they would.

Many of them have received small fortunes in the past two years besides profiting immensely by the great rise in hog prices. The public is paying high taxes to make these men comparatively rich farmers.

These Massachusetts hog farmers get the cream from this hog control scheme. The hogs they raise are comparatively small hogs. They get as much money for not raising an 80 pound hog as western hog farmers get for a 250 or 300 pound hog.

Western farmers raise corn fed hogs. The higher the price of corn the more it costs them to raise a hog. But our local hogs are garbage fed hogs. Few of them see any corn. The stuff fed to them costs the hog farmer no more than the cost of transportation.

Yet, the garbage fed hog farmer gets as much for his hogs in the market as the corn fed hog farmer.

This year the price of hogs soared to three times the price the hog farmer received in 1934. So did the bounties he received, for he got three times as much for every hog not raised in 1935 as he did in 1934.

We are facing the greatest hog scarcity in 50 years. As all housewives know, the price of pork products is rising tremendously. It will be impossible for hog raisers here to supply the demand the coming year and the supply must be augmented by importations from abroad.

The bureau of agricultural economics in Washington declares that pork products are likely to advance very much higher this winter.

In view of all this the idea of continuing to force production cuts for 1936 and paying out huge sums to hog farmers, who will probably make twice as much money next year as this year, seems fantastic.

When one hog farmer here, who is an alien, can get a $20,000 bonus in 1934, a $9,000 bonus in 1935, and a probable $9,000 bonus in 1936 for a farm that is not worth $7,000—and in addition make the biggest profits in all his farming history—the ordinary farmer here who gets no bonuses and sometimes is forced to sell produce at a loss must be lost in amazement at such windfalls for hog farmers.

And the housewife is paying for all this. Could there be a more absurd situation than housewives paying heavy processing taxes in order to increase the costs of the food they buy? Even when costs rise so high that consumers are protesting forcibly the order goes forth from Washington to jack them up a good deal higher.

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U.S. Pat. Office

THE SKELETON IN THE CAR.

The Skeleton at the Feast that used to be a feature of grand dinners in the castles of medieval days will have to be revived. If you think it over it was a grand idea, making the greedy guests at the great dinners remember that if they overate or drank too much they would soon be as dead as the grim skeleton sitting at the foot of the table. We talk and talk and talk and every day the gruesome list of traffic accidents continues. It's not merely the deaths; it's the terrible wounding by glass; it's the fractured skulls and broken bones and cracked spines that are sometimes as awful as death itself. Well, here's my idea:

Make every auto driver have a nicely wired skeleton sitting in the front seat with him whenever he goes out in his car. The presence of that skeleton ought to have a more or less deterrent effect on almost any driver. It ought to make him watch the road and stop where the signs say "STOP" and be careful when he is passing the car ahead to be sure the road is clear. The driver may have taken three or four highballs before he started out and be not especially keen on stopping for red lights, but one glance at the skeleton sitting stiff and stern by his side ought to make him a little less careless about cutting through a red light.

And when he feels like giving the old car a shot in the arm and stepping on the gas and speeding up to eighty or ninety miles an hour the presence of the skeleton at his side ought to have a gentle restraining influence. A skeleton in the front seat is much more of a necessity than a skeleton at the feast. Jovial gluttons didn't meet death by coming in contact with trees or telephone poles. Gluttony finally brings on death, but it's a nice, easy way of dying at that. It doesn't mean being hurled through the windshield and being sliced into ribbons. No, everybody has preached and begged and harangued and done about everything possible, and to what end? The death and terrible wounding keep mounting higher and higher. A perfectly good skeleton, well wired, can be bought for forty or fifty dollars or skeletons can be made of papier-maché for just a few dollars that will serve the purpose fully as well. Oh, by all means let us have a skeleton in the car. Anyhow, we've tried everything else.

[Extract from police record after the Skeleton in the Car law became effective: "John Speedy has been arrested in his automobile by Officer Pinchem, who charged said John Speedy with disorderly conduct, to wit: beating and maltreating the skeleton that he is required by law to keep on the front seat when he is driving. The sergeant says: 'Mr. Speedy, the law demands you keep that skeleton alongside of you to remind you that if you don't drive carefully you, too, shall die. And the officer says he saw you driving at seventy miles an hour, but paying no attention to the car and vigorously engaged in beating the skeleton. What have you to say for yourself?' 'Serghent,' said Mr. Speedy, 'I had to bust thash skelishton right in the snoot. The dam skelishton wouldn't join in wish me in shinging "Schweer Addeline." So I shocked him in the snoot, and I'd do it again.'"]

What's the use!

LETTER FROM A LOUNGING CHAIR.

Now is the time for all good men and spouses
To pile the hearth-logs high, bring out the board
Set up the carven chessmen, fill their houses
With fruity cheer from Summer's bursting hoard
Now is the time to pop the cracking corn
And heap the ruddy apples in the bowl,
And, with a hearty strophe newly born,
Lie among cushions and invite one's soul,
And think of Autumn and one's poem on it,
And try in vain to stretch it to a sonnet.

It was not strange to see a young knight kneel—
Hears gods of fortune softly importuned—
Of all who watched, none saw the flash of steel,
The king's best surgeons failed to find the wound
It might have been a mortal blow, well struck—
The sword called "cold ambition" cuts with force—
Yet here am I unbandaged by some luck,
Unbooted, without kingdom, spurs or horse.

Perhaps I can recall which path to take
When time and sun have somewhat cleared the pain,
To best regain the tower by the lake
Where breaking laughter tinseled even pain,
And he who seeks new combat, knave or lord,
Must first show the device upon his sword.

OZENA OR ATROPHIC RHINITIS.

To a very large extent we compel the nasal mucous membrane to supply moisture to the air that we breathe. If we happen to be filling the lungs with dry air the mucous membranes of the air passages will endeavor to add water before the air reaches the delicate lung tissue.

Inasmuch as dry air will take up moisture from every available source the nasal mucous membrane suffers and, because of drying, tiny breaks often appear in the external cell layers. Through these gateways infection may gain entrance, find lodgment and grow. The resulting inflammation is sometimes called rhinitis or catarrh—the term indicating a chronic pus discharge from the nose.

A type of nasal infection that is extremely obnoxious and difficult to remedy is known as ozena or atrophic rhinitis. This condition is accompanied by destruction and hardening of the nasal mucous membranes and of the underlying bone. The disease is characterized by an extremely foul smelling discharge which tends to dry into crusts. These in turn sometimes prevent the passage of air. The infection usually begins during early childhood or youth and may continue for many years. Unfortunately for the comfort of the patient's friends, the disease deadens and finally destroys the sense of smell, hence the victim is unaware of the nauseating odor that may be detected by others when in his vicinity.

On examination the mucous membranes will show marked atrophy with a deposit of a considerable amount of scar tissue. The extremely offensive odor is probably due to the presence of bacteria that decompose protein, resulting in the production of certain fetid digestive products.

The condition has been recognized for centuries, but little progress has been made in removing the underlying disease—this in spite of the most scrupulous attention to remedial measures such as frequent washings of the nasal passages vaccines, etc.

Within recent years, however, in the experience of Hubert and Robinson, the employment of radium has afforded relief in a fairly high percentage of cases. Their work has been repeated by other investigators who have reported success with a number of patients. The most recent study is that of R. P. Wright, who details the experience of 21 patients subjected to radium. He found that two treatments on the average would relieve the condition. In only 2 cases was a third or fourth application necessary. The follow-up treatment consisted in washing out the nasal passages once or twice daily with Seiler's solution. Wright attributes the success of the plan to the destructive effect of radium upon the bacteria and other organisms flourishing in the nose which could not be removed or destroyed by the application of antiseptics of any sort.

Ozena is far more common than is generally supposed. Even though radium treatment is not advised in every case of chronic rhinitis, all possible efforts should be made to the end that noxious odors arising from the nasal passages shall be reduced to the minimum. While cure cannot be anticipated through the use of nasal irrigations, nevertheless, they will remove decomposing material and reduce putrefaction. The solutions employed may be normal salt [one teaspoonful to a pint of water], sodium bicarbonate, or one that contains a small amount of sodium hypochlorite. This latter substance is deodorizing. Care must be taken to use a dilute solution so that irritation of the nasal passages will not result.

PINWORMS.

J. R. C. writes: My 6 year old boy is troubled with pinworms. A friend told me to give him several large doses of calomel tablets. I am afraid to do so as I have read that calomel scalds the rectum and loosens the teeth. Would it be safe to give it to him?

REPLY.

Calomel will not relieve the condition you describe. Pinworms lay their eggs on the skin of the buttocks near the anus. From this area they may adhere to the fingers and be carried later to the mouth. Keep the parts scrupulously clean, washing thoroughly after each bowel movement with soap and water. If reinfection is avoided the worms will disappear in a few weeks. There are some useful worm medicines which your physician can prescribe.

TUMOR.

L. L. writes: My aunt, 51 years old, has a fifteen pound fibroid tumor. She does not want to be operated on but I think she should be. Please advise.

REPLY.

A fifteen pound tumor is a sizable load to carry around. Furthermore, fibroids of the uterus may degenerate, and they sometimes cause obstruction and other difficulties. Removal in competent hands is probably the wisest procedure, but you should lay the whole problem before your medical adviser and secure his counsel.

JUDGMENT NOTES.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A few years ago I signed judgment notes to the extent of $900 for building material. The depression came along and I could not meet my obligations. The firm holding the notes threatened foreclosure, but never went through with it. I applied for a home loan, but the loan was denied. Now that there is no hope for a home loan I received a letter from said firm threatening to garnishee my wages with the firm I am working for. 1. Can they do that? 2. I work on commission basis and barely get along. 3. The firm I work for is located in another state several hundred miles away and has no local office. 4. What procedure must they take in order to start garnishment proceedings, and if they can do that what am I allowed to live on? I have to pay travel expenses and have a wife and four children.

C. A.

1. After taking judgment against you they could garnishee your wages subject to $20 per week allowed to the head of a family.
2. On these facts it seems probable that you are not in a position to exert an exemption.
3. Rights to proceed against the employer there would depend on the law in that state.

CLOSING ESTATE.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—My brother died last October, leaving a small estate in cash. He had made no will. How soon after the estate has been in probate a year can I get my share in the estate? I have been told it takes three months after the year is up.

B. S.

There is no definite additional period. Creditors are allowed a year in which to file their claims. The promptness of subsequent action would depend largely on how much time the parties have to give to it.

"EXECUTORS, ADMINISTRATORS, OR ASSIGNS."

Chicago, Oct. 26.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Would you kindly define the meaning of the terms [a] executors, [b] administrators, or [c] assigns? 2. Is there any difference between making a life insurance policy payable to "the estate of the insured" as against "to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the insured"? 3. When making a beneficiary on a life insurance policy "executors, administrators, or assigns," is it not possible that there might be a conflict between "executors" or "assigns"? 4. Would it not be advisable to make a policy payable to "the estate of the insured" as against "to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the insured"?

L. E.

1. A means the personal representative named in a will. B means the personal representative named by the court in absence of a will. C means the person to whom the right has been transferred, usually by gift or sale.
2. We see no important difference.
3. If the policy has been validly assigned during the lifetime of the insured, then there would be nothing in the estate to go to the executor or administrator. We see no basis for conflict.

FROM ACROSS THE SEA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO.—Perhaps the best proof that Japan has definitly changed from an agricultural to an industrial nation is the continued prosperity of the larger cities despite the dire suffering in many of the farming districts brought on by a series of typhoons just before the fall harvest. In many sections more than a third of the crops were ruined by the typhoons and the floods which came in their wake.

The farmers, as a result, have been severely hit and in some localities famine will be unavoidable this winter.

But in the larger cities, particularly in Tokio and Osaka, there is little evidence of hard times. The reason is that the industries are booming as they never have. Foreign trade returns indicate that 1935 will set a new all time record and may, in fact, show a favorable baiance, something that has not been experienced since 1918. The bulk of Japanese exports at present is in industrial products and not raw silk as was the case some years ago.

Figures for the first eight months of this year show an increase of $65,000,000 in exports and $60,000,000 in imports, mostly of manufactured goods in exports and raw materials in imports, over the same period last year. This tendency continued through September and during the last ten days of the month there was an excess of exports over imports of $15,000,000.

Up to the end of September, however, the total foreign trade showed an adverse balance of $16,000,000, which, however, was a decrease of $23,000,000 over the corresponding period of last year. Moreover, as Japan's export season begins about July and continues on through the fall it is not at all unlikely that Japan will balance her foreign trade this year for the first time in 17 years.

One of the reasons for the drop in imports has been the abnormal decline in imports of raw cotton from the United States. This is ascribed to the American government's delay in deciding on the amount of cotton loans and the hesitation of the cotton pool in selling, as well as to the curtailment of spinning operations in Japan as a result of the decline in exports of cotton textiles to America.

This decline is mainly attributed to efforts of the Japanese government voluntarily to control exports to the United States in accordance with suggestions made to it by responsible American government officials and industrialists. These persons hinted that unless Japan checked her exports the United States might be compelled to erect tarif barriers despite the fact that Japan purchases from America the bulk of the raw cotton it uses to manufacture cotton textiles it exports to the United States.

Consequently the government some months ago enforced what is known as its "export control policy" on cotton shipments to the United States. By this the Japanese Cotton Cloth Exporters association agreed to fix its prices not more than 1 cent per yard below the market price in the United States.

No sooner was this policy put into practice than Japanese textile exports slumped. During the first half of the year Japan exported an average of 4,051,000 yards of bleached cotton cloth a month, but in July the figure dropped to 1,030,000 yards. In August conditions grew much worse and only 210,000 yards were exported. September set an all-time low for the year with only 200,000 yards.

At this stage the cotton cloth manufacturers and exporters, who understood that they would be able to export about 5,000,000 yards a month if they listened to officials of the foreign office and the department of commerce and industry, became furious.

They desired to know what the government planned to do about the matter. The government was extremely sympathetic. The best it could do, however, was to summon the advisers of the trade bureau of the department of commerce and industry who had recommended that Japan curtail its exports voluntarily.

Long discussions were carried on but nothing has yet been done.

ANOTHER REFERENDUM COMING.

Rockford, Ill., Oct. 27.—With the AAA corn-hog vote showing such "wonderful approval" of the administration experiments and existing inequities, we may now expect a call for a vote of the pension eligibles on the federal old age pension plan, a vote of those still on relief for or against continuing the dole, and of tavern keepers for or against control of liquor sales. All that is wanted from the consumer and taxpayer is to pay the cost. Somebody has overlooked the fact that we, the great middle class, carrying the greatest share of the tax burden, get a chance to vote and express an opinion a year hence, if we can continue to buck the trend and survive until that great day.

C. L. CLARK.

BEFOGGED.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 27.—The mailed fist of a dictator is slowly being clamped on every acre of farm land in this country. The farmers' dole clouds their vision and they seem to like it, so they may expect more and not less of it, for government control will tighten until the farmer will have little if anything to say in regard to the operation of his farm.

He will doubtless soon be told the number of hands he must employ, the wages he must pay, that his labor must be unionized, and provision must be made for their keep during their old age. To corn, cotton, wheat, potatoes, and hog control, crop rotation, soil erosion, chicken, garden, fruit, and milk control will soon be added. He will be told when to build, repair, and paint outbuildings, fences, etc., probably receiving his orders each day from the government boss in his district. This is the planned economy that Roosevelt is feeding them and which they like so well. They will wake up when he has them hog tied and then it will be too late.

He smiles his sarcastic grin and calls them "my friends," and they believe everything he says, for they fail to see the Moscow plan as it slowly unfolds, waiting for the opportune time to seize their farms, to divide up their land and reduce them to a mere tool in a great socialistic empire.

Their eyes are befogged by the farmers' dole. May God help them.

CROSSING THE DRIVE.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—With a great hurrah the Oak street subway was opened. For some time now it has been barricaded, no doubt to save the cost of upkeep. It is probably cheaper to maim some person endeavoring to cross the street to get to the broad esplanade for a walk north along the edge of the lake. One must indeed hazard his life to cross the drive at this point.

In all of the park plans the rights of the pedestrian are everlastingly ignored. The drive extends north to Foster. We have a subway at Randolph street, which is used the year round. This Oak street one is now blockaded. There is a foot passage beneath the drive at Argyle. In the five miles of boulevard from Oak street north there is only one safe passage by which one can reach the lake, this being at Argyle.

An inexpensive way out would be to erect overhead bridges at Oak street, North avenue, and some other points in Lincoln park, which would cross above the trafic and be accessible at all times. This could, no doubt, have been done for the price of this one closed subway at Oak street. It may be argued that these overhead bridges would be unsightly, but not nearly as unsightly as would be a body mutilated while endeavoring to cross this street to the water front, in the path of advancing automobiles.

If the park board wishes to help the greatest number of citizens who do not own automobiles and for one reason or another are pedestrians, they should certainly promptly organize some system whereby women and children are enabled to get across the dangerous drive.

SEVERAL THINGS EXPLAINED.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—Congratulations on your fine editorial, "Several Things Explained," in last Monday's TRIBUNE. Many of us have noticed with regret that "You can get several hundred well dressed and seemingly intelligent people to hear about the crisis in Albania," and that most of the same people seem utterly indifferent to the critical problems facing their own city and state.

We are not decrying a genuine interest in international affairs. But we deeply regret that the only interest evidenced by many people who could help most in solving our own problems is a desire for a dilettante knowledge of conditions in Ethigerbania.

The machinery through which people can act is ready. There are a number of fine civic organizations through which conditions nearest to us could be improved, instead of bewailing situations beyond our control.

DEMAND COUNTY PROVE NEED FOR MORE EMPLOYES

Pleas for 180 Extra Jobs Arouse Opposition.

Chief Justice Walter J. LaBuy of the Circuit court said yesterday that he opposes granting the heads of seven county fee offices the 180 more employés they have requested in the 1936 county budget unless they can prove that the new jobs are essential.

Judge LaBuy, a former member of the county board, is one of a committee of three judges appointed to determine how many jobs are necessary in the fee offices for next year. Under the law the Circuit judges fix the number of employés.

Points to County Finances.

"Public service must be maintained," said Judge LaBuy. "Some of the requests for more employés appear to have merit but revenues and the taxpayers must also be considered. The present financial condition of the county does not justify pay roll boosting.

"Specific evidence, rather than statements of a general nature, must be shown to convince me that any new jobs are essential."

Judge LaBuy asked Clayton F. Smith, president of the county board, and Maurice F. Kavanagh, chairman of the board's finance committee, to meet with him today to outline the attitude of the county commissioners on the job increase requests.

Caldwell Recalls Resolutions.

"Last spring," said County Commissioner H. Wallace Caldwell, "the county board unanimously adopted two resolutions I introduced—one to study personnel and the other to take steps to transfer the authority to fix jobs in fee offices from the judges to the county board. Apparently both resolutions have been forgotten. I have yet to see reports of subcommittees appointed to study personnel needs."

John O. Rees, director of the citizens' committee on public expenditures, said: "The more jobs they get, the sooner they will run out of money. This is not a time to extend functions and activities and increase personnel."

County budgets show the number of jobs in the twelve fee offices climbed from 1,580 in 1926 to 2,411 in 1935.

POLICE AND FIRE STATION NEEDS IN CITY SURVEYED

Ald. J. M. Arvey [24th], chairman of the finance committee of the city council, yesterday named a special group of five aldermen to investigate Chicago's need for new fire and police stations. Ald. Arvey acted after the committee failed to accept sites for five police stations and eleven police stations selected by the police and fire departments.

The stations are to be built at a cost of $793,336, of which the Federal Works Progress administration is to supply $357,000. Police supervising captains and fire department battalion chiefs selected the sites for the stations after an extensive survey, but aldermen whose wards were neglected objected to the selections.

Ald. Arvey announced that the finance staf had found $140,000 of salvage funds which, matched with federal money, would build three to five stations in addition to those now recommended. Ald. William A. Rowan [10th] will head the subcommittee with these members: George W. Robinson [36th], Bryan Hartnett [12th], Harry L. Sain [27th], and Walter J. Orlikoski [35th].

Oscar Hewitt, commissioner of public works, brought the recommendations of the fire and police departments before the committee and urged their immediate adoption so that work on the projects may start soon.

BAR COMMITTEE FINISHES STUDY OF NEW POLICIES

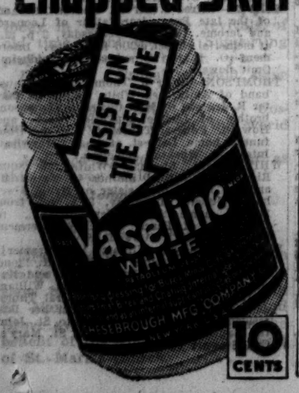

Preliminary plans for more representative operation of the policies of the American Bar association were made at a four day meeting of the organization's special committee at 1140 North Dearborn street, which closed yesterday.

The plan provides for the election by members of representatives in a house of delegates, who would control the national association and determine its policies, President William L. Ransom explained.

The question is to be submitted within two weeks for the suggestions of state and local bar associations and will be submitted to the member associations for final approval next year.

Attorney Herbert A. Friedlich of Chicago has been reappointed chairman of the American Bar association's special committee on amendments to the federal securities act, it was announced yesterday.

LIBERTY LEAGUE LAWYERS CITED FOR BAR INQUIRY

New Dealers Blamed for Charges.

the Wagner labor relations law. Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes led the attack by accusing the committee of "impertinence" because its "report" passed on a law before the Supreme court had ruled. He scoffed at Jouett Shouse, Liberty league head, and "his 58 varieties of associate justices."

James M. Beck answered these charges in a radio address in which he pointed out that lawyers take an oath to uphold the constitution and that attempts to prevent them from expressing their opinions on constitutional issues could be construed only as infringement of free speech.

'ABSURD,' SAY CHICAGOANS

Four Chicago attorneys, members of the lawyers' committee of the American Liberty league, who have been cited by the American Bar association for possible discipline for terming the New Deal's Wagner labor relations law unconstitutional, united last night in a blistering condemnation of the association's "absurd" action. Their remarks indicated their belief that the association's citation was inspired by the New Dealers.

The four lawyers are Harold Beacom, Ralph M. Shaw, Charles H. Hamill, and William T. Alden, all prominent in the business and professional life of the city. Attorneys William Beye and Rush C. Butler, who are also members of the league's law committee of 58 and who were included in the citation, could not be reached for comment last night.

Charge Invasion of Liberty.

Mr. Beacom was a member of the subcommittee of eight league lawyers who drafted the report which condemned the Wagner bill.

Other members of this subcommittee were Judge D. J. Kenefick of Buffalo, Harrison B. McGraw of Cleveland; Burney E. Newlin of Los Angeles, former president of the American Bar association; Earl F. Reed of Pittsburgh [chairman], Harold F. Gallagher of New York, Hal H. Smith of Detroit, and E. Randolph Williams of Richmond, Va.

"Any one who knows who the other members of the committee are knows I am in damn good company in this accusation," declared Mr. Beacom. "I have a definite suspicion of the origin of this action. I never thought that the day would come when a lawyer would be precluded from expressing an opinion of the laws passed by congress or the legislatures of the several states.

"The opinion I expressed was the only one that could be expressed. I said I believed the law was unconstitutional and I make no apology.

"The bar association's method of announcing this action seems premature and highly irregular. The procedure in such cases provides that the accused lawyers be supplied with a copy of the complaint. I have received none."

Continuing his statement, Mr. Beacom gave an indication of how he places responsibility for the complaint.

Sees New Deal Attack.

"This is not the first attack by the Democratic administration on this opinion," he said. "Former Solicitor General James M. Beck ably expressed it when he recently stated that the administration had attempted to nullify the effects of the opinion by declaring the lawyers who signed it were merely attorneys for industries and utilities. Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes referred to the committee as the '57 varieties of associate justices.'"

Mr. Shaw was equally outspoken when he declared: "Not being able apparently to control the freedom of the press, the administration is now attempting to control the freedom of the bar by regimentation. To say that a lawyer cannot express his opinion on whether a law is or is not constitutional, when the President of the United States and the secretary of the interior can call it constitutional, is to deprive a lawyer of his unalienable right."

"I have known that some one had made such a complaint to the bar," said Attorney Hamill, "and I am sure every member of the lawyers' committee will welcome any investigation. So far as I am informed, I have never known a bar association to criticize any member who chose to express an opinion on the constitution."

Reached at his home, 1320 North State street, Attorney Alden declared: "The citation is ridiculous and absurd. If a lawyer can't express an opinion I'd like to know it. I have no intention of appearing before the grievance committee unless R. E. Devernine, chairman of the league committee, requests me to do so."

BIGAMIST WHO WED AS HE FLED SENT TO PRISON

Long Flight Is Ended by Chance Identification.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Robert E. Fairbanks, bigamy, sentenced to 1 to 5 years in the penitentiary by Chief Justice D. J. Normoyle.

Ray Roberts, larceny, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary; Charles Phillips, larceny, sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary by Judge Joseph B. David.

Robert E. Fairbanks, 28 years old, who polygamously married his third and fourth wives while he was a fugitive on a bigamy charge, was sentenced to one to five years in prison by Chief Justice D. J. Normoyle of the Criminal court yesterday.

Fairbanks was tried on an indictment returned on March 31, 1928, the oldest case pending in the Criminal court. The indictment charged that he married Miss Sylvia Class on Feb. 3, 1928, while he was still the husband of Lucille Price, whom he married in Wheaton on Nov. 22, 1925.

Hunted for Seven Years.

Soon after his indictment, Fairbanks forfeited his $2,500 bond, and the Cook county authorities had been seeking him for the last seven years. Recently Fairbanks was sentenced to a brief term in the Bridewell on a charge of petty larceny.

Routine finger prints of the prisoner were taken, and they disclosed that he was wanted on the old indictment. Fairbanks was rearrested after completing his Bridewell term. He demanded an immediate trial. Assistant State's Attorney Richard B. Austin obtained a delay, however, to give the authorities time to find Fairbanks' second wife, Sylvia.

Second Wife Missing.

This search was futile. However, Prosecutor Austin found Fairbanks' first wife, Lucille, who lives at 501 Kilbourn avenue. From her they learned that Fairbanks, while still a fugitive, married Miss Helen Brosman, 24 years old, 940 Lawrence avenue, in Wilmington, Ill., on Dec. 5, 1931. Mrs. Fairbanks No. 1 also told investigators that her husband was married the fourth time, in 1933, in Ray, Colo., to Miss Lucille Dante, 25 years old, 704 South Kedzie avenue.

WOMAN FLOATS ON AIR POCKET IN HER SKIRT; SAVED

Mary King, 35 years old, who said she left a job as a maid in a Detroit home two days ago and was broke and despondent, jumped into the Chicago river from the Van Buren street bridge last night. James Cullen, bridgetender there phoned William Harvey, the tender at the Polk street bridge, who rowed out into the river and rescued Miss King as she floated past. An air pocket in her skirt kept her afloat. She was taken to the County hospital.

GROCERY MANAGER ROBBED.

Peter Jonelunas, manager of a grocery at 6514 South Western avenue, was robbed of $80 yesterday by a gunman who locked him in a back room of the store.

N. Y. POLICE HEAD ORDERS CAPTURE OF GANG LEADER

Wants Luciano and 'Mussed Up,' Too.

New York, Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine's standing order to the police, he revealed today, is to get Charles [Lucky] Luciano and "muss him up." Luciano is the east side cabaret owner believed by the police to be one of the leaders of the new "big six" mob which has succeeded the Dutch Schultz gang as the underworld power in Manhattan.

There are promotions awaiting the man or men who get Luciano and bring him in, and those who pass him up and fail to "muss him up" when they get the chance will be demoted, Commissioner Valentine announced.

Hits Invisible Government.

The police have been hunting for Luciano ever since two gunmen blazed away last Wednesday night and left Schultz and three of his men dying on the floor of a Newark tavern.

The order to "get Luciano and muss him up" was revealed when Commissioner Valentine was reminded of the reports to the effect that Luciano is a political power on the lower east side.

"We'll stand for no invisible government," the commissioner declared. "We shall see whether Luciano is the power behind the throne on the east side."

Arraign Twenty-three Men.

One of the principal racket "plums" at issue between the Schultz gang and the Luciano mob was the usury game, which has grown to enormous proportions since prohibition. For several months Thomas E. Dewey, special prosecutor investigating vice and rackets, has been quietly gathering data on usury. While it is reported he found evidence of a clash of gang interests, he is quoted as saying that 23 prisoners arraigned in court today had no connection with Dutch Schultz.

After hearing Dewey describe 23 prisoners as kidnapers, extortionists, and breeders of most of the city's crime by their collection tactics, Supreme Court Justice Philip J. McCook held them in bail ranging from $2,500 to $25,000.

CHARGES A SWING TO DESPOTISM IS NEW DEAL'S AIM

Quoting from historical documents to establish his case, Chauncey McCormick yesterday charged that the New Deal is trying to read "un-American principles of despotism and communism" into the constitution of the United States. He spoke at the weekly luncheon of the Carl Schurz Round Table, a Republican organization, at the Old Heidelberg Inn, 14 West Randolph street.

"Examine the records," he said, "and you will find abundant proof that Franklin Roosevelt advocates policies and has indulged in practices warned against by the first Continental congress, by the Declaration of Independence, by George Washington, and by Abraham Lincoln.

"Under the excuse of 'emergency' they [the New Dealers] try to graft onto the laws of an American democracy un-American principles of despotism and communism, although the Supreme court has held that emergency is no excuse for passing unconstitutional laws."

ALLMAN ORDERS POLICE CAMPAIGN AGAINST RAPISTS

Police Commissioner Allman yesterday instructed district captains to use all their resources to stop attacks on women. The rape of Miss Anna Wilhelm, 20 years old, a recent arrival from North Dakota, in her room at the Belmont Plaza hotel, 565 Belmont avenue, on Monday night and a hammer attack yesterday on another woman brought about the order.

Commissioner Allman said there has been a slight increase in the number of attacks on women reported in the last three months. During 1934 there were 132 cases of rape reported to the police, Allman said. For the first nine months of this year 100 cases were recorded.

Decrease in Indictments.

Court records showed that 145 men were indicted in 1933 for rape and 82 were indicted in 1934. So far this year there have been 52 indictments for this crime. The records showed that 72 men were convicted and imprisoned in 1933 for rape, 66 in 1934, and 45 so far this year.

Commissioner Allman said the police department has been under special orders to seize rapists and guard against attacks on women for several months. These orders were issued after the recent appearances of the "whipper rapist" in the Austin district where he attacked several women.

Miss Wilhelm told police that she was beaten by the rapist who entered her hotel room Monday night. She said she and her cousin, Mary Wilhelm, a domestic in the home of Dr. Max Gethner, 441 Briar place, were bound and gagged by the rapist.

Victims to View Suspect.

The woman beaten yesterday is Mrs. Pauline Litt, 30 years old, 4603 North Kedzie avenue. She said a man appeared at her home and struck her on the head with a hammer when she answered his ring at the doorbell.

Town Hall police said victims of the rapist would be asked today to view a suspect arrested at Sheridan road and Belmont avenue last night. The suspect, Jerome De Jonckheere, 32 years old, who said he lived at 1345 Marquette road, was identified as the gunman who terrorized the family of William Conroy in their home at 3827 Rokeby street Monday night, police said.

Five men were arrested by county highway police at Morton Grove last night for holding two young Madison, Wis., girls captive in a farmhouse near Morton Grove since last Wednesday and raping them, police said. The two girls, Doris Ritter, 14, and Dorothy Long, 16, were hitch-hiking when picked up by two of the men.

Those under arrest are Sam Favato, 19 years old, 2215 Lake street, Melrose Park; Salvador Cioffa, 24, of Maywood; Rocco Sarlo, 23 years old, 134 North 23d avenue, Melrose Park; Vito Spiezio, 20 years old, 1015 North 24th avenue, Melrose Park, and Howard Taylor, 43 years old. Favato and Cioffa are charged with picking up the girls and taking them to the farmhouse, and Sarlo and Spiezio with participating in the rape. Taylor is caretaker of the farmhouse.

The girls said they escaped last night and obtained a ride on a truck into Morton Grove, where they reported the affair. The five men are to be arraigned this afternoon in Morton Grove police court.

1914 BOMB KILLS 3; SHATTERS HOME AND WINDOWS FOR BLOCKS

Eagle Pass, Tex., Oct. 29.—(AP)—An old bomb, souvenir of Mexican revolutionary troubles in 1914, exploded in the yard of Jose Perez yesterday, killing him, his wife, and their daughter. The blast destroyed their home and shattered windows for blocks around.

BARE 2 WEAPONS TO COMBAT HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

Ice Water Described as Preventative.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Two rising hopes for stopping high blood pressure—one by use of your own will power and an ice water test, the other a new form of the splanchnic nerve operation—were reported tonight to the American College of Surgeons.

The first treatment offers means of staving off high blood pressure. The second is an apparent cure after the disease has reached what are ordinarily considered hopeless stages.

The technique for detecting high blood pressure, the dreaded type known as essential hypertension, was described by S. Marx White, M. D., professor of medicine at the University of Minnesota. It is based, he said, on the fact that no one has been able to discover a definite cause for high blood pressure.

Test Is Good Detector.

A constitutional tendency toward the malady seems to be the best explanation. Dr. White said that the ice water test makes it possible to detect the existence of this tendency before there are any ordinary symptoms of the trouble.

In this test you put one wrist in ice water, while on the opposite arm is attached a blood pressure reading apparatus. If you are in the class of persons predisposed to high blood pressure, in 98 per cent of the cases your pressure will respond to the ice water by an excessive change. This change is momentary and harmless.

Danger of Overstrain.

But worry and excitement produce exactly similar momentary changes in blood pressure, and when they are repeated too often there is danger of overstrain. The overstrain brings on more or less prolonged and finally permanent high blood pressure.

The new splanchnic nerve operation was described by Alfred W. Adson, M. D., of the Mayo clinic.

The idea behind the operation is to get at the automatic nerve control of muscles in blood vessels, muscles which exist in the finest vessels, and which by their contraction or relaxation make it hard or easy for the blood to flow.

The new method from the Mayo clinic is to enter the abdomen. This is the easiest and safest of three methods of getting into the body. But in the abdomen the nerves sought are more spread out and so more difficult to handle. They include the splanchnic nerve.

THOS. T. ROBERTS, BROKER, IS FOUND SHOT TO DEATH

Thomas T. Roberts, 41 years old, 2472 Deer Park drive, Highland Park, a Chicago broker, was found shot to death in his car late yesterday in a desolate section of Hiawatha woods, two and a half miles west of Deerfield, in Lake county, and a quarter of a mile from the nearest house. Chief of Police Perry McLaughlin of Deerfield said Roberts apparently had shot himself.

George Burack, 6315 North Maplewood avenue, and his family came upon the body while they were gathering nuts in the woods. A revolver, from which one shot had been fired, was clutched in Roberts' right hand.

Mrs. Geraldine Roberts, wife of the broker, who was vice president of the Lerand company, 11 South La Salle street, said her husband had been worrying for some time. It was learned that Roberts was losing his home on a $15,000 foreclosure. Judge Ralph J. Dady in the Lake county Circuit court at Waukegan yesterday appointed A. E. Smith of Waukegan as receiver for the property over the objections of Roberts' lawyer.

There are two children in the Roberts family, Thomas T. Jr., 11 years old, and Mary Patricia, 9 years old.

SURGEONS MAKE ESOPHAGUS OF WOMAN'S SKIN

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 29.—(AP)—A San Francisco woman who has an artificial, detoured esophagus, made of her own skin, was exhibited today before the American college of surgeons here by Dr. T. F. Mullen of St. Mary's hospital.

An accident destroyed her esophagus so that food would go down only a little below the base of her neck.

So surgeons built an outside detoured esophagus from neck down to stomach, making it by plastic surgery out of the skin on her chest.

It is a living tube, three quarters of an inch wide, lying on the outside of her chest, from neck to stomach. At the neck it connects with her esophagus. At the other end it is connected with a remodeled intestinal tube which leads directly into the stomach.

Dies at 76; Paid $12,000 He Did Not Legally Owe

Kokomo, Ind., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Isaac N. Miller, 76, manufacturer and furniture dealer, who at one time paid $12,000 in debts which he did not legally owe following bankruptcy of the Kokomo Paper company, died today of heart disease. He helped found the South Bend Wagon works, Howard Paper Box company, Lima Artificial Ice company, Kokomo Sanitary Pottery company, and other concerns.

Army Plane Crashes; 2 Cadets Die; Officer Hurt

San Antonio, Texas, Oct. 29.—(AP)—The crash of an army plane today killed Flying Cadet Rhoe H. Harris, 26, and injured Lieut. Walter S. Lee, 31, Randolph field instructor.

SLUGGED AND ROBBED IN STREET.

Alfred Denes, 24 years old, 811 South State street, was slugged and robbed of $60 while walking at State and Van Buren streets yesterday. At the county hospital it was feared his skull had been fractured.

COL. CAMPBELL, G. A. R. CHIEF OF STAF, DIES AT 88

Col. James H. Campbell, national chief of staf of the Grand Army of the Republic and grand marshal of the 1935 Chicago Memorial day parade, died last night in his home at 2108 West 69th place. He was 88 years old.

COL. JAMES H. CAMPBELL.

Col. Campbell joined the 47th New York Volunteers at Oswego, N. Y., in 1865, the last year of the civil war, and was wounded in action. He came to Chicago when he was mustered out.

He was one of the nationally known leaders of the G. A. R. and was commander of the Illinois department from 1931 to 1933. He was grand marshal of the G. A. R. Memorial association at the time of his death. Col. Campbell retired from active business in 1925. As a carpenter contractor he built several buildings for the World's Fair in 1893. One of these, the cold storage building, was destroyed by fire on Jan. 4, 1894.

FAHRNEY'S WILL SETS UP $500,000 FAMILY TRUST

The will of Emery Homer Fahrney leaving an estate estimated at $500,000 was filed for probate yesterday with Clerk Mitchell C. Robin. Mr. Fahrney, president of the Universal Motor company of Oshkosh, Wis., died Oct. 9 in his summer home near there. He was 59 years old.

The will provides that the estate be left in trust with half of the income going to the widow, Mrs. Marion Fahrney, 400 North Euclid avenue, Oak Park. The remainder of the income will be shared by Fahrney's two daughters, Myrtle and Mrs. Merry Pickering Eiszner. In the event the widow remarries, her share of the income will be reduced to one-third.

Peter Fahrney, 3 years old, was left $50,000 in trust. Peter, the son of Merry Fahrney and Hugh Parker Pickering, was adopted by the Fahrneys after their daughter's divorce. The money will be turned over to him when he reaches the age of 21.

Mr. Fahrney was a son of the late Dr. Peter Fahrney, wealthy patent medicine manufacturer.

RITES TOMORROW FOR GIRL KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Funeral services for Miss Grace Ergang, 19 years old, of 5213 Quincy street, who died in the Oak Park hospital Monday of automobile injuries, will be held tomorrow afternoon from the home. Burial will be in Concordia cemetery.

An inquest into her death was continued at the Oak Park hospital earlier in the day. Miss Ergang was riding in an automobile driven by Vernon Knoll, 19 years old, of 1909 South Halsted street, when it collided at Belmont and Thatcher avenues in River Grove with one driven by Arthur Lamont, 29 years old, of 2606 North Newcastle avenue. Knoll was severely injured.

Miss Ergang, a graduate of the Austin High school, conducted a Sunday school class at the Zion Evangelical church, 5442 West Van Buren street, where Knoll also was a teacher.

Joseph Freeman, Wheaton Police Commissioner, Dies

Joseph J. Freeman, 68 years old, police commissioner of Wheaton, who was elected two years ago, died of a heart attack yesterday in his home at 125 West Lincoln avenue, in the suburb. Mr. Freeman retired five years ago as western manager of the American Hard Rubber company. Surviving him are his widow, Elizabeth, and two children, Joseph Jr. and Mrs. Elsa Helfrich. The body is in the chapel at 122 North Hale street, Wheaton. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon. Burial will be in Wheaton cemetery.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Maj. Bowes on Sunday evening talks very optimistically about what his amateur hour does to relieve the unemployment situation. It is true that for some of the youngsters his program solves the problem of a job. He now has six units touring the country—all successfully. That means employment for several hundred young folks. One of these groups is at the Oriental theater this week, packing them in. Crowds are the best there in years. An extra performance has been added every day during their stay.

In addition to the touring folks some few others win jobs in theaters in and about New York at small salaries and a handful have actually landed on the radio and night clubs. For the thousands of others who apply for auditions and the hundreds who are actually heard on his Sunday evening hour no problem is solved. Many of these folks set about making trouble for Maj. Bowes later. They besiege his offices for jobs and sometimes demand donations.

Most of them know that Maj. Bowes makes a lot of money out of his amateurs' activities. In addition to his radio salary and his cut from the touring units there is a fat take from motion picture shorts. His total weekly income is reported at around $20,000. And there is a certain amount of argument among arm chair followers as to the ethics of receiving this enormous income. They point out that after all the money comes from the efforts of youngsters, for the most part in straitened circumstances.

On the radio show they get $5 each, $10 if they get the gong, it's reported. On the road they get from $50 to $100 a week, out of which they pay board and room, though their traveling expenses are paid. In the Chicago troupe only, Wyoming Jack O'Brien gets the top salary.

Maj. Bowes had a tilt with the relief agencies in New York recently, who charged him with bringing a lot of destitute and jobless into New York. Bowes denied this. Each Sunday evening he explains that all applicants must come from Greater New York, but there are a lot of hitch-hikers and flivver travelers who come from a long way off, and some of them get on the program. Perhaps you have noticed, too, that there is always a person or two from the city being saluted on a given evening. Queries addressed to Maj. Bowes asking for an explanation of this have gone unanswered.

For the defense it must be said many of the amateurs—perhaps most of them—have a feeling of warm gratitude to the major. Bowes' attitude toward each one is fatherly. He treats them with sympathy and understanding. He passes out many a $5 bill and overcoat to kids who are up against it. And sometimes he even buys them railroad tickets home.

In brief, the net result of the Bowes amateur hour is this: It has provided radio's most talked of show of the year and attracted an extremely loyal radio following. (They write mean letters if the slightest uncomplimentary opinion is voiced about the show.) It has given thousands of youngsters with no especial talents the stage and radio bug and several hundred employment; it is bringing out some of the largest and most enthusiastic audiences in years to theaters where his shows are appearing, and it is bringing Maj. Bowes fame, fortune, and many a headache.

Mrs. E. W. Learned Leaves Northwestern U. $20,000

Northwestern university has received a bequest of $20,000 from the estate of the late Mrs. Carrie Learned, widow of E. W. Learned, pioneer Evanstonian, it was announced yesterday by President Walter Dill Scott. Mrs. Learned lived in Evanston until five years ago when she moved to McGraw, N. Y., where she died Sept. 19, at the age of 94. Mrs. Learned's bequest provides $10,000 for the student union building fund, and $10,000 for a scholarship.

DEATH NOTICES

In Memoriam.

CARLSON—Jennie H. Carlson. In loving memory of our beloved mother, who passed away one year ago today.
Sad, so sad, was God's call of one so dearly loved by all.
It was a bitter grief, a shock severe,
To part with one we loved so dear.
We, on earth, in our small way,
Will try to carry out the plans you made.
We hope from Heaven you see us, dear,
For we love to feel that you are near.
LOVING HUSBAND AND CHILDREN.

CLAUNCH—Robert Claunch. In memory of our beloved father, who passed away one year ago today.

Cabaret Dinner-Dance

Mrs. Huntly H. Gilbert is a member of the Chicago committee of the Arden Shore association, which is giving a cabaret dinner-dance Friday, Nov. 8, at the Congress hotel. The party will mark the formal opening of the Joseph Urban room for this winter.

C. H. Olmsteds Will Entertain for Debutantes

Miss Nancy Leiter to Bow in Washington.

BY JUDITH CASS.

IT is always good news for the debutantes of the season as well as for the contemporaries of the young Conway H. Olmsteds when they give a party. This time it is to be a dinner-dance on Saturday, Nov. 16, at the Racquet club for Miss Pauline Palmer. Miss Cornelia Ranney and Miss Barbara Stanley.

The lively and popular Tootie Johnston Olmsted lets scarcely a winter elapse without planning some festivity for the debutante set, always including on her guest list a few of her own close friends and those of her sister, Miss Ethel Johnston, who came out last year, and of her brothers, Hulburd and Hugh Johnston.

Miss Nancy Leiter, who made a debut at her mother's summer place, Edgewater House, Beverly Farms, Mass., early this month, will bow to Washington society on Nov. 14 at a tea her mother, Mrs. Joseph Leiter, will give at her residence, 1500 New Hampshire avenue. Later in the winter Mrs. Leiter will give a ball for her daughter but no plans for a Chicago debut have been announced.

Thomas Leiter and his aunt, Mrs. John B. Pitney, have sailed for Italy to be with their aunt and sister, Mrs. Frederick A. Sterling, during the convalescence of her second son from typhoid fever. The elder son of the Sterlings—he is United States minister to Bulgaria—died last month as a result of an attack of typhoid.

Cocktail Party for Miss Van Gordon.

The Kellogg Fairbanks are giving a cocktail party tomorrow afternoon at their home in North State street for Mme. Cyrena Van Gordon who has been entertained a great deal since she came to Chicago to sing with the San Carlo Opera company. Miss Janet Fairbank is to sing the part of Frasquita in "Carmen" Saturday night with the San Carlo.

The young Kellogg Fairbanks are busy these days getting their new home ready but they do not know yet just when they will be able to move into it. They have taken the stone garage of the old Edward Ayer residence on Banks street. Until it is ready they are with his parents.

Following the talk that Mrs. Mary Breckenridge will give at 11 o'clock this morning in the ballroom of the Drake hotel before an audience of women interested in the Frontier Nursing Service, Mrs. Charles Wesley Dempster, chairman of the Chicago committee of the Service, will entertain for Mrs. Breckenridge at a luncheon at the Casino. Mrs. Breckenridge will illustrate her talk with colored slides of the work the Nursing service does.

The Bohemians, who are giving a tea this afternoon from 4:30 until 6 o'clock at the Arts club for Miss Mary Garden, had expected to discuss plans for their benefit on Nov. 8, but instead they will announce plans for a new benefit for the sudden ending of the American Ballet's tour has made a change of plans necessary. Mrs. Frederic W. Upham, chairman of the social committee, will receive this afternoon.

Alliance Francaise Has New Branch.

The Chicago Alliance Française has a new branch, the South Bend alliance, which was organized by the young Charles S. Deweys and which had its formal opening meeting last night. Mrs. Dewey, as Miss Marjorie Goodman, was president of the Juniors of the Chicago alliance, and since moving to South Bend she has kept up her interest in the organization. The French consul general, Rene Weiller, went down to South Bend for the meeting last night.

The present president of the Juniors, Miss Fanny McPherson, will preside at a meeting of the young members of the Chicago alliance this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Mrs. John Storrs, who is just back from a summer in France, will speak on "The Summer of 1935 in France."

Mrs. L. Hamilton McCormick, president of the woman's board of the alliance, will preside for the first time this year at the regular Thursday causerie tomorrow. Mrs. McCormick has just returned from a summer abroad and is living at the Drake hotel. Mrs. Storrs and Mrs. George L. Cragg will pour tea and Mme.

LAST week's best example of unintentional humor, exemplified in the bulletin of the Chicago Better Business bureau:

Humor—Notes—Mansions—Plumbing. "Grave abuses in the sale of cemetery lots are being reported to the bureau as an almost daily occurence."

* *

WEDNESDAY Notes from the Tuesday Cuff. Gregory Gaye, the handsome young man who plays Kurt von Obersdorf in "Dodsworth" at the Erlanger is a brother of Lady Abdy, the Russian beauty you see photographed frequently in the fashionable magazines. Her first name by the way is Iya. In Russia the family name is spelled Ge. Lady Abdy is coming to America in a few months to seek a stage career. . . . The pale little flower called autumn crocus is blooming in pots and in a few gardens nowadays. It's indigenous to the Tyrol. . . . A social worker employed in a Chicago relief office is named Charity Tinker. . . . A Chicago advertising man, E. R. Goble, uses stop-and-go lights on the door of his private office. If the red light is on his secretary reports to callers he is not to be disturbed until the light changes to green. . . . The reason you see pictures of playwrights Charles MacArthur and Ben Hecht with their hats on is because the hair is growing thin on top. They grab their hats if a photographer hoves into sight.

* *

WHILE we're writing about old Chicago mansions we might call attention to the old Moore house at 2922 South Michigan, built in 1895 by James Hobart Moore, match manufacturer millionaire. There are twenty-seven rooms with nine marble baths. The woodwork is old mahogany and rosewood; the mirrors are framed in gold leaf; there are carved and fluted columns at the main entrance and at the porte cochère, and the façade is ivy covered. A lone watchman, representative of a watching service, keeps vigil there now with only a police dog as a companion. His name is Al Williams, and he cooks his meals over a tiny oil stove and sleeps on a cot. One of the beds in the house is said to have belonged to a king of France. The stables, that extended to Wabash avenue, once were filled with blooded horses that won a trunkful of blue ribbons for Mr. Moore and his brother, Judge William H. Moore. After the death of her son, and later her husband, Mrs. Moore, who later became Mrs. H. F. Knight, moved to their California home. But she keeps the old mansion guarded day and night as a protection against vandals of the type that have ravaged a number of the old south side mansions.

* *

AND, by the way, when the head waiter in the restaurant that has opened in the old Chandler home in Rush street, 60 per cent of which is owned by Danger, the bull terrier, went up into the attic he found, among some littered papers, a card engraved with the name of Prince Henry of Prussia.

* *

THE conversation had turned to architecture and interiors, and Shepard Vogelgesang commented lightly that he would like a sort of Corbusier house with a crystal chandelier in one of the rooms. It was his way of saying he liked the amusing or unexpected in interiors. Mrs. Leon Liebes, the San Francisco genius of textiles, who was visiting in town at the time, told the story of the woman who was shown through a Corbusier house by the great architect himself.

"See, everything is functional," he said, indicating the exposed pipes on the wall. "Even the plumbing is not concealed."

"I think I prefer it covered, as God designed our own plumbing," she answered reflectively.

Undergarments of Black Win Style Approval

The Shoulder Straps Match Your Dress.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Here's good news for fastidious souls who have shopped vainly for harmonizing dark underlayers for dark clothes. At last something has really been done about this problem and the results are writing fashion history!

If you wear black like a uniform from dawn till dark you'll thank the gods for the new black magic numbers, the sleek super-slim girdles, and all-togethers made of satin, satin lastex, and filmy Alençon lace; and, best of all, the black shoulder straps that, even should they show in some moment of action, will not bother your esthetic soul like the disconcerting flesh color red straps on other foundation layers.

Both the plump shopper and the slim youngsters are provided for . . . the large models literally skin inches off your streamline and the bodice tops are expertly designed and do everything possible toward controling the curves or unsightly bulges.

The dark costume slips matched to slim, skilfully fitted and designed panties are something else to buy for wear under dark toned or colored dresses. You will find these in black, navy, and brown [some with effective colored pipings of contrasting silk], others plain.

Last spring we all developed a passion for rather noisy silk underskirts, and how the picturesque white dotted affairs went out into circulation! This fall you'll find stunning plaid taffeta slips or the short underskirts that will do grand things for an otherwise dark ensemble.

If you maintain your well dressed appearance with dark clothes, trot to the shops and see these equally smart dark colored and most practical underlayers. It's quite a show and well worth a shopping expedition.

Fashion photograph . . . Wine red velvet in a deep rich shade is combined with metallic brocade in this smart afternoon suit. The slim and very simple dress uses the metallic material for the sleeveless blouse top and the velvet for the skirt that extends well above the waistline. The hip length jacket is fitted over the ribs, has wide velvet revers and modified leg-o'-mutton long sleeves. It is available in a Chicago shop.

[For information on any item described in this article call Rhea Seeger, Superior 0100.]

From a Chicago shop. Velvet and metallic material are combined to fashion this distinctive afternoon suit of two pieces. The simple dress has the blouse top of the metallic, the skirt and chest revers of the fitted jacket are of rich wine red velvet.

Good Morning!

"Comedy melodrama" describes the lively opus unreeling at the Oriental.

It sings of a fair young thing who, having come to the big, bad city to make good, falls into the hands of thieves and is rescued from their fell clutches by a dashing barrister whose fiancée approveth not of his interest in the damsel in distress.

Ann [the damsel] is steered into a quiet harbor of peace and plenty by said rescuer, and the two, having learned considerable about women—and men—that they'd not wotted of before, join forces for the future.

"Woman Wanted" is quick stepping, full of incident, and well acted. Frances Dee's nice husband, Joel McCrea, plays the resourceful lawyer with pep and humor. Maureen O'Sullivan is alert and amusing as the maiden fallen upon evil days. Louis Calhern plays a master crook with proper fearsomeness and suavity. Adrienne Ames portrays a pretty cat after her usual fluid, cool-eyed fashion. Lewis Stone is good as a district attorney. Other players were well chosen.

The audience, of which I was one, appeared to be getting a real kick from this movie.

[And were they throwing up their hats, so to speak, over Maj. Bowes and his amateurs, who are the stage attraction of the week? They were!]

"CAMILLE."

Kind: French film adapted from the classics by Alexandre Dumas Jr.

Quality: Poor.

Acting: Artificial. Yvonne Printemps isn't so bad, but Pierre Fresnay, leading man—a pretty fellow with a beautiful finger wave—seems a throwback to the "idols" we see today in the laughable revivals of old time silent movies. Supporting players pleased me better.

Direction: Probably could have been worse.

Photography, Sets, Scenery, Costumes: Nothing to set the world afire.

Audience Appeal: Nil, so far as this observer could discover.

See you tomorrow.

Kiepura Keeps Studio Crew in a Happy Mood

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—You can laugh with Jan Kiepura, the Polish tenor who now is making his debut as an American movie star, or you can laugh at him, but those now working in the vicinity of the slim blue eyed, brown haired, confident young man find themselves continually laughing about something or other.

Kiepura is literal minded about one thing—his singing. He takes his gargles, his sprays, his throat swabs, his rehersals, his press notices, his vocal exercises seriously. But underneath everything else he does is a rather diverting outlook on people and things.

Kiepura is accompanied on the set of "Give Us This Night," which he is making with Gladys Swarthout, by two men of apparent distinction who are inelegantly referred o by the commoners among the American studio workmen as "Kiepura's stooges."

These "stooges" and their pedigrees are these: Adam Didur, 65, twenty-five years chief basso for the New York Metropolitan Opera and now Kiepura's voice coach, a gray eyed, well set up, gray haired authoritative looking man. Mr. Didur's current job is to listen to Mr. Kiepura's singing and tell him when he should sing his song over and why.

The second so-called "stooge"—although there probably would be a duel back in Warsaw if some one called him that there—is Count Rene de Castellatz of Poland, 40, a blue eyed fellow with pompadoured gray hair, who, like Didur, lives with Kiepura in a leased home on Mountain drive, Beverly Hills. The count listens to Kiepura's singing and commends it. Between them they keep the tenor with the tight but recurring smile all pepped up about his voice.

Stooge No. 3, if the term may not be considered unchivalrous, is the former stage and film favorite, reddish gold-haired Hedda Hopper. Miss Hopper is acting as Kiepura's English diction coach. Miss Hopper catches the mispronounced or improperly accented words in the dialog and repeats them correctly. Her job is not a heavy one because Kiepura learns fast. He never makes the same mistake twice.

Besides Didur, De Castellatz and Miss Hopper, Kiepura is attended on his movie set by a valet in his portable dressing room, a makeup man, and a stand-in.

When asked what he thought of the English language, Kiepura replied, "I think it is like a mixture of bad French, mad Latin, bad German, and very, very bad Polish."

Sit on Floor at Lecture of Woman's A. C.

BY ELEANOR PAGE.

It is seldom that women will sit on the floor to hear a lecture, especially at 11 o'clock in the morning, but such was the case yesterday at the Woman's Athletic club when Clifton Utley spoke on current events. With 500 chairs in the ballroom filled, and all those on the balcony occupied, Miss Caroline McNair and her sister, Mrs. Frank S. Sims, led a back to the floor movement, settling down comfortably on the balcony carpet. Mrs. Andrew B. MacCaughey, a former president of the club, and Mrs. Arthur Goes followed their example, and soon most of the late comers had joined them.

It was a novel experience for those unable to find chairs to concentrate on a voice that apparently came from nowhere—since their only vista was the blank white of the balcony rail.

Several friends wigwagged messages of good wishes to Miss McNair whose engagement to Glendon T. Gerlach was announced last Saturday. Three women sitting on the floor of the balcony took forty winks leaning back against the wall.

Many of those who attended the lecture and ate luncheon at the club later were seen at Tatman's where the Junior Auxiliary of the Children's Memorial hospital was having its table setting contest.

The winners, chosen by ballots of visitors, were: First, Mrs. Ralph N. Isham; second, Mrs. William O. Hunt and Mrs. William J. Lawlor Jr.; third, Miss Marie Louise Gardner and Miss Betty Alexander. Mrs. T. Lloyd Kelly won the breakfast tray contest.

Mrs. Isham's unusual luncheon table created much comment. On a plain deal table she placed mirrored service plates, then green glass plates, and finally large crystal shells in which even the most ardent sea food hater would be bound to enjoy shrimps or oysters.

Club Party

[Gibson Photo.]

Mrs. Louis E. Golan is in charge of the program of the benefit party of the B. M. Z. club to be held in the Narcissus room at Field's on Nov. 18. The directors of the club will hold a tea at the Covenant club next Monday to complete plans for the affair.

Sponsor Lectures.

The Chicago Goucher College club will sponsor lectures on "Saints and Symbols," by Mrs. Robert Wyness Millar at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the French room of the Georgian hotel, Evanston, and next Wednesday at the International house of the University of Chicago. Proceeds will go to the club's scholarship fund.

Berta Ochsner Will Give Dance Recital Next Sunday Night

A solo program of humorous dances will be given by Berta Ochsner at the Goodman theater next Sunday night. Miss Ochsner's art combines dance rhythm with satirical themes. One of her numbers, entitled "The People's Choice," will be based on the antics of a political aspirant who constructs an ambiguous platform and attempts to mount it.

BERTA OCHSNER.

Another of her dances will be "Au Naturel," in which an ape looks at a man. In other numbers she will interpret her comment on some of the works of James Joyce. Miss Ochsner will be accompanied by Miss Emily Boettcher, pianist.

Plans to Exhibit Famous Doll House Discussed at Tea

Dr. Edwin W. Ryerson, Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, the Rev. John W. Barrett and Miss Techla Doniat, principal of the Spaulding School for Crippled Children, spoke yesterday at a tea given by Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank and D. F. Kelly, and told of the need for the financial help that the exhibit of the Colleen Moore Doll House will be able to provide.

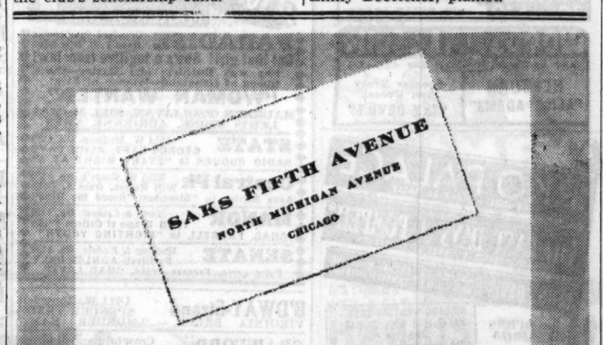

Half of the receipts of the exhibit, to be open at The Fair store Nov. 15, will benefit destitute and crippled children and as a consequence the men and women of the boards of hospitals and schools that care for crippled children are interested in the Chicago showing of this $435,000 fairyland castle.

Mrs. Fairbank presided at the meeting that preceded the serving of tea at the Chicago Woman's club and Mr. Kelly spoke briefly. The doll house is a veritable enchanted castle that took nine years to build and required the skilled labor of some seven hundred artists and artisans.

Mrs. James Ward Thorne, whose interest in miniature things is too well known to need repetition, Mrs. Philip Maher, Mrs. Walter Paepcke, and Mrs. John V. Farwell III, poured.

BORDER BREED

By William MacLeod Raine

SYNOPSIS.

Young Dan Clifford is driving a mule team carrying freight when he meets and befriends 17 year old Milly Sutherland. She and a young brother and sister are en route to Los Pinos, wild border town of the untamed west. Their father died on the way in Los Pinos. Dan, through Polly Doble, gets Milly work washing, and Ah Sin, a Chinaman, to help her. Jasper Ford, gambler and killer, forces his attentions on Milly. Dan publicly humiliates him. Ford swears revenge. Trouble brews between the gambling element and Mexicans. The salt lakes, long public property, are claimed by one Zack Black, representing the gamblers. Black, Lou Stone, and a group of gamblers are besieged at the salt lakes by Mexicans. Dan and his friend, Sam Jones of the rangers, act as peacemakers and accomplish their rescue. Lou Stone breaks with Ford. Milly and Dan become engaged, but when Dan is appointed sheriff Milly refuses to marry him, fearing he'll become a killer. Jonathan Edwards Hart, a famous killer, who was sent to prison 18 years before because of Ford's testimony, arrives in Los Pinos. He holds up the Last Chance. Dan, unarmed, arrests Hart. While Hart is out on bail, Ford shoots him, claiming self-defense. Because of Hart's record Ford is not prosecuted.

INSTALMENT XXXIX.

A FORMER FIANCEE.

In no haste to speak, Dan walked beside her in silence.

"We're having very nice weather," Milly said in a small formal voice.

"I haven't been killed yet," he said abruptly.

"No. That's very nice."

"Nor killed anybody."

"How long have you been marshal?" she inquired politely.

"So you're not taking back any of the things you said about me?"

"Does it matter what I said? I'm only a schoolmarm, and you are the great Dan Clifford."

He was surprised at her bitterness. He did not know that she had lain in bed and wept more than once when she was sure the children were asleep. It broke her heart to know that she had driven away the man she loved. It was not her fault of course. She felt sure of that. How could she marry a man who would choose so turbulent a way, one with the likelihood of death at the end of it, in preference to the safe, sane road of love?

Dan thought her the loveliest thing under heaven and the most unreasonable. He had joined her in impulse, in the hope that time had softened her judgment. Apparently it had not.

His voice hardened as he inquired how the children were. They talked of outside things. She had moved, she explained, to a cottage two blocks farther up the street. The old place was being used for the business. Ah Sin had taken another celestial in as partner in her place. She still had a minor interest in the concern, which was still called Miss Milly's Laundry. Yes, thank you, she enjoyed teaching. That and looking after her family kept her very busy. She had not much time for anything else except her church work. The Rev. Philip Washburn was a fine young man, devoted to his work and to his people. Milly felt he would do a great deal of good at Los Pinos and was glad Mr. Clifford agreed with her.

"He sure loves his people, at least a portion of his congregation," Dan drawled, watching her out of the corner of an eye. "I hear he is figuring on getting married. That would increase his usefulness, wouldn't you say, if he picked the right girl?"

Into the girl's cheeks there came a little glow of added color. "No rumors of that kind have reached me," she said primly.

"You'd certainly know if it was true, you being so interested in the church," Dan replied innocently.

The eyes of Milly blazed at him. "No doubt Mr. Washburn would appreciate your interest in his affairs if he knew, even though you never come to hear him preach."

"Whether he would henpeck easy a girl couldn't tell till she had tried," he concluded thoughtfully.

Milly stopped abruptly. Her little fists were clenched, her slim figure rigid. "If you are quite through insulting me, Mr. Clifford, I can get along without your company," she said furiously.

Dan felt a swift compunction. "I didn't mean to do that," he said gently.

"Then you succeeded very well without meaning it," she told him.

They had reached her gate. Swiftly she unlatched it and moved up the walk to the house. Without looking back, she shut the door behind her.

"Now why for did I talk thataway to her?" Dan asked himself dejectedly. "None of my business if she and the parson are friends. She would sure do better marrying him than me. How come I to bring him into it?"

He grinned ruefully, for he knew the answer when he asked the question. He had seen them together and was jealous.

. . . . . .

Stone sat in the little office of the marshal opposite Dave Shotwell's saloon and glanced over the news columns of the Los Pinos Courier. Occasionally he read aloud an item to his chief, who was employed in cleaning his revolver.

"'While Marshal Clifford was making his rounds Tuesday night some ruffian fired at him from an alley but fortunately missed. The young officer is not popular with gentry of this sort because of his efficient work in cleaning up the town. During his régime holdups and other crimes of violence have decreased 50 per cent. Keep up the good work, Dan. The good citizens of Los Pinos are with you.'"

Stone added, sardonically: "You're getting a lot of bouquets these days, marshal. If one of these sure shot alley cats gets you the town will certainly give you a bangup funeral."

"That will be nice," Dan grunted, beginning to load the weapon.

"What beats me is the way your mind works," Stone volunteered. "You spend hours cracking away at a mark, and then when you go to arrest some one you never draw a gun."

"We're not trying to blast this town into decency. Soon as the boys find out it is getting civilized and won't stand for crime they will fall into line."

"And Jas Ford will probably run the Sunday school," jeered Stone.

"I'm not expecting to reform Ford," Dan said.

Stone resumed his perusal of the Courier, to break out a few moments later. Listen here:

> Jasper Ford, now president of the Salt Lakes Development company, greatly deplores the new outbreak of violence on the part of those who oppose the operation of the company. He says that he and his associates hope to employ a considerable number of laborers, teamsters, and office men. He feels that in all justice the government should back him up against the lawless element which has set itself against progress.
>
> "There are going to be some graves fuller one of these days," Stone said seriously. "Won't be much longer now until there is a big explosion. The Mexicans feel that Ford's crowd have the state and the governor back of them. So they have. Jas has been working all the influence he has at Washington, too. If the rangers and the natives have a clash, I'll expect to see U. S. troops move in. The feeling is getting more bitter every day. Jas is as stubborn as a mule. He means to bull it through in spite of hell and high water."
>
> "Yes," assented Dan. "I've a notion that one reason he and his friends have laid off me is because he wants to keep his rep bright and shiny with the authorities so that when the blow-off comes he won't be classed as a bad man too tough for them to support."
>
> "Were they laying off you Tuesday night?" Stone asked dryly.
>
> "That might have been some bird playing his own hand," Dan suggested.

GASOLINE ALLEY.—THREE WISE MEN

Sauerkraut Is a Welcome Food on Crisp Days

BY MARY MEADE.

Tradition has it that sauerkraut is a German dish. However, we've recently been surprised to learn that it has an oriental background as well. Centuries ago in China this food favorite was known, and during the building of the Great Wall fermented cabbage was part of the ration of the laborers.

If you'd honor the Teutonic origin you probably will like to serve kraut with mettwurst, or in bologna cups. There's a distinctly oriental crispness about a sauerkraut omelet, on the other hand. Or, if you feel that kraut is sufficiently Americanized, you'll enjoy a native adaptation in the form of a meatless roast.

KRAUT WITH METTWURST.

Cook a ring of mettwurst in the same kettle with sauerkraut. When hot and ready to serve, cut the sausage into two inch lengths and peel. Serve the sausage bits around a hot platter of kraut.

KRAUT IN BOLOGNA CUPS.

Cut large bologna in thin, even slices, leaving the rind on. Sauté gently on both sides, allowing the slices to cup up around the edges. Serve filled with hot sauerkraut and garnish with a sprig of green parsley.

Sauerkraut Omelet.

- ¾ cup butter
- ⅓ cup flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¾ cup milk
- ⅛ teaspoon paprika
- 4 eggs
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- 1 cup sauerkraut

Melt the butter, blend with the flour, and gradually add the milk. Cook until the mixture is smooth and thick. Add the sauerkraut and unbeaten egg yolks. Beat the egg whites until stiff, and fold into the mixture, along with the seasonings and lemon juice. Pour into a buttered omelet pan, cook in a slow oven for about 20 minutes, fold, and serve immediately on a hot platter.

Sauerkraut Roast.

- 1 cup peanuts
- 1 medium onion
- 2 cups sauerkraut
- 1 cup tomato pulp
- 1 cup grated cheese
- 1 cup bread or cracker crums
- 1 tablespoon salad oil
- Seasonings

Put nuts and onion through coarse knife of food chopper. Combine with kraut, tomato pulp, cheese, and crums. Season to taste with salt, pepper, sage, or poultry seasoning, and moisten with water if necessary. Shape into a loaf in an oiled pan, bake 30 minutes in a moderate oven, and serve hot with tomato sauce.

Individuality Is Keynote of Achieving True Loveliness

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

There's an interesting tale, in one of the current issues of a monthly magazine, revealing the new method in picking and choosing Hollywood beauty. It should serve to curb the formerly steady stream of trafic from small towns and large to the great cinema center in California.

You have a better chance of being nominated for future screen distinction if you remain on the old home lot, providing, however, that said home diamond offers the young woman opportunities to be seen. And heard from, we should add, since it is theater scenes that are watched for budding young talent and personalities, also radio stations and professional model sources of observation.

The truth is, as presented by one of the scouts, that it is wiser to let one of the now sizable army of scouts employed by Hollywood outfits, to seek beauty and talent in the marts just mentioned, than to buy a one-way ticket to the coast with intention to storm the doors out there. This swing of the movie world pendulum is best seen in the names of such talent as has earned great film distinction after the "scout method" of discovery. Among them are Claudette Colbert, Hepburn, Ruth Chatterton, Margo, Barbara Stanwyck, Joan Crawford, Jean Muir, Mae West, and dozens of others.

Now that proves something, which is the point of inducting the new cinema trend into this column today. Something that can't be news to you young women who, yourselves, must be aware that beauty alone isn't a salable product any more in the great land of celluloid. Indeed, several of the professional models of unquestioned beauty and rare talent for wearing beautiful clothes, have flopped badly.

As the scout, from whom we get our information, says: "You don't have to be a raving beauty to get into the movies these days. If the basic structure is good, makeup and dress artists can attend to the superficial details. But you must have personality, a good memory, and intelligence." And you must not be a "copy" of some one else, an imitation, say, of Jean Harlow or Joan Crawford, or any one else.

C. H. Olmsteds Will Entertain for Debutantes

Miss Nancy Leiter to Bow in Washington.

Joanne McAllister will speak on "The Theater and Its Public in France."

The Chicago Lighthouse Volunteer Aids will meet for the first time this winter on Friday morning at 11 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Roger Q. White, 11 East Division street. Mrs. White is the new president of the Aids, having been elected to succeed Miss Betty Brawley, who now is assistant treasurer.

New Wheeler Home to Be Open for Sale.

Lake Forest will be the destination of many early Christmas shoppers next Tuesday, for Mrs. Leslie Wheeler will open her beautiful new home on the north shore that day for an Eli Bates sale.

The house, no less than the lovely things made by the women of the Eli Bates Settlement house, will attract many, for this is the first time it has been opened semi-publicly.

Mrs. William McCormick Blair will entertain at luncheon on Tuesday, later taking her guests to the sale, and there will be numerous other Lake Forest women who will do likewise.

A kitchen corner outfitted with all the latest devices for simplifying housekeeping will provide some of the most tempting purchases for visitors to the Grant hospital sale Dec. 9 at the Fortnightly. Mrs. Henry Bartholomay, president of the woman's board of the hospital, is holding a meeting of her committee Friday morning at her home to make plans for the corner.

Another committee will arrange for a gift table after a luncheon Friday at Mrs. Frederick L. McNally's home. Besides heading this committee, Mrs. McNally is co-chairman with Mrs. Frank S. Porter of the sale. Mrs. William Sherman Hay and Miss Amelia Birk discussed plans for a linen table with their committee at luncheon Monday at the Woman's Athletic club.

Walter Ayers Return from Summer Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ayer and their daughter, Miss Janet, are back in their apartment at 232 East Walton place after having spent the summer and early autumn at their summer place in Bar Harbor, Me. Their son, Robert McCormick Ayer, is working in New York this winter.

The former Theresa Higginson is coming from her home in Florence, Italy, next month with her husband, Count Gianguillo Rucellai, and their three children for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Higginson, formerly of Chicago, now of Lenox, Mass.

After living for a year and a half in England, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Anderson Valentine and their children have returned to Chicago. The Valentines are staying at the Webster hotel.

Mrs. Charles T. Boynton of Highland Park and her daughter, Mrs. John H. Harmon, have returned from a motor trip through New York and Virginia.

Charles H. Morse Jr., who is working in Beloit, makes frequent trips to Sturgeon Bay to watch the progress of the yacht he is having built. He anticipates that it will be finished some time next month and he is looking forward to taking it south after the first of tne year.

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER: Phanny's Philosophy

Tested Facts About Children Await Mothers

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

It's hard to make a general statement without tagging an "except" on it—that is, if you know both sides of a question and are somewhat accurate-minded.

So I feel as if I must tack on, or rather elaborate something, which I did add at the end of a daily article t at appeared recently.

The article was a "back-bone-stiffener" addressed to those mothers who manage their children happily and well, through possessing a great deal of intelligence, tact, and wise affection—that is, a native ability as mothers. The advice to these women was not to let themselves be made to feel inferior by certain other women who rolled technical, child training terms upon their tongues, for the reason that some times these mothers have been quick at acquiring a "patter" or book knowledge, with no real achievement behind it.

I did add at the end a sentence to the effect that this warning was not meant to belittle the value of real knowledge, which needs often to develop definitly descriptive [that is, scientific] words. This knowledge should not be belittled.

Never before in the world's history has there been available such help for parents as there is today. There is not only a fast-growing knowledge of children—their nature and their needs, but fast growing avenues for placing this knowledge where parents can get at it.

This department has reading in the form of fully written booklets on various aspects of childhood. If you write in, state your child's age and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and mention the specific behavior on which you wish advice.

Lingerie Aids Cause of Frocks

WOMAN'S AND MISS' LINGERIE ENSEMBLE.

Here is something new in the way of a lovely lingerie ensemble to wear with your clinging frocks. Both slip and panties are included in the pattern. The slip is cut with bias lines and a brassiere top. It fits snugly through the waist and hips, with ample hem fulness.

The pattern, No. 2942, comes in sizes 14, 16, and 18 years, and 36, 38, 40, and 42 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 3½ yards of 39 inch material for the slip and panties, with 1⅞ yards of lace.

Graffs Please in Dances at Concert House

BY HAZEL MOORE.

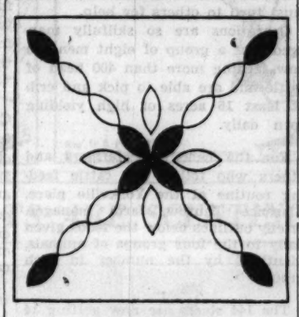

One of the greatest obstacles of the dance recitalist in America is the finding of a suitable hall of moderate size, with the proper lighting equipment to do justice to the medium of dance expression. The Graff Little Concert house is the answer to this lack. Situated some twelve minutes from the loop at 5118 Blackstone avenue, the dance pilgrim finds himself first in a pleasant and slightly formal garden with the attractive façade of the little theater at the end.

On entering the theater one is surprised at the size and completeness with which it is finished. The seating capacity is 200 and it was filled last night at the second of three dance programs by Grace and Kurt Graff. The interior is finished in a soft blue, and the curtained back drops of the ample stage are of gold velour. The lighting equipment consists of four spotlights, and two on the sides, with an overhead set of spots and floods. The lighting was handled deftly and adequately off stage by David Humphrey.

The program consisted of modern dance impressions, created by Grace and Kurt Graff, on somewhat continental ideas, but with their own dance forms. The program started with a Bach prologue and finished with a Bach epilogue. In between were two dance suites and several divertissements. All were strikingly costumed, of colors and fabrics to enhance the mood of the dances. The Bach prologue was particularly pleasing, danced by the two Graffs with interesting and unhackneyed movements. The following Dance of Death to the Sibelius' Valse Triste was also effective.

Grace Graff showed to especial advantage as Mary, the first of the religious suite, when garbed in a sage green she mimed a medieval dance with a soft red rose for a contrast, and in the Girl in the Garden, a simple dance, to attractive music by Mompou. Mr. Graff is a masculine dancer who builds his dances on extended movements.

'Windblown Star' Design Is Quilt Created in Maine

Windblown Star.

BY NANCY CABOT.

"Windblown Star" first was found in a quaint little seaside town of Maine in 1778. No earlier record of the quilt ever has been located. This "Windblown Star" quilt consisted of blue, white, and blue figured print material, the blocks of which were considerably faded after many years of hard wear. The faded colors added greatly to its sentimental and antique value. The quilt contained 28 pieced and 28 plain blocks, each measuring 12 inches square.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices: One South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

Dionne Quintuplets Are Under Option to Appear in Movies

Boston, Mass., Oct. 29.—(AP)—The Dionne sisters may go into the movies—that is, when they are old enough.

The fact that options have been arranged to put the famous quintuplets on the screen was disclosed here today by their foster-father, David Arnold Croll, minister of public welfare of Ontario, Canada.

WEDDING

Without a word to any one but their friends, the A. Phelps Dunhams and the Paul Holders, who accompanied them, Miss Marguerite Parsons and William Dale Bost went to Waukegan and were married Sunday evening. They will be at Mr. Bost's apartment at the Lake Shore Drive hotel until they leave shortly for a wedding trip in the east. Mrs. Bost is one of Mrs. Eugene Parsons' two daughters.

Emotions Map Themselves in Facial Outlines

Traits Foretell Behavior of the Individual.

BY HUGO WESTERBERG.

Two classes of human traits have been outlined, desires and intellectual tendencies, and now the third class, emotional characteristics, will be described. Desires call for action, intelligence makes the choice of action, and emotions influence the execution of the actions. A list of emotional traits may be compiled from facial features and used to foretell how an individual will behave in various situations.

HELEN GAHAGAN.

The person may have a tendency to be timid or courageous, trustful or distrustful, dispassionate or excitable, yielding or persistent, easily discouraged or enduring, evading obstacles or crushing them, noticing bad points or good points, hasty or cautious, and unimpressible or sensitive.

The meaning, from a practical point of view, of these fundamental characteristics is not difficult to grasp. They will be explained further in later articles. It should be noticed that words like cheerful, sad, angry, agreeable, friendly, hostile, etc., designate feelings of a temporary nature. The movements of different features express these, but the more important basic traits can be read from them even when they are immobile.

Many persons are able to suppress their real feelings and exhibit others in order to deceive. The shape of the features cannot be changed at will, however, and this makes a physiognomical analysis a valuable help in judging people.

In the face of Helen Gahagan there is an ambitious, proud but sympathetic expression, a refined but self-assured air of intellectual superiority. Her protruding chin and firm lower jaws tell of resolute principles behind a polite and discrete manner. Unwilling to see others defeated, she still will not let them infringe on her prerogatives, fought for and won. A charming consort to a male conqueror in any field of human achievement.

According to CULBERTSON

IRREGULAR LEADS.

Write your bridge troubles and problems to Ely Culbertson, care of this paper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

The bridge player who knows all the conventional leads, as every player should, and then clings to them with unvarying consistency, is going to save his partner a lot of headaches. The trouble is, he does the same thing for the declarer, who will appreciate the kindness more than the partner. And while the standpat leader may truthfully claim he makes no mechanical mistakes in his leads, he also will not make a lot of points which might have been his.

To collect the maximum on defense a player must have not only full knowledge of the correct procedure for conventional leads and plays, but an equally correct and indispensable technique of deceptive or irregular leads and plays. These do not have a vague generality, but form a definite part of the regulation code of good card play.

A lead or play which is made contrary to the usual convention, with a view to misleading the opponent, is deceptive or irregular. It sometimes is called a bluff or "psychic." The technique of such leads covers the range of situations in which it is less dangerous to fool your partner than to tell the truth to the enemy. You may have a partner who is blissfully unaware of the finer implications of your conventional leads. Skill then consists in not persisting with all the conventional niceties of the play, but in trying to find the best means of keeping him in his state of torpor. In other situations a wide awake partner will "smell the rat" before the opponents and understand your psychic before the declarer does so.

There are good and bad deceptions. The characteristic of bad deceptive leads, like anything stupid, is that there is neither rime nor reason to them. If, for instance, holding Q J 10 9, a player leads the jack, he will have fooled the declarer completely, but what good does it do him? He also will fool his partner, and it may easily cost a cold trick if dummy should hold K x x and partner, upon dummy's play of a low card, should play the ace. In still other cases the situation plainly exists in which a deceptive lead can do no real harm to partner, even if he is fooled. This is particularly true when the choice of suits for a lead is reduced to a doubleton headed by a jack or higher honor. With Q 8, if I must lead it, I much prefer the lead of the eight to the "supporting" lead of the queen. It might work out as it did in the following situation:

DUMMY
♥7 4 3

WEST ♥Q 8 — EAST ♥A 9 5 2

DECLARER
♥K J 10 6

Against a contract of four spades West was hard put to it for a suitable lead, but finally chose the eight of hearts. His partner took with the ace and, having nothing better to offer, returned a heart. Declarer, thinking the eight had been a singleton, finessed. After gathering in his trick with the queen, West led a diamond through dummy's K Q 10 of that suit. His partner showed up with the ace, sent another heart on its way, West ruffed, and the contract was set.

My favorite irregular lead is a low trump from K x, provided declarer is on my right. This lead has never failed me and, in many instances, has saved the day. Declarer could never expect any one to blank the king of trumps with such a lead, and invariably leads to dummy to finesse.

Because of the valuable information given declarer from the mathematical precision of the rule of eleven, every town has its quota of players who never lead the fourth best. Yet you cannot get away from the regulation fourth best lead. However much declarer may learn, the partner learns even more. With an exposed dummy the declarer will get along well even if ignoring the leads completely, but total darkness will descend upon the defenders.

The right solution is to maintain the standard of regulation leads, but to vary them with irregular leads when circumstances warant. If holding A Q 8 2 against no trump, the irregular lead of the eight is bad because partner will read it as a short suit lead from the top of nothing and abandon a valuable suit. But from A Q 9 6 2, the deceptive lead of the deuce, as though to show only four cards, frequently will bring good results. It is true that there always is a danger that partner, discouraged by an apparent four card suit, may switch to some other suit. As against this there is the advantage that the declarer, assuming wrongly that he is threatened with only a four card suit, may adopt a careless line of play, or may even decide to make an end play by throwing in the leader with his own suit. I once was able to rescue a hopeless game against an expert by leading the deuce from A Q 10 9 6 2 against a three no trump contract. He knew that I dislike the promiscuous use of psychic tactics, and assumed I held something like A Q 6 2. Later in the deal, in trying for an end play, he threw me in with a diamond, expecting to lose only three tricks. He was surprised and aggrieved when I took five instead.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: What card should be led against a no trump contract from a suit such as K Q 8 7 5 2?

Answer: The seven, which is the fourth highest card. As a rule the king is led only when the suit is headed by K Q J or K Q 10. From a seven card suit headed by K Q 8, however, the king may be led.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

Unfashionable is the head these evenings that appears unornamented. You'd be surprised at how large hair arrangement and hair trimmings loom in the general style picture.

There aren't any flat rules, apparently. You can let your imagination or your own style sense do a lot of the dictating. At St. Luke's fashion show twists of gold cloth were popular; so were formal looking tiara modifications and bands of gold leaves. And it was obvious that nothing tops off the formal costume like a gleaming head of hair with an elegant doodad of some sort.

Flowers are going to be tremendously smart, apparently. At a recent hair style show in New York some of the outstanding hairdresses for evening made excellent use of flowers. One, which we'll show you in a photograph one of these days, had a snowy gardenia tucked directly in the center. Try that on blue-black hair over an ermine wrap and see what an effect of chic you'll get!

And don't scoff at artificial flowers, either—if they're not too floppy and if the color matches or contrasts dramatically with your gown. One hair style done in New York had a halo of silk poppies in an effect that was completely successful.

If you want to be quaint [but step gingerly here] there are the Juliet caps and the low hung snoods. There are marvelous on the right type, with the right gown and the right hair style. But they can be gosh awful if there's anything wrong with the picture.

In any case, if you're wondering how to pep up your evening ensemble try a hair ornament. It can be feathers, flowers, or metal.

SHOUSE MOCKS CORN-HOG VOTE AS EMPTY TEST

Calls Total Vote but a Fraction of Farmers.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—The loud rejoicing of New Dealers over the results of the corn-hog referendum may be proved premature, Jouett Shouse, president of the American Liberty league, asserted today.

Shouse pointed out that, of 4½ million potential farm votes, less than 750,000 votes were cast. Of those who voted, some 15 per cent voted against a continuance of the program.

Most of the returns were in today with indications that a majority of approximately 6 to 1 favored continuance of Agricultural Administration act regulations over crops pertaining to corn and hogs. The latest tabulation showed 699,118 votes were cast last Saturday. Of these, 602,878 were for continuance of federal control, 96,240 were against it.

Small Proportion Vote.

"The administration rejoices mightily over its astounding victory in the referendum among the beneficiaries as to whether it shall continue to pay cash bonuses to farmers not to raise corn and hogs," Shouse declared. "What are the facts?

"Four and a half million farmers are eligible to contracts and hence might have qualified to vote. One million farmers now hold contracts on which they are being paid substantial sums.

"Out of the four and a half million potential beneficiaries and one million present beneficiaries, the latest figures show that less than 750,000 voted. Of those who voted and who are now being paid by the government to go along, about one in six, or more than 15 per cent, voted against a continuance of the program."

Thousands of government employés in every state where the referendum was held staged a ballyhoo to induce a favorable vote, Shouse charged.

"All of this was done at the expense of the taxpayers of the country," he added.

Kansas Leaders Warn.

Topeka, Kas., Oct. 29.—(AP)—When Republicans draft a platform for 1936, Kansas leaders warned tonight, they "would do well" to bear in mind the husky majority piled up by farmers on the administration's crop adjustment program.

Kansas, the only state to reëlect a Republican governor in 1934, was shown to have done an about face today in the AAA's poll of corn-hog producers—voting heavily in favor of continuance as contrasted with an adverse vote last year.

Senator Arthur Capper urged Republicans to take heed.

"The party would make a mistake," said Capper, "in condemning the AAA. It should not be made an issue. If we Republicans can not develop a program that is as good or better, then we should not criticize the AAA."

P. A. Wempe, hog breeder and member of the Kansas state board of agriculture, attributed the Kansas vote to a "better understanding." "The vote simply means," he said, "that Kansas farmers have come to accept the AAA as an emergency program and that they're ready to go along with it until something better is offered."

Gov. Alf M. Landon, mentioned as a possible candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, withheld comment.

MOTORMAN LIES SHOCKED ON TOP OF CAR; RESCUED

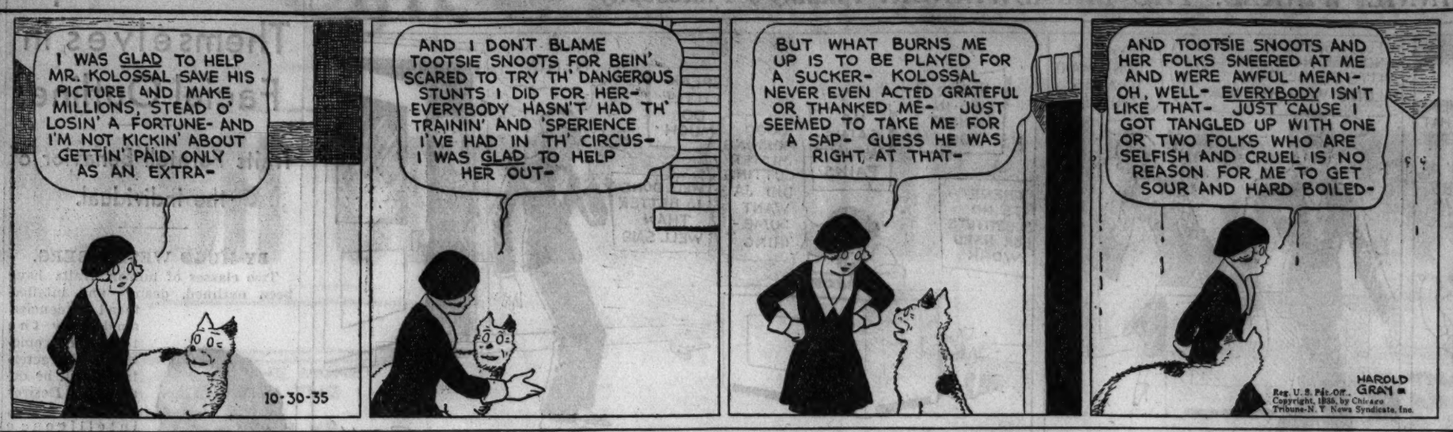

Patrick Sullivan, 42 years old, 6214 South Ashland avenue, motorman on a 63d street street car, was knocked unconscious by the high voltage current last night when he went on top of his car to change the trolley.

Sullivan lay unconscious on top of the car at 63d street and Central Park avenue for some time until a citizen saw him there and notified police. Lieut. Patrick Brady and Patrolman William Kilbourn of Chicago Lawn police rescued the motorman and took him to Holy Cross hospital. His condition is serious.

Bursts Blood Vessel at Dance Hall and Is Dead

Ernest Gisel, 62 years old, 5314 Blackstone avenue, a butcher, died in St. Luke's hospital last night of a cerebral hemorrhage. Central police said he burst a blood vessel last night while dancing at a taxi-dance hall at 306 South Wabash avenue.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Slave a Little—Learn a Lot

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farm

By Frank Ridgway

Free to Make Money.

October 29, 1935.

THRIFTY practices are being followed on the Tribune experimental farms this year in handling the bumper crops of grain and roughage just as much as they were last year when the unprecedented drouth left the managers of these places with a scarcity of feed. Neither of these farms depends on government checks to make ends meet, although managers carry on their operations just as other good farmers do where they depend upon their own initiative to make farming pay.

Since these farm managers refused to sign the Agricultural Adjustment administration's contracts that restricted the production of corn and hogs, they are able to fill their barns, cribs and silos with 1935's bountiful crops and use the feeds unhampered, under a feeding program that will return them the greatest net profit. They are not a part of the political show in which farmers are yanked around at the end of puppet strings manipulated by Washington. They would rather take their chances with barns filled with feed that can be freely fed than to depend upon dole money in a bank.

Thrift is practiced in many forms on these farms. At Yorkville today, for instance, modern labor saving machinery is being used in the fields and around the farmyard to hustle along the picking and cribbing of 400 acres of corn before the crop is damaged by winter snows and rains.

The back breaking job of scooping corn by hand has been done away with on the Yorkville farm, where a tractor harnessed to a set of wheels, cogs and chains elevates corn with ease into the tallest cribs. This not only saves backs but saves hours of labor where a big crop is to be harvested. With every man at his post the operations in the field and at the cribs are synchronized so that little or no time or feed is lost. Here is an object lesson for the careless farmer who wastes feed and then must turn to others for help.

Operations are so skilfully managed that a group of eight men are now feeding more than 400 head of cattle and are able to pick and crib at least 16 acres of high yielding corn daily.

For the benefit of farmers and others who follow the cattle feeding routine at the Yorkville place, Clarence Thurow, farm manager, briefly outlines below the feeds given daily to the four groups of animals, identified by the number in each group.

The 144 steers are now getting 14 pounds each of crushed corn—7 pounds at 6:30 a. m. and 7 pounds at 5:30 p. m. daily. They also receive daily a maximum of 5 pounds each of alfalfa hay and timothy hay per steer. Until recently they were fed soy bean hay.

The group of 160 steers is receiving 20 pounds of silage per animal each day. Recently they were taken out of a clover field and are now running in a freshly picked corn field. Mr. Thurow expects to reduce the amount of silage given the steers while they are cleaning up stalks and ears of corn left by the pickers.

Beginning this week the 80 steers on feed in a dry lot will be given a daily ration made up of silage, 20 pounds; crushed corn, 5 pounds, and alfalfa hay, 5 pounds for each steer.

The herd of 42 steers is running in fields of alfalfa and clover during the day and in a bluegrass pasture at night. No other feed is given. So far Mr. Thurow has been able to prevent bloat among the steers by allowing them to run in alfalfa and clover fields between 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. As an extra precaution the steers are not allowed to drink water for some time after they are brought in from the legume fields.

DILLINGER JUDGE ASSAILS M'NUTT PRISON CHARGE

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—The judge who sentenced John Dillinger to the Indiana reformatory for 10 to 25 years on a holdup charge today assailed Gov. Paul V. McNutt for "twisting facts" in describing the sentence of the slain gunman as "an obvious injustice."

J. W. Williams, former judge of the Circuit court of Morgan county, yesterday made public three letters exchanged with the governor in March, 1934, following a speech by McNutt at the American Prison association congress at Atlanta, Ga. The governor described the case as "a classic example of poor treatment of parole cases."

Returning to the statehouse here this afternoon, McNutt said "All that I have said about the Dillinger case I reiterate; it is all true."

LEGION COMMANDER SCORES HORSEPLAY IN CONVENTION PARADES

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Department commanders of the American Legion in session here today heard their national commander, J. Ray Murphy, Ida Grove, Ia., make a plea that henceforth legion parades, held in connection with the veterans' national conventions, be dignified and "in accord with the ideals of our organization."

He admonished particularly the scantily clad marchers in the national convention parades. He said that in the past "there have been those who were all too scantily clad in suggestive feminine attire. "I don't want to come to you as a prude or scold, but I think we all agree that our Legion parades should be pageants of patriotism; should be dignified and completely in accordance with the ideals of our organization."

DOUGLAS COUNTY FARMER BREAKS HUSKING RECORD

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—George Christman, 27 year old Douglas county farmer, husked his way to the corn husking title of Douglas county today by banking 37.39 bushels of corn in 80 minutes. Available data here gives the national record as 36.914 bushels set by Carl Seiler of Knox county in 1932.

Man Orders a Gay Party on Day He Is Buried

SHALLOW LAKE, Ont., Oct. 29.—(AP)—William L. Currie, a man in the best of health, arranged today for a dance in his honor the day he is buried. He deposited $2 with the Eastnor township municipal board, asking that it be banked until the day of his funeral and then used toward the rent of a hall for a night of dancing and merrymaking. The board granted the request.

SCIENTISTS LIVE 15 DAYS ON TALLOW; LOSE BOAT, DATA

HONOLULU, Oct. 29.—(AP)—A fifteen day diet of tallow candle drippings and loss of their 40-foot boat along with valuable scientific data has failed to discourage two French scientists, Capt. Eric Bisschop and Joseph Tatibouet.

The two, both members of the French Geographical society, said today they would attempt to outfit a new expedition for South sea exploration.

Their junk rigged vessel went aground and sank Saturday night in the Kalaupapa surf. Aboard was data they had collected over a period of two years. Bisschop's greatest loss was a two volume geographical manuscript. For two weeks before the wreck they were becalmed, and were forced to eat tallow candles when their food supply gave out.

NOTED KLONDIKE SOURDOUGH DIES; RICHES VANISHED

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 29.—(AP)—John Swanson, 65, who made a fabulous fortune in the Klondike, died here today in poverty.

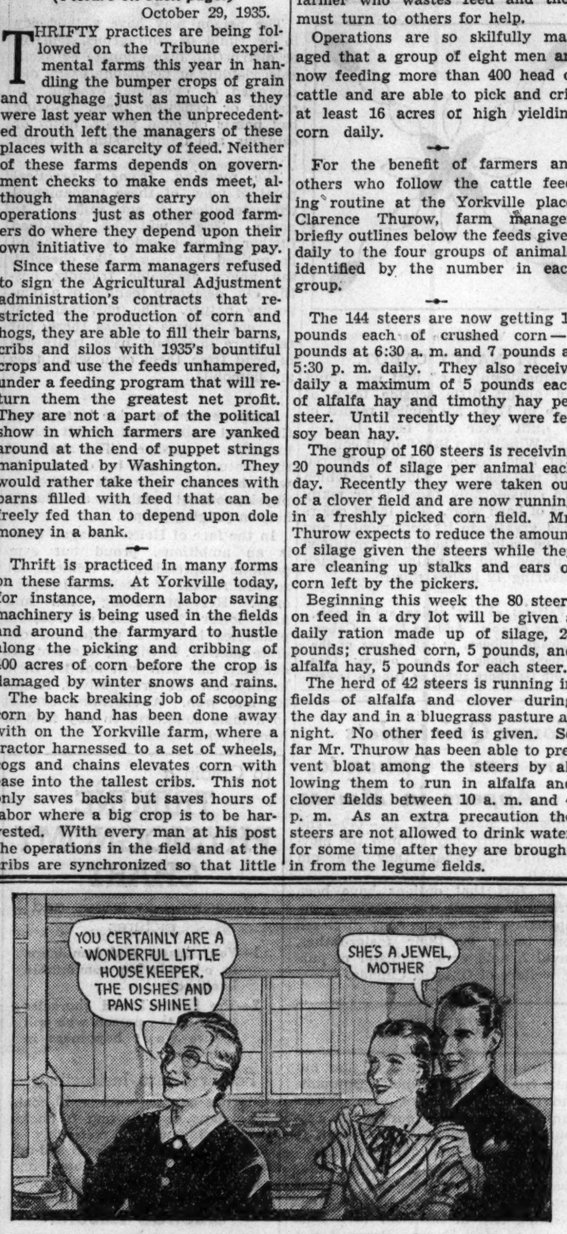

"Old Itchfoot," as Swanson was known in Alaska's roaring nineties, once hit a rich mother lode that netted him $15,000 a day in gold. Like hundreds of other sourdoughs, he poured thousands upon thousands over the gaming tables of Dawson, Fairbanks and Nome.

He was found dead in the lodging where the county paid his rent.

Near his bed was a canvas packet of yellowed newspaper clipping that disclosed the Odyssey of his lifelong search for gold.

They told of Swanson's comradeship with Rex Beach and the late Jack London.

Swanson portrayed the rôle of the "Old Swede" for M-G-M in the picture, "The Trail of '98."

AUTO CRASH COSTS CARDINALS TWO PLAYERS

MIKEL SUES FIVE TURF OFFICIALS IN MY BANE CASE

Seeks $250,000 for Slander.

BY FRENCH LANE.

A suit asking $250,000 damages for malicious slander was filed in Superior court yesterday by Jay D. Mikel, farmer and breeder of thoroughbred horses from Carlock, Ill., against three stewards and two veterinarians of the Lincoln Fields Jocky club.

PETER B. CAREY.

The bill was filed by Attorney Charles J. Michal who represented the turfman. Those named as defendants were Christopher J. FitzGerald, C. Bruce Head, and Charles F. Price, stewards, and George McKillip and Nelson E. Southard, veterinarians.

Charges no Hearing.

Mikel declares in his suit that he was ruled off the turf for life by the Lincoln Fields officials without a hearing or notice of the complaint, which he later learned was the entering of the horse My Bane as a 2 year old maiden on Aug. 15, when the defendants are alleged to have declared the horse was a 3 year old.

In his declaration Mikel contends that his business investment of $100,000 in race horses and breeding stock had been damaged as a result of the ruling of the Lincoln Fields racing.

The Mikel case has been one of the sensations of this year's racing in Chicago.

Shortly after the horse My Bane ran in a 2 year old maiden race on Aug. 15 an order was issued by the stewards, signed by Fitz Gerald, Price, and Head. It ruled Mikel off the turf for life. They charged that My Bane was a 3 year old.

Mikel Gets Injunction.

A few days later Mikel went into the court of Superior Judge Peter H. Schwaba and was granted a temporary injunction against the race track officials. For a week Mikel trained and raced his horses under the protection of the order.

The injunction was dissolved when the Illinois racing commission agreed to review the case.

After a lengthy hearing the commission ruled last week by a vote of 2 to 1 to uphold the ruling of the Lincoln Fields stewards. Peter B. Carey, chairman of the racing commission, cast the dissenting vote. Leo Spitz and Walter Peacock, the two members of the commission, upheld the track officials.

During the hearing, which was a long drawn out affair, numerous veterinarians testified after examining the colt that My Bane was a 2 year old. Others gave as their expert opinion after examining his teeth and mouth that he was a 3 year old.

Rule on Six Points.

When the racing commission made its final ruling, the ruling to which Chairman Carey dissented, it announced that Mikel had been ruled off on the following points:

"1. That My Bane was a colt born in the year 1932 out of the dam Birdie L.

"2. That Birdie L. was crippled in 1933 and without foal at side.

"3. That the colt My Bane was broken as a yearling in 1933.

"4. That the colt My Bane was gelded in the year 1933 and that no notice thereof was given to the jocky club.

"5. That the horse My Bane was 3 years old on Aug. 15, 1935.

"6. That the registration certificate of the jocky club of the horse My Bane was issued upon false representation of the date of birth contained in the application for registration made by J. D. Mikel on the 9th day of October in 1933."

The case will be one of the few ever to go into the courts in which proof of a horse's age was at stake.

HUTSON LEADS PROS IN SCORING, PASS RECEIVING

New York, Oct. 29.—(AP)—The feat of catching five passes and scoring two touchdowns in the game with the Chicago Bears last Sunday set Don Hutson, former Alabama ace now playing end for the Green Bay Packers, to the front in the National Professional Football league as the leading scorer and the best pass receiver.

The two touchdowns boosted Hutson's total points for the season, his first in the pro circuit, to 36 while the snaring of five passes from Arnold Herber gave him a record of 15 caught for a total gain of 337 yards. Ernie Caddel of the Detroit Lions, and Dale Burnett of the New York Giants, have scored 30 points each, one more than Ralph Kercheval of the Brooklyn Dodgers, who jumped from ninth to fourth place.

THE GUMPS—WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN

Talking It Over

BY ARCH WARD.

[Copyright: 1935: By The Chicago Tribune.]

TWO Cub heroes of the world series won $4,200 between them at Sportsman's Park race track before leaving for their winter homes. . . . Coach Frank Murray of Marquette missed his first fall football practice in 16 years Monday on account of a heavy cold. . . . Bill Spaulding's undefeated U. C. L. A. varsity roster numbers only 35 players. . . . The only member of Ohio State's squad who isn't a resident of the state is Nicholas Wasylik, a quarter back from Astoria, Long Island. . . . Baseball writers in the east are of the opinion that Connie Mack already has come to an agreement with the Boston Red Sox over the sale of some of his stars and that formal announcement will be made soon. . . . There is a possibility that the Yankees will get into the transaction to make it a three cornered affair. . . . Brick Owens, American league umpire, will spend the winter selling can beer for a Milwaukee brewery. . . . Omar Fareed, Persian boy from Glendale, Cal., who was co-star with Jay Berwanger in Chicago's victory over Wisconsin, was not a surprise star so far as Coach Clark Shaughnessy was concerned. . . . The Maroon coach had had him under wraps for just the rôle he played Saturday. . . .

Jumping Joe Williams, Ohio State's sensational half back, in appearance resembles his Irish mother. . . . His father is Welsh. . . . Williams, whose flying feet are relied upon by the Buckeyes to dazzle Notre Dame Saturday, is a devout Catholic. . . . His football idols are Chic Harley and Red Grange. . . . Joe has only one heart throb. . . . She is Lucille Paridon, an attractive Barberton, O., girl who is a freshman at Ohio State. . . . She was his high school sweetheart. . . . Always anxious to be helpful, this department would like to point out to Gov. Davey of Ohio that Williams is unemployed. . . . The Illinois football squad consumes approximately three gallons of orange juice after each practice. . . . The horse, Captain Argo, which Joe E. Brown claimed in the east last summer at a cost of $5,500, has died. . . . It won one race at Narragansett, worth $4,430, in the movie actor's colors, so Brown's venture into racing wasn't an entire monetary loss. . . .

Mary Kirk Brown, Max Baer's former sweetie, is going to Hollywood soon to emote for Twentieth Century-Fox. . . . California Saturday ruined Howard Jones' record at Southern California of never having lost three games in a row. . . . Bart Macomber, former Illinois half back, now sells a nationally known brew on the Pacific coast. . . . Al Simmons, a Green Bay rooter, attended the Bears' game at Wrigley field Sunday. . . . He says he is going into training at Hot Springs the day after Thanksgiving. . . . Of the 20 Michigan football players chosen by Walter Camp and Grantland Rice on their All-America teams only two have been picked more than once. . . . They are Willie Heston, selected in 1903 and 1904, and Bernie Oosterbaan in 1925, 1926 and 1927. . . . Fielding Yost calls Oosterbaan the perfect end of all time. . . . Bob Zuppke says he wouldn't trade his center, El Sayre, Waukegan boy, for any pivot man in the country. . . . Sayre weighs only about 170 pounds and as a high school senior was advised by a prominent university coach to enroll in a small college as he was too small to make the grade in the Big Ten. . . .

Francis Wallace's football serial, now running in a national magazine, starts off well, but the illustrator makes a dressing room scene look like a convention of men from the collar ads by having them all wear nifty suspenders. . . . Who ever heard of a middle western team, at least, wearing suspenders? . . . Reino Nori, quarter back and co-captain of De Kalb Teachers football team, has won letters in five major sports. . . . At the end of this year he will have won 17 major awards. . . . Jimmy Foxx is still a young man, but already has entered the ten year class as a major leaguer.

Ten Years Ago Today—A crowd of 80,000 was expected to watch the Army battle Yale at New Haven. . . . The Navy arrived in Ann Arbor to play Michigan before 47,000. . . . Freddie Spencer and Bobby Walthour were leading the six day bike race on points. . . . Georges Carpentier and Jimmy Delaney were matched to box ten rounds on the coast. . . . Red Grange and the Illini arrived in Philadelphia and worked out in snow.

Italo-Ethiopian War Note: Georgetti Will Ride Here

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Six day bike fans who have been worrying themselves sick about a rumor that Franco Georgetti had gone to Ethiopia and consequently wouldn't ride in the race which is to start at Chicago Stadium Nov. 10, can rest peacefully for Franco has allayed his belligerence, at least until he can finish the race.

Of course there had been similar rumors about Zeke Bonura, White Sox first baseman, and other sports figures, but Georgetti fans had placed credence in his statements that he would throw away his bike and get a sun helmet and musket to fight for his native Italy. It seems that Georgetti has been decorated by King Emanuel of Italy and is Mussolini's favorite bicycle rider, so Franco naturally has wanted to do the right thing.

Mr. Mendel to the Rescue.

The terrible anxiety about Georgetti, was relieved yesterday by Harry Mendel, cycling impresario, who rushed here from Newark, N. J., to issue a bulletin. Here is the bulletin:

"Franco Georgetti positively will ride in the 34th Chicago six day bike race, unless Mussolini cables for him. My agents in Italy have assured me that Muss. will lay off at least until the race is over."

Georgetti has given Mr. Mendel no end of anxiety, at that. He told Mr. Mendel: "I am the greatest cyclist in the world and can rise to no new heights on a bicycle. But as a fighter for Il Duce, ah——!"

Mr. Mendel has been so put out about the stir over Georgetti's patriotism that he hasn't got around to the pairings for the big spectacle at the Stadium. It has leaked out, however, that Georgetti will team up with Al Letourner, with whom he won the Stadium race last March. And that wasn't all that leaked out yesterday. Torchy Peden and Jules Audy, the physical contrasts from Canada, will ride together. There had been rumors about them, too. Something about a personal feud. Gerard Debaets who won the last three races he rode here, with Letourner, but who didn't ride in the spring race, will be hooked up with Bobby Thomas of Kenosha.

No Rest for These Lads.

Eighteen of the riders who will ride in the Chicago race will ride in a race at Cleveland, starting next Saturday night. The riders will wind up that race the following Friday, will fly to Chicago where they will ride around the boulevards Saturday and Sunday and at 9 o'clock Sunday night will start the Chicago race.

There will be six new riders in the Chicago race. Gustave Killian and Otto Vopel of Germany; Martin Journey, Nutley, N. J.; Franz Alexander, Belgium; Bobby Echevaria, San Jose, Cal., and Mike De Fillipo, Newark.

OMAHA'S OWNER TO BE HONORED AT TURF BANQUET

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Silas H. Strawn, prominent Chicago attorney, will be the principal speaker at a dinner in honor of William Woodward, New York banker and turfman, which will be given by the Thoroughbred Club of America on Nov. 14. The dinner annually is given to honor a turfman who has made an outstanding contribution to racing during the year. Woodward is the owner of Omaha, winner of the Kentucky Derby, Preakness, and Arlington classic this season.

OHIO STATE JUST ANOTHER TEAM TO NOTRE DAME

Boys Determined to Win, but Aren't Excited.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Notre Dame, Ind., Oct. 29.—Notre Dame's undefeated football team doesn't seem to realize it will be playing the most important game in the country when it faces Ohio State Saturday afternoon at Columbus. This is the impression gathered after watching the practice this afternoon at old Cartier field.

Notre Dame has won five games. It has written finis to the three year supremacy of Pittsburgh's mighty men. Last Saturday, the Irish turned the red stop signal on the midshipmen of the navy, who for two years had beaten them. Notre Dame, admittedly, has been so intent on these exceptionally important conquests that the boys have not had time to think of Ohio State.

Buckeyes Point for Game.

On the other side of the page, Ohio State, undefeated, victor over Northwestern and Indiana in a march toward a share of the Western conference championship, has pointed for Notre Dame since the beginning of the season. The Buckeyes have thought of this clash since the game was scheduled. But Notre Dame, this afternoon, apparently had not begun to think of those Ohio boys who have definite conference and national aspirations.

This attitude on the part of the squad must not be construed as indifference. The Notre Dame boys have had such a glorious time winning Saturday after Saturday that they haven't settled down to their immediate task. The coaching staf, and certainly Elmer Layden, head man of the group which has rejuvenated the Irish spirit, appreciates the importance of this week's assignment. This afternoon, in dummy scrimmage, Layden and his associates attempted to impress the Notre Dame players.

Defensive Scrimmage Today.

Tomorrow afternoon, the real work day of the week, Layden will order defensive scrimmage against Ohio plays before finishing with a review of Notre Dame's attack. By then, perhaps, Notre Dame's valiants will realize that on Saturday, before a throng of 90,000, the question of a national championship may be decided.

It is not our purpose to underestimate Notre Dame's desire to win from Ohio State. So far, however, the battle has been considered, if considered at all, in the abstract. Ohio State is the sixth opp[illegible] of the year. Pitt and Navy p[illegible]ed; Northwestern, Army, and S[illegible]ern California follow.

Little Bit of Everythi[illegible]

This afternoon's drill was [illegible]mbracing. There were many lon[illegible]spiraling punts. The passers tossed the ball down the field in short and long throws. Here and there centers, with their backfields, practiced fundamental Notre Dame plays. Then came the call to center field for make believe scrimmage. For the first time the varsity saw Ohio State's plays worked out in person. Before that, for two days, they only had seen them diagrammed on the blackboard.

Layden naturally is pessimistic; in fact, he is a bit grouchy. The strain of a succession of major battles is telling on him. He doesn't see how Notre Dame can cope with Ohio State's backfield strength. Such ball carriers as Heekin and Williams have him worried. Knowing the weaknesses of his own eleven, he does not see the opponents' weaknesses, or if he does realize those possibilities, he is unwilling to say that by them Notre Dame will triumph.

They'll Block and Tackle.

Layden today was noncommittal. His best effort for the press was a statement that "I never have seen a team that couldn't be beaten by good blocking and tackling. We will try to have our team block and tackle Saturday."

Ohio State has been well scouted, but the scouts have reported that the possibilities of the many Buckeye

WHY WILDCATS ARE SCENTING VICTORY

The sophomore forward passing combination of John Kovatch (left) and Don Heap are counted on to bring Northwestern victory over Illinois Saturday at Dyche stadium. Heap, who throws the passes, also is a capable punter.

JACOBS SIGNS UP LOUIS, ROSS FOR WINTER FIGHTS

Activity in Chicago boxing circles increased its tempo yesterday with the arrival from New York of Mike Jacobs, who promotes under the title of the Twentieth Century Sporting club.

Jacobs, who has leased the Yankee stadium, the Polo grounds, and Madison Square Garden in New York and the Madison Square Garden bowl in Miami for bouts this year and next, got a haircut and shave and then engaged in a series of conferences, the last of which ended about midnight. The developments were:

No. 1—Joe Louis, 1934 CHICAGO TRIBUNE Golden Gloves champion, now leading contender for the world's heavyweight crown, is likely to box Abe Feldman, Patsy Perroni, or Charley Retzlaff at Chicago Stadium in January, a match which would be his first at the west side building since he placed his title campaign under the direction of Jacobs last spring. Joe's appearance would be presented under the joint promotion of Jacobs and the Stadium.

Ross to Fight at Miami.

No. 2—Barney Ross agreed to defend his welterweight crown under the auspices of Jacobs at Miami in February. [Ross will make his next start at Philadelphia against Jimmy Smith, the date tentatively set for Nov. 18. He also may fight Ceferino Garcia in a return bout at the Stadium the last week in November or the first week in December.]

No. 3.—Louis probably will fight Isidoro Gastanaga at Havana, Cuba, Christmas week, after he engages Paulino Uzcudun at New York Dec. 13. Max Schmeling also is being lined up for a contest against Joe in March. It is unlikely that James J. Braddock, heavyweight champion, and Louis will meet in a title bout until the fall of 1936. If and when the encounter is arranged it may not be held in New York. Promoter Jacobs, who has Louis under contract until 1940, said the New York boxing commission is "tightening up" on rules and regulations, an attitude that might force the encounter to Chicago or Detroit.

Arrange Barnstorming Tour.

No. 4.—A barnstorming tour has been arranged for Louis as follows: Tonight, Louisville, Ky.; Oct. 31, St. Louis, Mo.; Nov. 4, Joliet, Ill.; Nov. 6, Zanesville, O.; Nov. 11, Montreal, Que.; Nov. 12, Ottawa, Ont.; Nov. 13, Toronto; Nov. 18, Waterbury, Conn.; Nov. 19, Providence, R. I.; Nov. 20, Portland, Me.; Nov. 21, Holyoke, Mass., and Nov. 22, Augusta, Me.

Promoter Jacobs and his secretary, Mushky Jackson, and Julian Black, representative of Louis, will head for St. Louis late today to attend the light heavyweight title bout between Champion Bob Olin and John Henry Lewis tomorrow night. They will be joined there by Louis and his other manager, John Roxborough, who will go from West Baden, Ind., to Louisville. Louis will referee a series of amateur bouts there. He also is booked to serve in an official capacity at St. Louis.

Northwestern Seeks Defense Against Illini Passing Game

Means of stopping Illinois' passing plays occupied the attention of Northwestern's football team yesterday as preparations got under way for Saturday's homecoming game with the Illini at Dyche stadium.

A freshman team drilled in the intricate Illinois passing maneuvers filled the air with footballs during a long scrimmage against the varsity. The regulars were run fairly dizzy in an effort to break up the barrage of passes that was hurled against them.

Respect Illini Running Game.

While possessing the utmost respect for the Illini aerial attack, the Wildcats are not prone to underestimate the Orange and Blue running game led by the fleet Les Lindberg. Lindberg contributed to the Purple's downfall last year with a number of long runs.

Northwestern will contrive to combat Illinois' superiority through the air with a running game which to date has accumulated much yardage against such rugged opponents as Purdue, Ohio State, and Minnesota.

N. U. Passing Improves.

Three half backs have carried the brunt of the Purple attack to date. They are Don Heap, a sophomore, and Wally Cruice and Bob Swisher, both veterans. The Wildcats are well fortified at full back with a pair of sturdy line plungers in Hugh Duvall and Fred Vanzo.

The success of its running game has not caused the Purple to neglect the forward pass. After below average performance in early season games the Wildcats unleashed a strong overhead game against Minnesota last week which resulted in completing five out of nine passes for a gain of 138 yards.

Barring injuries in practice this week the Purple will probably start the same lineup Saturday that faced the Gophers last week. The back field consisted of Bob Swisher and Wally Cruice, half backs; Steve Toth, quarter, and Hugh Duvall, full back. The line was composed of John Kovatch and Henry Longfellow, ends; Park Wray and Vange Burnett, tackles; Steve Reid and Paul Tangora, guards, and Al Lind, center.

ILLINI SHIFTS BACKS.

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Jewett Cole replaced Lowell Spurgeon at left half back today as the Illini buckled down to the task of preparing for the game at Northwestern Saturday.

Spurgeon is in condition, but Coach Bob Zuppke decided a layoff would benefit him after his strenuous game against Iowa. The coaches continued to juggle the ends, using Cantwell and Nelson on the first team with Dykstra and Bennis on the second.

The first and second elevens went against the "B" team in the first part of practice. Then the varsity players defended themselves against the freshmen using Wildcat plays.

GARDEN GIVES UP SUIT TO PREVENT OLIN-LEWIS BOUT

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Madison Square Garden of New York today withdrew an injunction suit it filed last week against the light heavyweight title fight between Champion Bob Olin and John Henry Lewis, Arizona colored challenger, here Thursday night.

Jimmy Johnston, acting for Madison Square Garden, met with parties of the suit in court chambers today and agreed to abandon his petition provided the Garden would be given first call on the services of the winner for a fight in New York against any opponent the Garden might name.

TIPTON SUFFERS ARM FRACTURE; PANGLE BRUISED

Both Out of Detroit Game Sunday.

Howard Tipton, regular guard, and Harold Pangle, reserve half back of the Chicago Cardinals football team, present leaders in the National league championship race, were injured in an automobile accident near Gary, Ind., late Monday night it became known yesterday.

Tipton suffered a fracture of the left arm and severe bruises and lacerations, which will prevent him from rejoining the squad for five weeks. Pangle, who was driving, was knocked unconscious and suffered severe head lacerations and a badly bruised left leg. Dr. W. C. Meacham, the Cardinals' club physician, took the players to the Garfield Park hospital yesterday, where Tipton's arm was placed in a cast and he was released.

Pangle was ordered retained at the hospital. He is definitly out of Sunday's game with Detroit, but physicians hope to get him in condition to play by the following week.

Car Skids Against Bridge.

The players were driving a new car back from New York, where on Sunday they participated in the Cardinals' 14 to 13 victory over the champion Giants. At Merrillville, Ind., near Gary, their car skidded on the pavement made slick by a shower and crashed into a bridge. Tipton was asleep when the accident occurred. They had left New York at 9 o'clock Sunday night. The car was wrecked.

Tipton, a former University of Southern California guard, playing his third season with the Cardinals, was one of the main factors in the Chicago team's drive to the league lead. His defensive play this season has gained him the reputation of being one of the professionals' greatest guards. He is 24 years old and his home is in Los Angeles.

Pangle a Newcomer.

Pangle, a triple threat back, was signed by the Cardinals last spring after his graduation from Oregon State university, where he was a polo and baseball star as well as the chief ball carrier on the football team for three years. He had been alternating with Al Nichelini in the Cardinal backfield this year and has participated in the team's five games to date. He is 23 years old and comes from Casta Mega, Cal.

The loss of Tipton is a severe blow to the Cardinals, who relied heavily on the veteran to stop Detroit's famed running attack as executed by Ace Gutowsky, crashing full back; Dutch Clark, fleet quarter back, and Ernie Caddel, one of the fastest half backs in the league.

Detroit managed to tie the Cardinals, 10 to 10, in their first meeting, but has exhibited improvement since that game. The Lions will come to Chicago Sunday with three days' rest following their league game with Boston at Detroit tonight.

Pupils Demand Less Study, More Football

Gloucester, N. J., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Gloucester high school students went on strike today for shorter hours to give the football players more time for practice in the afternoon. They want classes dismissed at 2:30 p. m., instead of 3:30 p. m., a change which would necessitate shortening each class 10 minutes.

The strike began this morning when about 75 students, including the entire football squad, walked out of their first class. Attendance records this afternoon showed nearly half of the 1,050 students did not attend school.

Picketing continued outside the building during the day despite occasional heavy showers and the intervention of a few parents who sent their children to classes.

School officials warned that if the strike did not end the whole football squad would be declared ineligible for the game with Pitman high Saturday. Coach Carlos D. Paisley attempted to induce the strikers to return.

Charles T. Hassard, superintendent of schools, explained at a conference with a student committee that the school hours were fixed by the school board, which would have to take any further action.

Seven policemen on duty in fro[illegible] of the school made no attempt break up the parade of pickets.

Jocky Peters Falls from Horse; Breaks Collarbo[illegible]

Laurel, Mr., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Jocky Maurice Peters suffered a broken collarbone when he fell fro[illegible] his mount, Canteret, during the running of the first race at the Laurel race track this afternoon. Peters, who rode 221 winners in 1934, was taken to the South Baltimore General hospital.

OUR PATTY WINS 2 YEAR OLD TITLE AT SPORTSMAN'S

Rushes Up in Stretch to Score Easy Triumph.

Put a ring around Our Patty's name. She's the champion 2 year old of the Sportsman's Park racing season. The daughter of Brown Bud-Perjury proved it in the Will Rogers Memorial handicap yesterday afternoon.

The race was at 6½ furlongs and it engaged most of the 2 year olds that have been able to win a race over the half mile course this season. After she started to move up at the head of the stretch Our Patty left no doubt as to the ultimate result.

She had been running in fourth place until the struggle in the stretch started. She conquered Honored Sir first and went up into third place. French Boy was the next victim of her fine speed, and he dropped back out of the money.

Building Trades Disqualified.

Our Patty was in second place by this time and only Building Trades separated her from the lead. In a dozen strides she conquered that fellow and sailed on to her easy triumph.

Building Trades, which finished second, was disqualified because he had interfered with Honored Sir while he was trying to save ground entering the stretch. This action of the stewards moved Honored Sir into second place and Bombastic into the show end of the money.

Our Patty has been racing around Chicago all season. This was the third victory she has been able to score. Her time of 1:25 3-5 wasn't anything to brag about, but perhaps she won on her class.

Plunge on Lovely Spy.

One of the biggest plunges of the Sportsman's Park season was made on Lovely Spy in this race. Soon after the start Jocky George Green's feet slipped out of the stirrups, and Lovely Spy never was a contender from that time until the finish.

Our Patty had been overlooked by most of the speculators. She paid $20 for a $2 ticket. Jocky W. Lang rode her to victory.

Ohio Threat Can't Excite Notre Dame

formations have not been shown in action.

Ohio has flashed a double wing back formation, single wing back, a short punt formation, and several forward pass plays that have upset the defensive plans of Kentucky, Northwestern and Indiana. To make these strategems succeed, Ohio has a line which from end to end will average approximately 205 pounds, or about 15 pounds more than the Irish line. Is it any surprise, then, that Joe Boland, Notre Dame line coach, is as concerned over the outcome as Head Coach Layden?

HAVEN'T SEEN ANYTHING YET

Columbus, O., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Ohio State's football opponents and fans who have followed the Buckeyes through four straight victories this season haven't seen anything yet.

Preparing his players for the greatest test of the season — the battle with Notre Dame here Saturday before a crowd that may exceed 90,000—Coach Francis Schmidt locked the gates of the practice field and proceeded to acquaint the team with a brand new offense, devised particularly to confound and conquer the Irish.

Police Chase Watchers.

University police drove away hundreds of fans who came out to watch the practice. A few newspaper men, sworn to secrecy, were allowed inside the field.

Ohio State's brilliant attack, with plays run from so many formations that Notre Dame scouts have gone back to South Bend dizzy from drawing diagrams, will be even more spectacular Saturday. Plays which haven't been as much as whispered about were rehersed today, and they were clicking, too. And the names of players used to carry them out might surprise several members of the Notre Dame coaching staf.

Combined with the work on the new offense was defensive practice against Notre Dame passing plays. The Irish aerial attack played a big part in the victory over Navy last Saturday.

MacDonald at Full Back.

Jim MacDonald was given a long workout at full back in place of Antenucci, while Boucher and Beltz took up most of the time at one half back, and Heekin and Jumping Joe Williams appeared at the other.

Notre Dame holds a 4 to 0 edge over Ohio State in football, according to the record books, which show the Irish victors over Ohio Medical university, now a part of Ohio State, in 1901, 1902, 1903, and 1904. The scores were 6 to 0, 6 to 5, 35 to 0, and 17 to 5.

Arlington Downs Daily Double Pays Record $1,274

Arlington Downs, Tex., Oct. 29.—(AP)—The record daily double at Arlington Downs track—$1,274.40 on a $2 ticket—was marked up today when Witch Lore, a 49 to 1 shot, and Baby Sweep, on the board at 8 to 1, won their races. Witch Lore took the second race, paying $98.60 on a straight ticket, while Baby Sweep won the third, paying $16.10.

PINE FIGHT WINNER.

Akron, O., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Lloyd Pine, 122, of Akron, won a decision from Bill Landers, 117, of Brooklyn, Va., tonight, in a 10 round boxing match.

Time: :25, :50 4-5, 1:18 2-5, 1:25 3-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Onwentsia, $40.80 straight, $17.00 place, $11.40 show; Dorothy W., $6.00 place, $4.20 show; Old Dominion, $17.20 show. Winner trained by E. C. Dobson. Went to post at 2:02. At post 3 minutes. Start good from Bahr gate. Won ridden out, place driving.

ONWENTSIA, suddenly improved, and displaying improved speed, took command after the start, continued under steadying reserve and won under mild pressure. DOROTHY W., a strong factor throughout, offered good contention, but was no match for the winner. OLD DOMINION, giving a vastly improved effort, moved to the leaders approaching the stretch but faltered when placed to punishment.

SECOND RACE. Six and one-half furlongs. Purse $600. Net value to winner, $475; second, $75; third, $30; fourth, $20.

†Sent out in overnight entries with apprentice allowance, which was in error. Time: :24 4-5, :50, 1:17 2-5, 1:24 4-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Levi Cooke, $6.60 straight, $3.60 place, $3.20 show; Papyrograph, $3.60 place, $3.00 show; Light Nun, $6.00 show. Winner trained by S. Guarneri. Went to post at 2:32. At post 1 minute. Start good from Bahr gate. Won ridden out, place driving.

LEVI COOKE displayed good speed from the start, took command early, set the pace under steadying reserve, and held sway to the end. PAPYROGRAPH improved his position gradually, was forced to lose ground while moving up, offered a bold bid, but was not good enough. LIGHT NUN, kept in the contention under hustling tactics, and held on gamely in the drive.

THIRD RACE. Five furlongs, chute. Purse $700. Net value to winner, $550; second, $90; third, $40; fourth, $20. [Daily double, 2d and 3d races, paid $65.60].

Time: :23, :48 2-5, 1:02 2-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Double Nugget, $16.80 straight, $10.00 place, $7.00 show; Service Man, $5.80 place, $5.00 show; Rickey Roo, $6.00 show. Winner trained by J. M. Hubbard. Went to post at 3:01. At post ½ minute. Start good from Bahr gate. Won driving, place same.

DOUBLE NUGGET, cleverly handeled, was hustled to contention early, taken up sharply entering the first turn to avoid being carried wide, wore down SERVICE MAN gradually and won under punishment. Latter began quickly, and lucky to avoid interference, attained a commanding lead entering the backstretch, but weakened badly when placed to severe pressure. RICKEY ROO, forced extremely wide at the first turn, recovered gradually, came to the inside when gaining, and might have been best.

FOURTH RACE. Five furlongs, chute. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $625; second, $100; third, $50; fourth, $25.

Time: :23 3-5, :48 1-5, 1:01 4-5. [Track fast]. Two dollar mutuels paid: Fair Time, $9:80 straight, $5.00 place, $3.80 show; Jockana, $4.00 place, $3.60 show; Bald Crest, $4.80 show. Winner trained by owner. Went to post at 3:27. Off at once. Start good from Bahr gate. Won easily, place driivng.

FAIR TIME, kept well up under mild pressure, responded gamely to punishment, overhauled JOCKANA in the stretch, then drew out to win with something left. Latter took command early, set the pace under clever rating, drew away leaving the backstretch, but weakened in the final stages, and was no match for the winner. BALD CREST went well under a hustling ride.

FIFTH RACE. Six and one-half furlongs. Purse $900. Net value to winner, $700; second, $125; third, $50; fourth, $25.

†Disqualified. Time: :24 4-5, :50 2-5, 1:18 1-5, 1:25 3-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Our Patty, $20.00 straight, $10.40 place, $7.60 show; Honored Sir, $8.20 place, $6.20 show; Bombastic, $13.00 show. Winner trained by B. E. Jones. Went to post at 3:54. At post 3½ minutes. Start good, from Bahr gate. Won driving, place same.

OUR PATTY bettered her position gradually, responded gamely to strong riding, wore down the leaders and won drawing clear. BUILDING TRADES, a strong factor from the start, disposed of FRENCH BOY, bore over on HONORED SIR entering the stretch for which he was disqualified. Latter, a strong contender throughout, was going strong when forced to take up sharply, and might have been best. BOMBASTIC, away slowly, closed an immense gap. FRENCH BOY weakened.

SIXTH RACE. One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse $700. Net value to winner, $550; second, $90; third, $40; fourth, $20.

Time: :25 2-5, :51, 1:17 4-5, 1:45 2-5, 1:52 1-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Pent House, $10.00 straight, $4.50 place, $3.20 show; Wild West, $3.60 place, $2.80 show; Black Flash, $4.60 show. Winner trained by J. Graham. Went to post at 4:24. At post 1½ minutes. Start good. Won driving, place same.

PENT HOUSE, taken to the lead early and cleverly rated while setting the pace, stood a long drive gamely and outfinished WILD WEST under a powerful ride. Latter, a strong factor from the start, offered stubborn contention and was overhauling the winner. BLACK FLASH improved her position gradually, closed gamely but was no menace for the first two.

SEVENTH RACE. One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse $700. Net value to winner, $550; second, $90; third, $40; fourth, $20.

Time: :25 1-5, :50 2-5, 1:16 2-5, 1:44 3-5, 1:51 2-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Mt. Washington, $7.40 straight, $5.20 place, $4.60 show; Donate, $13.40 place, $7.60 show; Nasslyn, $6.80 show. Winner trained by D. Sodders. Went to post at 4:51. At post 1 minute. Start good. Won easily, place driving.

MT. WASHINGTON had the most speed, took command early, continued in front and was never seriously threatened winning with speed in reserve. DONATE kept well up under occasional pressure but was no match for the winner. NASSLYN, outrun for three-quarters, gained steadily thereafter and was up in the final strides for third.

CARDS AND YANKS SHARE $59,604 AS SERIES CUT

Sixty-two checks worth a total of $59,604.04 were on their way via the mails yesterday to members of the New York Yankees and St. Louis Cardinals in payment for their 1935 world series cut as runners-up of their respective league pennant races.

Each full share for the Cardinals was $1,149.09, as against $1,026.38 for each full Yankee share.

The Cardinals divided their cut into 24 full shares, three halves and three more purses totaling $500 to clubhouse boys and assistants. The Yankees cut their pool into 27 full shares, three half shares and divided $550 among two helpers. The Yankee half share receivers were Don Heffner, Johnny Ryan, and Fred Logan.

RACE TODAY TO DECIDE SPLITUP IN IRISH SWEEP

Ticket Holders to Divide $6,000,000.

NEWMARKET, England, Oct. 29.—(AP)—With R. B. Strassburger's Boethius the only American owned horse in the field, upwards of 40 thoroughbreds are expected to start tomorrow in the classic Cambridgeshire stake.

The owner of the horse in front at the end of one and one-eighth miles will receive only the major share of the $5,000 added purse, but to the holders of tickets on the victor in the Irish Hospital sweepstakes will come close to $150,000 each. Altogether the division of more than $6,000,000 hinges on the outcome of the race.

Pegasus Is Choice.

J. P. Hornung's Pegasus, lightly weighted with 99 pounds, was the pre-race choice at 10 to 1 in a wide open betting affair with plenty of support for at least a score of the entries. O. V. Watney's Wynchwood Abbot, the 1934 winner assigned the top weight of 133 pounds, was rated no better than 22 to 1.

Boethius, considered a dangerous contender by many experts, was quoted at 18 to 1 with Lady Ralli's Finalist and Law Court held at 100 to 9, British Quota at 18 to 1, O'Grady, 20 to 1, and Negundo and Minico, 22 to 1.

Here's Likely Field.

The probable starters are:

Wynchwood Abbot, Hairan, William of Valence, Caymanas, Almond Hill, Valerius, The Blue Boy, Iron Grey, Boethius, Negundo, Pepino, Finalist, Law Court, Commander 3d, Guinea Gap, Plymouth Sound, Highlander, British Quota, Monico, Heavyweight, Trigoverde, Solarium, Rodeo II., Gunboat, O'Grady, Faites Vos Jeux, Gamesmaster, Pegasus, Inflation, Papyrette, Game Chicken, Sans Pride, Joshua, Laureat II., Moldore, Fartuch, Lordling, Flake, Sammy, Sunny Sailor and Man's Pal.

PURDUE PREPARES FOR MINNESOTA POWER DRIVES

Boilermakers Hold Long Defensive Scrimmage.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—The team spirit that carried Purdue to successive victories over Northwestern, Fordham, and Chicago was in evidence here this afternoon as the Boilermakers, aroused by their upset at the hands of Carnegie Tech, drove through an intensive defensive scrimmage session in preparation for the game with Minnesota's undefeated Gophers Saturday.

Working against a carefully drilled freshman eleven that did its best to imitate the power drives of Roscoe and Biese and the elusiveness of Thompson, Gopher backs, the Purdue forward wall, which has yet to yield a touchdown on a running play this season, showed all of its early spirit, and the coaching staf was as much pleased with the mental rebound of the squad as the improvement in performance.

Wright Will Be Ready.

Charles [Tony] Wright, veteran back who distinguished himself against Fordham and was held on the bench during the Carnegie game due to injuries, is expected to be able to take his place alongside Tom McGannon, John Drake, and Cecil Isbell as a potential scoring threat.

The Boilermaker drill will be virtually completed tomorrow afternoon with an offensive workout in which Coach Noble Kizer plans to polish off the speed attack, although there will be a light curtailed drill Thursday afternoon before entraining for Minneapolis.

GOPHERS HAVE NEW FIRE.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—It was with renewed spirit that Minnesota went back to work today in preparation for the Purdue game Saturday. A day off yesterday and the fact that they came out of the Northwestern game in excellent shape seemed to brace the players' confidence.

Tuffy Thompson, in particular, was full of fire. He has been promoted to regular left half back as a reward for his fine work against Northwestern. George Roscoe continued at right half back in the new order which was welded in the heat of Saturday's game.

Coach Bernie Bierman pointed out today Purdue is the only foe that Minnesota has not beaten during his time at his alma mater. Purdue won one game and one ended in a tie.

BADGERS SHIFT LINEUP.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—After a day's rest, Coach Spears sent the Badgers through a light scrimmage this afternoon with several changes in the varsity lineup because of injuries. Emmett Mortell, Bobby Neubauer, and Lynn Jordan were given a chance at left half back, where Johnny Wilson operated effectively in the Chicago game. Wilson suffered a shoulder injury and may be lost for three weks.

IOWA TESTS OFFENSE.

Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Coach Ossie Solem terminated the two day vacation for University of Iowa football players today as he sent two teams through a long scrimmage. Blocking drill for linemen and forward passing for backs preceded the work against freshman teams.

In the brief offensive drill the varsity made good headway on power plays through the line and had fair success in completing forward passes. Crayne, Simmons, and Lamb shared the throwing.

Bowlin Takes Rest.

Coach Solem withheld Bob Lannon from contact work to protect his leg injury, although the first string end was in good condition. Gordon Matson, veteran, and Wayne Mason, sophomore, alternated at the end job.

Dick Bowlin, sophomore quarterback, was in uniform but did not participate in regular drill. Dr. William Hayne, team physician, said Bowlin would be kept out of practice all week because of an injured foot but with good luck should be able to play Saturday.

HOOSIERS PRACTICE TACKLING.

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—After giving the Indiana university football players some instructions that may help them stop Oze Simmons, Iowa's shifty half back, Coach Bo McMillin sent them through a strenuous tackling practice today. The tackling dummies were used.

Jimmie Clark, colored freshman, again played the rôle of the elusive Simmons in a brief scrimmage against the varsity.

Whether Corby Davis, full back, who was hurt in the Buckeye game, and Donald Heistand, who was injured two weeks ago, will be ready for the battle at Iowa City remained in doubt today.

Don Hall of Fort Wayne, sophomore tackle, suffered a dislocation of the right shoulder joint in practice this afternoon. He will be unable to play the rest of the season.

MICHIGAN BOLSTERS LINE.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—On the theory that all the strength that can be massed in the line will be necessary to stop Pennsylvania here Saturday afternoon, Coach Harry Kipke started rebuilding the Michigan wall this afternoon.

To ease the tackle situation, complicated first by the injury to Bud Hanshue and later by the leg hurt that has limited John Viergever to only a few minutes in each game, Kipke put big Tiny Wright at left tackle and placed Joe Rinaldi, a sophomore, at center. Viergever was in uniform, but did not get into the workout.

Pennsylvania will concentrate on running the Wolverine tackles Saturday, Kipke figures, and replacements two or three deep will be necessary before the afternoon is over.

MOON MULLINS—NO NOSEGAY

Bear Quarter Backs O. K. with Halas

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

The Chicago Bears are satisfied with their quarter backs and there will be no change in personnel or assignments, Coach George Halas announced yesterday. Criticism of the tactics used in Sunday's game, which the Bears lost, 17 to 14, to Green Bay in the last three minutes, Halas added, is unjustified.

"Bernie Masterson and Bob Dunlap are good quarter backs," he said. "They have directed us to a total gain of 1,856 yards in five games, more than any other team in the league, including those who have played six games to our five, and they have led us to 100 points, an average of 20 per game, making us second in total points in the league.

There'll Be No Change.

"There will be no change. I am pleased with the way they have improved. I am unable to see how their conduct in Sunday's game can be construed as being amateurish or inefficient.'

Halas pointed out that Masterson, serving his first year as a regular, and Dunlap, playing his first season of professional football, are better quarter backs in his opinion than Carl Brumbaugh was his first two years.

"Brumbaugh, of course, was the smartest quarter back in the league," Halas contirued. "But it took him four years to learn our system and properly size up the league. The Bears' quarter backs have the toughest job in the world, and that includes the president. We have more than 300 plays and even I, who should be their severest critic, do not expect them to master such an offense in a few weeks or months."

Discuss Criticism of Bernie.

Halas then went into a discussion of the three points on which Masterson has been most severely criticized since Sunday's game.

"Bernie has been berated for throwing the flat pass on the six yard line with second down, which Bruder intercepted. No one has called the Packer quarter back a dummy for doing the same thing in the last minute of the game. The situations were identical. Green Bay scored the deciding touchdown on its pass. If it was good football for them, how can you call it stupidity on Masterson's part?

"Masterson also has been criticized for throwing three passes in a row and then kicking on fourth down from the Packers' 45 yard line. We had marched 19 yards through the line and the two up men in the secondary crowded in, giving the Packers almost an eight man line. Throwing of the passes was intended to drive them back, so our running game could function. I would not advise Masterson, or Dunlap, either, to throw three in a row again, but the purpose of the maneuver was sound and practical. Two of these passes just missed being completed by the length of the receiver's fingers, anyway, and completion of either one would have placed Masterson's judgment beyond reproach.

Fumble Just Bad Break.

"The last criticism against Masterson," Halas concluded, "evolves about his fumble on the first play after the kickoff following Don Huston's first touchdown. It was said by many second guessers that he erred in going on the defensive instead of calling our strongest running plays to use up as much of the remaining time as possible. As a matter of fact, Masterson called Johnny Sisk over center. This was one of our strongest plays, so strong that Sisk went 55 yards on it two minutes before to score our last touchdown. It was just unfortunate that we had to fumble there. The choice of play, however, was good."

Halas said his statement was not intended as a rebuke to fans who were sufficiently interested in the Bears to take them to task, but merely an attempt to clear up some of the points which Monday morning quarter backs apparently had overlooked.

THREE GIANTS HURT.

New York, Oct. 29.—[Special.]—The New York Giants will face the Bears of Chicago here Sunday with three key men likely to remain on the bench. Ken Strong's shoulder injury in last Sunday's clash with the Cardinals is not as serious as it appeared, but a muscle is torn and Ken will be restricted to kicking, if he gets in the game at all.

Strong, however, is better off than the other injured players. Red Badgro, veteran end, suffered an ankle injury in the Boston game and is still hobbling on crutches. The showing made by young Tod Goodwin, who subbed for Red against the Cards, was so impressive that Coach Steve Owen is not too depressed.

Dale Burnett, however, is still on the ailing list with a pair of cracked ribs. His absence slows the attack of the Giants and blasts the Danowski to Burnett passing combination.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

HOPES OF LOSERS.

THE WAKE always has been interested in the point of view of followers and members of losing football squads. We had opportunity to observe this point of view at close range at Bloomington, Ind., last week-end.

Now Indiana is not a hopeless, nor even a poor, football team. It is better than its record so far this season, as some later opponents no doubt will learn. Like Northwestern, Chicago, Wisconsin—all stronger than last season—Indiana finds Big Ten rivals also stronger than in 1934. Indiana has had bad breaks, even in the Ohio State contest, although the Buckeyes obviously were superior. Surely, some time, these breaks will average in its favor.

Opposing its reputedly most formidable conference foe, Indiana previously had lost to Michigan, which did not win a conference game last fall, and Cincinnati, and had beaten Centre. Nothing very impressive about that. Buckeye betters offered even money Indiana would not score or even money spotting twenty-one points. Nearly every outsider expected a slaughter of the innocents.

Under such conditions one might expect a defeatist attitude on the part of homecoming Hoosiers. Instead, a student pep session and bonfire one night and a powwow dinner with nearly 1,300 present the night before the game. It reminded of those loyal, hopeful Purdue gatherings on the night before Chicago games back in the days when "Stagg feared Purdue" before the turn of Boilermaker fortunes.

It would be too much to say Coach Bo McMillin and his players were confident they would win. But they thought they had a great chance to win. Morale was high. Townspeople and alumni were not quite so enthusiastic but were hopeful. The occasion was one of the finest exhibitions of college loyalty we have observed under discouraging circumstances.

As every one knows, Indiana held its Goliath almost even in the first half and suffered in the second from forward pass attempts to score again. Meeting Capt. Reed Kelso after the game, we vouchsafed: "Pretty well satisfied with that showing, aren't you?"

"No, we were a little disappointed," he replied. "We had hoped to win or keep a close score. Ohio is a good eleven. We'll be up and after the others, though."

We asked Coach McMillin, serving the second year of a five year contract, of Indiana's future in football. Hesitating before replying, he said: "We'll probably never have here as much material as several of our rivals. Indiana has been down so long players do not gravitate here naturally, except from our immediate vicinity, and not all of those players. If I'm retained here over a period of years some of our players will go out as high school coaches and will try to send their graduated pupils to their alma mater. That's how material often is secured. Alumni also can help. Alumni help is not as active when you're down.

"I had expected more Texas boys on the squad. I played prep football in Fort Worth. There are great prep players in Texas. Perhaps in time we'll get some of them like Purdue and other northern schools do.

"We have a young squad which should be better next year. We're in about the same shape as Iowa a year ago on that basis. There are six boys of varsity caliber among the freshmen. That's not so many and one never knows about freshmen remaining eligible, but it would be a help.

"Take our games against Michigan and Cincinnati. We gained more than 300 yards each game and didn't score. That's unusual. Mistakes and breaks were against us. We have earnest, hard working boys. Their team spirit is superlative. Of course I'm an optimist by nature. A football player on a losing team or coach of a losing team has to be an optimist at heart. But outside of that I can see a future for Indiana in conference football over a period of years. One time perennial leaders are finding competition harder each year. Indiana intends and expects to play its part in that keener competition."

Heil Returns to Leo for St. Rita Game

Leo's prospects of remaining unbeaten in the Catholic High School league and defeating St. Rita in the Loretto benefit game at Soldiers' field Sunday were enhanced yesterday when it was announced Art Heil, star full back, had recovered from an injury and would start.

Heil suffered a broken wrist in the opening game with St. George and has been unable to play since. Leo's back field will be rounded out by Hal Bowen, triple threat star; Gene Cramer, and Larry Clark.

While Leo apparently has the edge in man power, weight, and comparison of season's records, St. Rita is conceded an even chance of beating its neighborhood rival.

Ray Rolewicz, second string right half back on the Leo team and star of the charity game played last Sunday, when Leo defeated St. Philip, 32 to 0, is in a serious condition at St. Bernard hospital as a result of internal injuries.

An emergency operation was performed late Sunday evening. He complained of dizzy spells when the team was returning in the school bus, and an examination revealed that he was hurt internally.

The second half of the Public High School Soccer league round robin series will open tomorrow afternoon with two games. Tilden meets Crane Tech, defending champion, at Douglas park, and Harrison plays Schurz at Kilburne park.

Two double-headers are scheduled for Saturday in the City league. Sullivan meets Lake View at 1 o'clock, and Senn plays Roosevelt at 3 at Lane field. Foreman faces McKinley and Marshall engages Kelvyn Park at Spencer Coals park. The Foreman-McKinley game is scheduled for 12:30.

Calumet, drawing a bye in the south section of the City league, will go to Culver [Ind.] Military academy Saturday afternoon.

Maine and Riverside in the West Suburban league, and Hyde Park in the central section in the City league have only had their goal line crossed once in four games. Maine meets West Chicago, Riverside plays Hinsdale, and Hyde Park opposes Lindblom in games Saturday.

Frank McElligott, former Marquette university football and basketball player, has been appointed basketball ccach at Loyola academy. He replaces Dick Butzen, who resigned to accept a position as freshman coach at Loyola university.

Preparations are being made to accommodate a crowd of 75,000 at Soldiers' field Nov. 30 when the Chicago Public High School league football champion meets the title holder of the Catholic league, Mayor Kelly, chairman of Chicago's Own Christmas Benefit Fund, announced yesterday. Fifty thousand watched Lindblom defeat Leo, 6-0, last year.

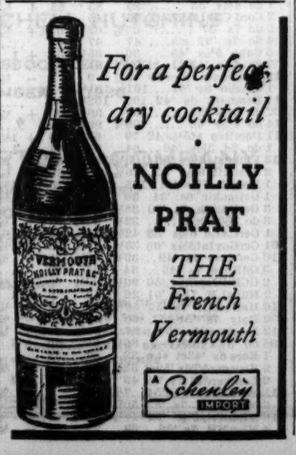

CALIFORNIA BODY UPHOLDS BAN ON KEARNS, 4 MORE

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Jack Kearns, former manager of Jack Dempsey, remained under temporary suspension tonight along with four others after a California athletic commission hearing at which charges of a deal for a boxer to "lay down" were heard and denied.

Terris Hill, Los Angeles colored heavyweight, charged in testimony that his manager, Jimmy Murray, advanced him $25 to lose a scheduled bout with Hank Bath, Fort Morgan, Colo., and that Murray and Kearns, manager of Bath, conferred at the weighing-in ceremony. All denied Hill's charges.

Hill admitted he was drunk when Dr. Lloyd Mace, commission physician, examined him and refused him permission to enter the ring. Bath's sparring partner, Ralph Norwood, appeared in Hill's place and was knocked out.

Those under temporary suspension are Kearns, Bath, Norwood, Hill, and Murray.

Cue Experts Warm Up for Title Tourney

The nation's leading billiard artists already are on the scene preparing for the world's three cushion tournament, which will open in the Bal Tabarin of the Hotel Sherman Nov. 6 and continue until Nov. 19.

Johnny Layton, the former Sedalia, Mo., carpenter, who will defend his championship, and Augie Kieckhefer, the Chicago southpaw, are at work at Kieckhefer's Recreation.

Kieckhefer won the third block of his match with Layton yesterday, 50 to 37, in 53 innings, but the champion came back last night to beat Augie, 60 to 50, in 52 innings. Kieckhefer now is leading, 200 to 189, in 213 innings with four blocks to go.

Allen Hall, another Chicago representative in the meet, and Ralph Greenleaf, New York, will begin preparations tomorrow, when they open a 350 point match at Bensinger's, 131 South Wabash avenue. Blocks of 50 points will be played each afternoon and evening until Sunday night, when the final block will be played.

Jay Bozeman, Vallejo, Cal., and Tiff Denton, Kansas City, are playing exhibitions in the Missouri city and are expected to arrive this week-end. Welker Cochran, 18.2 balkline champion, is en route to Chicago from the Pacific coast, while Otto Reiselt of Philadelphia will not arrive until Sunday.

Willie Hoppe, former champion, who established a new record last week, left last night for New York to see his mother, who is seriously ill. He is expected to return Saturday. Other contestants in the world tournament are Arthur Thurnblad, Chicago, and Kinrey Matsuyama, Japan.

Walter Brodie, Former Oriole Outfielder, Dies

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Walter Scott Brodie, famous center fielder who played with the Baltimore Orioles in the old National league, died today from a heart ailment. Brodie, who played with John J. McGraw, Uncle Wilbert Robinson, and Hughey Jennings, was 63 years old. He is survived by his widow, a daughter and a son.

De Paul in Hard Drill for Game with Catholic U.

De Paul's Blue Demons were sent through a spirited drill yesterday for their homecoming game with the undefeated Catholic university Cardinals of Washington, D. C., Saturday at Soldiers' field.

The rout of Western State Saturday seemed to have instilled a winning complex into the Northsiders, and Coach Jim Kelly is having a hard time to slow them up and save their energy for Saturday's game.

According to information from the east Catholic U. has one of the outstanding teams of the country. The Cardinals have had only fourteen points scored on them all season and they have counted sixty-seven points against La Salle, Duquesne, Detroit, and St. Mary's of Texas.

In 1934 Duquesne beat Catholic 14 to 0, and La Salle held the Cardinals to a 6 to 6 tie. Against these same two teams this year Catholic has counted forty-seven points to seven for the opposition.

Even with Catholic's impressive record, the Demons are entering the clash with hopes of a victory. The team points to its great stand against Northwestern and its succeeding record of two victories and a tie.

After yesterday's practice Kelly intimated that he would cut the time of practice as a safety measure against injuries.

HARRIERS RACE IN 5TH LOYOLA MEET SATURDAY

Midwestern university and college cross country teams will be brought ogether Saturday afternoon when the fifth annual Loyola university invitational meet is run over the three and five-eighths mile course on the Lake Shore campus.

Milwaukee State Teachers college, which shared the title with Michigan State Normal college last year, the University of Illinois, Illinois State Normal college, and the University of Notre Dame are strong contenders. Illinois Normal won the first two meets, while the Illini harriers took the 1933 race.

1,200 See C. Y. O. Fighters Open with 30 Bouts

Opening matches in the fifth annual Catholic Youth Organization boxing tournament were held last night at Loyola university gym before 1,200. Thirty bouts among class B entrants were run off. A similar number is scheduled for tonight.

Competition last night was restricted to boys in the 126, 135, and 147 pound classes. Tonight contestants in other weights will be seen in action.

Hundreds of parishioners from St. Andrew's parish, which sponsored last night's program, turned out to cheer vociferously for their favorites. Tonight St. Margaret Mary's parish will act as sponsor.

One of the most impressive victories on last night's card was scored by Benny Gray, welterweight title contender from St. Alphonsus parish, who defeated Robert Vanderstratten, St. Mary of the Lake, in three rounds.

Both Madison Square and Trafton's gymnasiums were beehives of activity yesterday. Large groups of athletes worked out at each gym, some for matches at Merry Gardens, Sheffield and Belmont avenues, and the Arena at 3741 West North avenue, tonight, and some for bouts at White City Friday, Milwaukee and Janesville Monday and Chicago Stadium Nov. 8. Still others trained for pending encounters.

The show at Merry Gardens—a wrestling program containing five bouts—will feature a 90 minute struggle involving Bert Rubi of Detroit and Zack Malkov, Chicago, at the light heavyweight poundage. Babe Kasaboski will meet Jim Landis, John Silvy is paired with Roy Beacon, Bill Kief will clash with Paul Miller, and Jim Jaros will wrestle Gerard Lauth.

Russell Nyeberg and Leo Pilla, amateur welterweight stars, will meet in a five round windup at the arena. Another match at five rounds will bring together Verne Patterson and Chuck de Franko at 130. Supplementary contests:

Charles Wozniak vs. Chet Levere, 175.
Frank Klotz vs. Howard Miller, 148.
Honey Melody vs. Gus Poulis, 138.
Joe Hackett vs. Emil Schiarato, 118.
Ralph Wahardo vs. Charles Patterson, 126.
Ed Rite vs. Virgil McKeevis, 147.

Ernie Kulasik, 21 year old north side welterweight; Bob Tinsley, 20 years of age, west side lightweight; George Dixon II., 21, south side junior lightweight; Sam de Pasquale, west side featherweight, Willie Fitzgerald Jr., California middleweight, and Bill Treest, Batavia, Ill., light heavyweight, worked out at Madison Square gymnasium.

Gene Stanley, Detroit middleweight; Ernie Kirchner, 152 pounder who now calls Chicago his home; Al Lewis, Seattle, Wash., welterweight: Phil McQuillen, south side 147 pounder; Barney Ross, welterweight champion; Bobby Pacho, Los Angeles, Cal., junior welterweight; Davey Day, west side lightweight, Alberto Arizmendi, Los Angeles; Oscar Rankin, Pacific coast middleweight, and George Nelson, Chicago welterweight, prepped at Trafton's gymnasium.

Stanley and Kirchner meet in the eight round main bout at White City Friday. Supporting matches involve Lewis and McQuillen, Dixon and George Riley, Tinsley and Orville Drouillard, Kulasik and Ed Duarry. Tinsley also boxes Bus Breese at Marigold Gardens Monday in a match on the program topped by Willie Davies and Geno Salvatore.

Bobby Pacho is booked to clash with Wesley Ramey at Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 8, for the second time in recent weeks. Ramey was victorious in their previous meeting. On the same night Day and Arizmendi will meet at Chicago Stadium. Treest expects to box Fanis Tzantopoulos on the same card.

Football Toll for Six Weeks Ahead of 1934

New York, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Football has taken a greater toll of lives in the first six weeks of this season than during the corresponding period a year ago, it was revealed today in a survey prepared by Floyd H. Eastwood, a New York university instructor in education.

Although complete data is lacking in some instances, Eastwood, who compiles injury and fatality statistics for the American Football Coaches' association and the National Collegiate A. A., said there have been eighteen deaths attributable to football and five that cannot be charged directly to the game.

15 Died in 1934.

A year ago through Oct. 29, Eastwood declared, ten deaths had occurred directly from football and five indirectly. Reports on a number of deaths still are outstanding, he said, and when they are received some of them may be classified among the "indirect" fatalities.

Classifying the victims, eleven were high school players; three, sand lot players; two, collegians, and two, members of athletic club teams. Among the victims whose death were not directly attributable to football, four were high school players and one a sand lot player.

Data compiled by Eastwood indicated plainly that many deaths resulted from injuries received when players made tackles. Most of these occurred in high school games. Two players died when they were tackled hard and suffered internal injuries and another when he was at the bottom of a pile.

Sees Drop in Toll.

Although this year's toll for the first six weeks is well ahead of last year's, when the total for the season was 25, Eastwood said he anticipates a sharp falling off of deaths during the remainder of the season. It will surprise him, he said, if the 1935 total exceeds last year's.

Here is a record of deaths attributable to football:

Sand Lot—Robert Mansfield, Oakland, Cal., cerebral hemorrhage; Harold Roach, Canisteo, N. Y., cerebral hemorrhage; Elmer Bland, Indianapolis, pneumonia after receiving broken leg.

Athletic Club Teams—Miller Hunter, Honolulu, cerebral hemorrhage; Walter Hartigan, Barnum Pond, N. Y., cerebral hemorrhage.

High School—John Farra, Hagerstown, Md., fractured vertebrae; Jack Fenwick, Wellesley, Mass., internal hemorrhage; Horace D. Weaver, Tavaries, Fla., punctured lung; Joseph Callahan, Bridgeport, Conn., internal injuries; John Ochoa, Anaheim, Cal., concussion; John McKee, Kansas City, broken vertebrae; Paul Lewellen, Uniontown, Pa., cerebral hemorrhage Cyril Wilt, Pontiac, Mich., cerebral hemorrhage; John W. Christian, Moberly, Mo., cerebral meningitis; Muryl Hollers, Chesapeake, O., internal injuries; Peter Zamaitas, Alliance, O., internal injuries.

College—Jack Hartsock, Ohio Wesleyan university, fractured vertebrae; Walter M. Back, University of Oregon, infection developed after aggravation of old leg injury.

Collides with Pole.

The Mansfield boy, who was 14 years old, received a fractured skull when his head struck a telegraph pole as he tried to catch a pass in a game of touch football. Roach was playing the same type of game when he was fatally injured.

Among the deaths not charged directly to football was the case of Francis A. Rohmer Jr. of Newton, Mass. He was shocked to death by an electric pad which was being applied to a bruised thigh. After going through calisthenic exercises with other members of the squad, Andrew Crespino of New Orleans dropped dead when he reached down to unlace a shoe.

WORLD RACQUETS TITLE HOLDER TO BE BURIED TODAY

Charles Williams Serves Club Here 11 Years.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock today for Charles Williams, world's undefeated professional racquets champion, who died Sunday after a week's illness from bronchial pneumonia. The services will be held from the residence at 5524 Lakewood avenue. Interment will be in Rosehill cemetery.

Williams had held the world's championship since 1929, when he defeated Jack Soutar of Philadelphia, 7 games to 3. Since 1924 he had been professional at the Chicago Racquets club. In addition to his world's championship he held the championship of Great Britain in court tennis as well as racquets.

Wins World Title in 1917.

He won his first championship at the age of 19. In 1911 he won the world's title for the first time, defeating Jamsetji. He came from England on the Titanic in 1912 to meet Soutar in his first challenge match. On the night of April 12 he lingered in the ship's café to chat with an English bartender. They felt a slight shudder, but were not alarmed and did not know for nearly an hour that the liner had rammed an iceberg and was sinking.

Williams was in the water eight hours before he was finally picked up by a German ship and brought to New York. He was taken to the home of Harry Payne Whitney, where he developed pneumonia as an aftermath of exposure and shock. He was advised against meeting Soutar until he had had more time to recover from his experience and illness, but refused to return to England until he had given the Philadelphian a chance at the title. Soutar won six games to four.

Returns to U. S. in 1922.

He went back to his native England immediately after this match. The journey home he frequently described as the most terrifying experience of his life. He refused to go down in the hold of the ship and spent the entire trip on the top deck, curled up in a blanket.

Williams next appeared in the United States in 1922 to play a series of matches, including one with Harry Boakes Jr., at the University club. Boakes is the racquets professional at the University club. On this trip he made the acquaintance of members of the newly organized Chicago Racquets club and after returning to England accepted an offer to become professional for the club. He returned to the United States to take up his duties in 1924 and has resided in the city ever since.

Williams was 47 years old. He is survived by the widow, Mrs. Lois Williams, also a native of England, and six children, Eugene, John, Ninian, Dorothy, Jean and Hilda.

NEW YORK HOLDS INVESTIGATION OF RACING RACKETS

New York, Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Attorney General John J. Bennett Jr. reluctantly admitted today that his office had been engaged for the last few months in uncovering alleged rackets in connection with race track activities in Saratoga and other counties. More than 1,200 witnesses have been quizzed, he said, and several phases of the matter have been presented to a Saratoga county grand jury.

Bennett declined to indicate what type of racketeering is under investigation, but from other sources it was learned that the attorney general's assistants are looking into fake race tips, an annual source of large incomes for those who deal in them.

Municipal Issue Offered.

A Chicago banking group headed by John Nuveen & Co. is offering today an issue of $400,000 Lake county, Indiana, 2¾ per cent and 2½ per cent bonds, maturing from 1936 to 1940, at prices to yield from .50 to 2.25 per cent.

An issue of $7,300,000 Blackstone Valley Gas and Electric company mortgage and collateral bonds, series C, 4 per cent bonds, is being offered by an underwriting group headed by Eastabrook & Co., and Stone & Webster and Blodget, Inc. Most of the proceeds will be used to pay off high rate bonds.

RFC Awards 23 Issues.

Award by the Reconstruction Finance corporation of 32 separate municipal bond issues aggregating $3,833,300 that had been pledged as security for loans from the Public Works administration was announced by Chairman Jesse H. Jones. The issues, only three of which were sold below par, brought a profit to the RFC of $173,193.

A banking group headed by Bancamerica-Blair corporation yesterday was awarded an issue of $5,500,000 City of Seattle, Wash., Municipal Light and Power 4 per cent bonds which are expected to be reoffered later this week. They consist of $4,900,000 refunding bonds to be used to redeem certain 4½ per cent and 4¾ per cent bonds callable Dec. 1, 1935, and $600,000 construction fund bonds.

West Texas Utilities.

Investors' Guide: Please give me information on the 1957 bonds of West Texas Utilities.—B. R.

Answer: West Texas Utilities company is an operating company, part of the Middle West Utilities system. It furnishes electricity, gas, water, and ice to 159 Texas communities. About 83 per cent of total revenues, however, comes from sale of electricity.

Gross for the first half of 1935 fell off to $2,073,000 from the $2,127,000 reported for the corresponding 1934 period. Lower fixed charges, operating expenses and local taxes enabled the company to cover fixed charges 1.13 times, against 1.06 times in the first half of 1934.

In all of 1934 the company earned its fixed charges 1.17 times, against 1.21 times in 1933, 1.33 times in 1932, and 1.60 times in 1931.

Current position at the close of 1934 was favorable, but the narrow margin by which fixed charges have been covered during the last couple of years places the $24,296,500 of first 5s, due 1957 [the only funded debt], in the speculative class.

American Brown Boveri.

Investors' Guide: Since I do not find the stock of American Brown Boveri [electrical manufacturers] listed, may I ask if the stock now has no value? Has the company ceased doing business?—S. R. H.

Answer: The name of American Brown Boveri Electric corporation was changed to New York Shipbuilding corporation on July 22, 1931. It is still doing business. Its stock is listed on the New York Stock exchange. On July 15, 1931, however, it sold its electrical business to Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company and is now engaged only in the manufacture of all types of naval and merchant vessels and ship turbines.

National Tea.

Investors' Guide: How do National Tea's latest sales figures compare with last year?—Z. F. E.

Answer: Sales of National Tea company for the four weeks to Oct. 5, 1935, totaled $4,666,000, down 3 per cent from sales of $4,809,000 for the corresponding 1934 period. For the forty weeks to Oct. 5, 1935, sales aggregated $46,796,000, an 0.8 per cent increase from sales of $46,438,000 for the corresponding 1934 period.

Number of stores in operation on Oct. 5, 1935, was down 1.2 per cent from the year before.

MINORITY GROUPS ASSAIL PLAN FOR MIDDLE WEST

Creditor Proposal Unfair, Court Is Told.

Charges that the proposed creditor plan for reorganization of Middle West Utilities company is unfair, in that common stockholders receive too small a share in the new company, were made yesterday by minority groups before Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson, who began final hearings on the proposal.

The court gave this case the right of way over all other matters on the docket, and will hear it alone until the record is complete. The proposal then will be taken under advisement and a ruling made as soon as possible.

Seek to Prove Huge Writeoffs.

Walter A. Shaw, special advisor for the court, was cross-examined in an effort to show that writeoffs of assets since the company fell into receivership April 15, 1932, have been too large, and that the company is worth far more than creditors assert. At one time, it was contended that not more than 80 millions of the 103 million writeoff for abandoned and obsolescent properties is a proper charge.

Samuel A. Ettelson, representing a small group of shareholders, urged the court to modify the proposed plan to give one share of new common for each 25 present common shares instead of one for 100 as now proposed.

Judge Cites Prior Claims.

Judge Wilkerson remarked that noteholders and preferred stockholders still would have claims ahead of the 118,000 common stockholders who put $158,000,000 into the Middle West bubble, even if secured creditors were to be disregarded.

The hearing will be resumed at 10:30 o'clock this morning.

MOVES IN BOND MARKET NARROW; TRADE SLACKENS

New York, Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Bonds of the lower grades did not move forward as confidently today as they had been doing for several previous days. There were some gains of a point or more, but these were the exceptions. The whole market settled down to quiet and narrow backing in either direction.

Transfers of $9,835,000, par value, marked the second day when interest fell below the recent average. Closing prices were a general mixture of small gains and losses, with possibly a slight majority in the plus column.

A slight stiffening in leading utility bonds occurred in the final hour.

United States governments followed the general pattern of corporate bonds, ten of the nineteen active issues declining from 1-32 to 5-32 and the remainder unchanged to 3-32 of a point higher.

Apathy and lack of direction applied to the foreign division also, in contrast to recent days when war news kept dollar bonds in this section to the forefront. Italian issues were ⅝ lower to ½ higher.

METALS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—(AP)—COPPER—Quiet; electrolytic spot and future, 9.25c per lb; export, 8.70@8.75. TIN—Barely steady; spot and nearby, 50.87c per lb; future, 49.00c. IRON—Quiet, unchanged. STEEL—Prices were unchanged.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Cotton gray goods were quiet today with prices generally firm. Finished goods sales continued brisk. Raw silk was off 3 cents a pound in spot market here and Japanese exchanges dropped 10 yen. Rayon yarns were strong but buyers did not appear worried over the threatened strike. Wool goods were fairly active. Burlaps were strong with spot in good demand.

EASINESS IN HOG TRADE CAUSES SLUMP IN LARD

Deferred deliveries of lard dropped sharply yesterday to a new low since early in July as the result of selling induced by the increasing receipts of hogs in the west and lower prices at the stockyards.

The close was at net losses of 10 to 15 cents. October lard finished 5 cents higher.

Cash lard closed at $14.32, loose and leaf at $14.12, and clear bellies at $18.17 per 100 pounds. Prices in dollars per 100 pounds:

NEW DEAL TAX LAW ATTACKED BY BANKERS

Assail 1935 Act as Unsound in Practice.

BY HOWARD WOOD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—For the first time at this year's convention—now in its third day—the Investment Bankers' Association of America today adopted a report containing a note of criticism of the New Deal.

ORRIN G. WOOD.

In a report on taxation presented by Orrin G. Wood, incoming president of the association, the committee on federal taxation attacked the revenue act of 1935, jammed through congress by President Roosevelt during the closing days of the last session of congress.

Another criticism of a New Deal measure was contained in an address by Eustace Seligman, of the New York law firm of Sullivan & Cromwell, public utility legal experts, who attacked the public utility act of 1935 as "unsound, uneconomic, unfair and unconstitutional." Seligman is not a member of the Investment Bankers' association.

Report Assails Tax.

"Your committee," states the report on federal taxation approved by the delegates today, "wishes to call especial attention to two phases of the revenue act of 1935. The first is the graduated corporation tax. As far as we are aware, this is a new form of tax in the history of American taxation.

"We do not oppose it because it is new, but because we believe it to be unsound in theory, and that it will prove to be so in practice. The argument for such a tax must be based on one of two theories:

"1. That because a corporation is large it has certain advantages which enable it to pay a larger tax than its smaller competitors, or—

"2. That there is something inimical to the welfare of the country in mere size.

"As to the first argument, if this is true, such advantage should be registered in the percentage of net income which a corporation makes on its assets.

"As to the theory that size in itself is inimical to the welfare of the country, we call attention to the fact that small units cannot exist in certain industries by the very nature of the business."

Large Industries Cited.

To illustrate this point the report cited the steel, automobile, public utility and railroad industries.

"Few of our large corporations are owned by a small number of large shareholders," the report continued. "In most cases they are owned by many scattered shareholders whose holdings are small.

"Stock of the larger corporations usually forms the safest investment and certainly is more readily convertible into cash in time of need. It seems to your committee, therefore, that a tax of this type will surely place on the thousands of small shareholders in this country a most unfair burden."

Declaring that "taxes, like an incurable disease, always progress," the report cites the federal income tax which began in 1913 with a modest top rate of 6 per cent, growing to 65 per cent during the war and—after a temporary recession—now reaching a top rate of 75 per cent and the estate tax now 70 per cent for the top brackets. Heavy estate taxes and levies on capital gains, it is argued, threaten to injure the initiative of private enterprise.

Balanced Budget Urged.

Calling attention to the dangers of government extravagance, the report urges that the federal government should "take immediate steps looking to the balancing of its budget by drastic cuts in its expenditures and to this end should take every step to encourage business to go forward and take into its employment those who are now dependent on the government for their support."

In his attack on the public utility act of 1935, which contains the much disputed "death sentence" for holding companies, Seligman declared that it is uneconomic because it "burns down the house in order to kill the vermin."

"It is unsound," he continued, "because it gives such unlimited power to agencies of the federal government. It is unfair in its effect on innocent investors. It is unconstitutional in its allocation to the federal government of powers belonging to the states."

Although they applauded Seligman, the convention delegates adopted a report on the public utility industry containing nothing more controversial than the observation that the constitutionality of the public utility act of 1935 had been questioned in some places.

Italy Reports Loss in Gold and Foreign Exchange

ROME, Oct. 29.—(AP)—A loss of 89,000,000 lire [$7,209,000] in gold and 34,000,000 lire [$2,754,000] in foreign exchange from Oct. 10 to 20 was disclosed today in the statement of the Bank of Italy.

A.T.&T. Tells Huge Burden of Phone Probe

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Vastness of the task involved in digging up information in connection with the federal communications commission's $750,000 investigation of the American Telephone and Telegraph company is disclosed in the November issues of Bell System magazines mailed to employés last night.

Records going back as far as 1876 are being scrutinized by the commission's corps of investigators. During August 175 employés of the parent company, the Western Electric company, and Bell Telephone Laboratories worked at full time to supply information to the investigators. This excludes employés of associated companies similarly occupied.

Requests Numerous.

"The commission has made requests for information through more than 20 general orders, 75 formal letters, and 2,200 direct requests from investigators," the articles state. "On Oct. 1 about 140 of the commission's investigators were working in Bell system offices."

The company points out that, although many of the requests for information are general, they require compilation of voluminous material.

"One request involved the production of plant, engineering, trafic and commercial circulars and letters issued by the American company and other information provided by the department of operation and engineering of that company," the articles continue. "The material furnished filled 156 volumes, of 70,000 pages.

Books Occupy 45 Feet of Space.

"A request for instructions issued to the Western Electric company required the production of 220 volumes aggregating more than 45 feet of shelf space. Another request involved making duplicate copies of more than 1,000 sheets of records.

"Twelve hand trucks of material, involving 750 volumes, are being furnished every day for current reference to investigators in the general offices of A. T. & T. company in New York."

The company says that compliance with the FCC's order No. 1, relative to tarifs, required the production of 15,000 pages; order No. 2, dealing with contracts and agreements, 25,000 pages; order No. 3, relating to intercompany relations, 6,300 pages. An order for information on services required 11,700 pages and an order calling for an outline of the company's corporate and rate history necessitated the use of 3,400 pages.

Patent Lists Voluminous.

The investigators had listed for them 9,000 patents controled by the Bell system, together with more than 6,500 patents under which the Bell system holds licenses. Providing patent information required 1,500 pages of lists and text material and more than 225 charts.

It is stated that the American Telephone in March 1935 set aside 2,280 square feet of floor space for the use of the investigators in its building at 195 Broadway, New York. However, the number of investigators had increased to an extent which required 6,000 square feet of floor space on Oct. 1. A large amount of office room is provided at the Western Electric's plant at Cicero and in offices of the company elsewhere.

The company makes no estimate of the total cost in money and effort incurred as a result of the investigation, merely saying that this "has been very large."

OIL MARKETERS FLAIL MONOPOLY AND PRICE FIXING

Monopolies and price fixing were assailed yesterday by speakers who addressed the opening sessions of the National Oil Marketers association at the Stevens hotel. About 1,000 independent jobbers of petroleum products from all parts of the country are attending the convention to discuss a number of problems, including the advisability of going along with a code of fair trade practices.

"There are two grave menaces threatening this country," State Senator Joseph A. Baldwin of Michigan told the delegates. "One may be called communism, which means collectivism. The other is monopoly.

"These menaces are widely divergent in their sources but exactly alike in the end they seek, which is the destruction of individualism. This country was founded on individualism, an institution which must be maintained."

Depositors Paid 15 Per Cent by Universal State Bank

A payment of $109,800, or 15 per cent, to depositors of the Universal State bank has been made, State Auditor Edward J. Barrett announced yesterday. This is the first return to be made since the bank closed on June 23, 1932. Payment was made from proceeds of a loan from the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

Test of Coal Control Act Begun in Court

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—(AP)—A denunciation and a defense of the constitutionally disputed Guffey coal act today opened legal proceedings toward a test of the law by the Supreme court.

Initiating the first test trial involving the infant New Deal law, counsel for the Carter Coal company's president assailed the legislation as based on a premise designed to "nationalize all industry." Administration lawyers retorted quickly that if federal courts have the power to intervene in problems of the soft coal industry after strikes have occurred, congress has the right to legislate to prevent such problems from arising.

Both sides agreed they desired to get the case before the United States Supreme court as early as possible.

Court Will Rule Today.

Justice Jesse C. Adkins of the District of Columbia Supreme court, said he would rule "some time tomorrow" on a request for a preliminary injunction to restrain the Carter Coal company from complying with the code prescribed by the act, and the government from enforcing the law's so-called "compliance tax" against the company.

The request was made by William D. Whitney of New York, counsel for James Walter Carter, the coal company's president, whose petition for a permanent injunction with the same aims is on trial. Whitney branded the act a "gigantic conspiracy in restraint of trade."

John Dickinson, assistant attorney general, opposed granting the temporary stay. He held the company would be amply protected until conclusion of the trial on the merits, since while the tax is effective Friday, first payments are not due until January.

Holds Trust Laws Violated.

Asserting the act was in violation of the anti-trust laws, Whitney termed it "an ingenius means" of getting around opinions of the Supreme court holding congress without right to fix hours and wages in industry. He said the law may introduce a change "so fundamental as to presage the end of our civilization."

Commenting on the government's argument that the mining of coal "contemplates interstate commerce" and thus makes the industry subject to congressional regulation, Whitney declared such a premise, if upheld, "would nationalize all industry."

Whitney then centered his attack on the taxes—15 per cent on the sale price of coal at the mine with a 90 per cent rebate for producers who accept the code. He predicted the levy would be "ruinous" because consumers would use competitive fuels.

Dickinson responded the tax was not to be used for the purpose of extending the powers of congress into a field of regulation not conferred by the constitution.

PENNSY TO SPEND 30 MILLIONS ON FREIGHT CARS

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 29.—(AP)—The Pennsylvania railroad announced tonight it plans to build 10,000 new freight cars and remodel 1,000 of its present freight cars, at a total cost of approximately $30,000,000.

The company said definite plans for the new equipment were being worked out and announcement would be made later as to the types of cars to be built and the places of construction.

The railroad announced, however, that part of the 10,000 new cars would be built in the company's shops at Altoona, Pa.; at Pitcairn, near Pittsburgh, and at Enola, near Harrisburg, Pa. The remainder of the cars probably will be built in "outside plants," officials said.

184 COMPANIES SHOW THIRD QUARTER INCOME 36.3% OVER YEAR AGO

New York, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Industrial earnings for the third quarter, as reported by 184 corporations, show a gain of 36.3 per cent over comparable figures a year ago. The net income of the group totaled $177,769,141 for the period, against $130,380,428.

Income for the first three quarters was 29.6 per cent ahead of 1934; a total of $508,930,628, compared with $392,814,671. An improved earnings position for the third quarter is shown by 125 companies, fifty-nine falling back. The nine-month period finds 121 gains and sixty-three declines.

Steel and building material companies display a vastly improved earning capacity, the former returning once more to the "black." Coal producers, on the other hand, slipped back into the "red" after a brief emergence last year.

The following tabulation indicates the percentage gains of the major groups, for both the three-month and nine-month period, as well as the number of reporting companies:

	No.	Third quarter.	Nine mos.
Motor accessory	17	67.4	47.2
Oils	14	48.0	44.6
Business machines	6	28.7	13.9
Chemicals	7	23.3	10.2
Mining	5	14.4	2.4
Foods	8	*14.2	*13.8

*Decline.

COURT EXPECTED TO RULE TODAY ON ROSENBAUMS

Federal Judge William H. Holly is expected to rule this morning on the sentences voted against the Rosenbaum Grain corporation and its officials by the Chicago Board of Trade. Howard Ellis, counsel for the exchange, will ask the court to vacate the existing order which restrains the board from carrying out disciplinary action against the corporation.

The restraining order has been in effect since last April, when the firm began reorganization proceedings under section 77-B of the bankruptcy act.

Attorney Ellis will submit to Judge Holly the report of directors on the charges brought against the corporation and its officials by the exchange. Exchange directors have voted to expel from membership the corporation and its president, Emanuel F. Rosenbaum, and to suspend Edwin S. Rosenbaum, vice president, for a period of five years. Charges of violation of the exchange margin rules and misrepresentation of the corporation's financial condition were upheld by directors.

Head of Columbia Pictures Receives $3,500 Per Week

New York, Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Harry Cohn, president of the Columbia Pictures corporation, receives a weekly salary of $3,500 under a three year contract dated July 1, 1934, it was disclosed today in a registration statement filed with the New York stock exchange. Jack Cohn, vice president, is paid $2,000 per week under a similar contract. Of the voting trust certificates for the company's common stock, Harry Cohn owns 43,697, or 24.85 per cent, and Jack Cohn holds 25,089, or 14.27 per cent, the statement showed.

Court Orders Packers Must Deposit Taxes

A joint order calling upon Chicago packers and other processors to deposit in their banks $4,000,000 a month pending decision as to the constitutionality of the Agricultural Adjustment act was entered yesterday by Federal Judges James H. Wilkerson and Charles E. Woodward.

The action followed suits filed by leading packing companies last summer which sought to enjoin the collection of $5,155,531 in processing taxes, then overdue. Packers held the tax was illegal. Federal Judge John P. Barnes on Aug. 1 granted the packers and others a temporary injunction restraining the collector of internal revenue from collecting processing taxes on hogs, wheat and corn.

Believes Tax Is Illegal.

Judge Barnes in granting the injunction said he believed the processing tax to be a direct violation of the fifth amendment of the constitution in that it constitutes "a deprivation of property without due process of law."

Yesterday's order affects taxes due since September. It does not include approximately $16,000,000 which accrued in previous months and which is covered by bond instead of cash deposit.

United States District Attorney Michael L. Igoe contended that even if the law is declared unconstitutional processors must first show that they carry the burden of the tax and did not pass it along to the producer or the ultimate consumer before they are entitled to the fund.

INJUNCTIONS CONTINUED.

Macon, Ga., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Federal Judge Bascom S. Beaver today refused to dismiss on government motion 120 injunctions granted to complainants in AAA processing tax suits in this state. While the judge did not sign an order, his oral decision established the right of the injunctions to exist and turned aside the motion for dismissal made on behalf of the government.

Government Plea Denied.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 29.—(AP)—The United States District court today continued in effect the temporary injunction granted last July to 10 flour milling and other manufacturing companies of Minnesota, to halt collection of federal processing taxes until constitutionality of the Agricultural Adjustment act has been decided by the Supreme court.

AWAIT RFC VIEW ON COOK COUNTY BOND REFUNDING

The Reconstruction Finance corporation's views of four proposed plans for refunding Cook county's bonded debt will be learned here in a few days, Clayton F. Smith, president of the county board, was informed yesterday when he telephoned the RFC in Washington.

The government agency holds $13,000,000 in county bonds and would figure heavily in any refunding program. A group of county officials laid the proposed plans before the RFC in Washington a week ago.

STOCKS RALLY IN FINAL HOUR; CLOSE IS MIXED

Steel Issues Feature Rush of Buying.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 29.—[Special.]—A rush of buying orders in the final hour that outdistanced the ticker tape by three minutes at one time improved stock prices today but failed to wipe the appearance of irregularity from the final table.

Turnover dropped below the two million share mark for the first time since Oct. 18, volume amounting to 1,702,850 shares. The final hour advance in steel issues saved the market from closing distinctly weaker.

Most Price Changes Narrow.

Price changes in the list were narrow with good resistance being offered to further realizing. Electric equipments, metals, and a number of utilities moved up fractions to around a point. Industrials and rails, measured by the averages, suffered slight setbacks and the motors continued to sink.

Preference shares of two companies—Colorado Fuel and Iron and Twin Cities—jumped sharply, the former climbing 4¼ and the latter 5⅞ points.

Electrical equipments were buoyant. Westinghouse rose almost 2 points, crossing 90 for the first time in over four years. General Electric was firm but Weston Electrical rose over a point.

Implement Group Declines.

J. I. Case suffered a setback after yesterday's advance and Caterpillar and International Harvester were also forced to give up fractions. Deere moved against the trend, gaining over a point.

Chemicals were inclined to sag, du Pont and Allied each giving up more than a point. Rubber and tire shares were a little low, as were the mail orders. Anaconda and Kennecott gave up fractions while the silvers gained slightly.

CHICAGO STOCKS MIXED.

Chicago stock trends were mixed yesterday, with merchandise and utility shares furnishing a good part of the strength. Twelve new highs were registered.

Butler Brothers featured the day, accounting for more than one-seventh of the volume of 73,000 shares. The issue hit a new high of 8⅛ and closed at 8, up ⅝ for the session. Marshall Field edged up to another new high of 12½. Edison rose 3 points to a new top of 97. Public Service issues gained 2 points each.

Steels were mixed, motors were fairly steady, dredging stocks did well, and packing shares showed weakness.

Chicago Stock exchange quotation ticker service is to be reëstablished today in Indianapolis in the new office of Abbott, Proctor & Paine. Service recently was restored in Minneapolis and Peoria.

U. S. DROPS PLAN TO CONDEMN LAND FOR HOUSING SITE

Following an announcement last month that the proposed $12,500,000 Blackhawk federal housing project was to be junked, motions to dismiss pending condemnation proceedings against the land once sought will be made this morning in the United States District court by Frederick Z. Marx, special attorney of the department of justice. The Blackhawk project originally called for 98 acres bounded by Blackhawk, Ogden, Division, Sedgwick, Sigel and Hudson.

Marx also will file a motion to dismiss condemnation proceedings against most of the 160 acre project on the west side which was to have cost $12,500,000. This has been reduced to 6½ acres to be used by the proposed Jane Addams Houses. The Diversey housing project, at Diversey parkway and the river, will take the place of the Blackhawk venture.

Hearing on condemnation proceedings for the South Park Gardens, a housing project for Negro families, between 37th and 39th streets, South Parkway and Cottage Grove avenue, is set for Nov. 1. Chester A. Inman, district manager of the housing division of the Public Works administration, has announced the intention of the government to proceed with this case.

Call Loan Rate to Be Raised by N. Y. Banks

New York, Oct. 29.—[Special.]—The expected move on the part of the big Wall street banks to raise money market rates above their current unremunerative levels got under way today when the Manufacturers Trust company announced that it had lifted its charge for stock exchange call loans from one-quarter to three-quarters of 1 per cent.

The Guaranty Trust company announced later that it would make a similar advance in the call money rate this morning. Other institutions, without formal notice, let it be known that they would take the same step. The bankers declined to say there was an "agreement" to peg call money, but they were unanimous in expressing confidence that all important banks would ask three-quarters of 1 per cent on call loans tomorrow.

General Increase Expected.

Money brokers said all important factors in the market, including foreign bank agencies and private bankers, would follow the same course. It was agreed on all sides also that the rate of one-quarter of 1 per cent, which had been posted at the money desk of the stock exchange since the middle of last April, would give way to a higher rate.

In anticipation of the change, brokers took steps yesterday to provide for their near-by needs by borrowing time money, with the result that rates for this type of accommodation immediately advanced. In place of the flat rate of one-quarter of 1 per cent for all maturities, which had prevailed since April, rates on loans up to ninety days hardened to one-quarter bid, three-eighths of 1 per cent asked; rates on four, five and six months' loans jumped to three-eighths to 1 per cent bid, one-half of 1 per cent asked.

Invite Country Funds.

Today's preparations for raising the call money rate were foreshadowed last Friday when the New York Clearing House association voted a change in its constitution raising the minimum fee to be charged by its members to out-of-town banks for placing or servicing security loans from one-quarter to one-half of 1 per cent.

In view of the fact that the previously existing fee had been prohibitive of call loans for the account of out-of-town banks, amounting to the full return available on such loans, it had been obvious that the increase of the fee was voted in anticipation of higher call money. There was, however, nothing in the demand for or supply of call money to indicate the likelihood of an advance in the rate.

SHARP INCREASE IN PROFIT SHOWN BY BUTLER BROS.

Indicated net profit of Butler Brothers for the September quarter amounted to $411,000, compared with $144,000 in the corresponding quarter of 1934, Frank S. Cunningham, president, announced yesterday in a letter to stockholders.

The fall season is normally the company's most profitable period, as was indicated on July 26, when the company announced a net operating loss of $304,000 for the first six months of the year, plus an inventory depreciation of $200,000. Since July 1 to date, Cunningham said, the volume of business has increased approximately 4 per cent over the like period of last year, and October trade is showing a better gain.

"Prospects for the remainder of the year are encouraging," he said. "The reluctance of independent merchants to buy more than bare necessities, which was a marked feature throughout the first six months, has pretty well disappeared."

The Spiegel, May, Stern company yesterday announced that their profit in the September quarter exceeded that of a year ago, amounting to $473,501, against $429,777. This was equivalent to $1.61 a share on 253,000 shares, compared with $2.08 on 175,000 shares a year ago.

Nine months' earnings were $1,509,779, compared with $1,695,047 in the corresponding months of 1934, or equivalent to $5.18 a share on 253,000 shares, against $8.56 on 175,000 shares.

U. S. STEEL HAS SHARP EARNINGS GAIN THIS YEAR

Dividend 50 Cents; Inland Earns More.

Earnings reports for the September quarter and the first nine months of the year were released yesterday by the United States Steel corporation and the Inland Steel company.

MYRON C. TAYLOR.

At the same time the directors of U. S. Steel authorized the payment of a quoted dividend of 50 cents a share on the preferred stock, the rate that has been in effect since January, 1933.

Directors of Inland Steel declared a regular quoted dividend of 50 cents a share and an extra payment of 25 cents. The special 25 cents dividend was the second voted this year.

Earnings Above Year Ago.

A big increase in revenues was reported by U. S. Steel for the third quarter, compared with last year. Total earnings were listed at $13,469,570 after ordinary operating expenses as compared with $14,117,864 in the June quarter and $3,763,863 in the September quarter last year.

A net deficit of $1,305,205 for the quarter was shown after provision for interest, depreciation, depletion, overhead expense on iron ore and other charges. This compared with a deficit of $762,493 in the second quarter and a loss of $9,826,767 in the September quarter of 1934.

The company drew on its surplus account to the extent of $3,106,610 to meet the 50 cent dividend on the preferred stock. In the same quarter last year it had to dip into surplus for $11,628,172 to meet the payment.

Preferred $15 in Arrears.

The dividend declared yesterday is payable Nov. 29 to stockholders of record Nov. 1. With today's payment the accumulations on the stock, which is entitled to $7 a year, will amount to $15 a share.

Shipments of finished steel products for the September quarter were 1,787,224 tons against 1,768,751 tons in the preceding three months and 1,118,267 in the corresponding months last year.

Following is a statement of the income account for the third quarter together with comparisons with results for the June quarter and also for the September quarter of last year:

	Sept., 1935.	June, 1935.	Sept., 1934.
From operations	$13,469,570	$14,117,864	$*3,768,863

Operations at 37.7 Pct.

"The operations for the third quarter averaged 37.7 per cent of capacity of finished products for sale compared with 24 per cent in the corresponding quarter last year," said Myron C. Taylor, chairman. "Tonnage shipments in the third quarter exceeded the second quarter by 18,437 tons. However, in the classes of the products shipped a relatively large proportion of the third quarter shipments were of the lesser priced products than was the case in the second quarter."

Prices received during the period, Taylor said, were very close to those obtained in the preceding three months.

"At the present time," Taylor added, "operations are averaging about 42 per cent of capacity. It is believed this average will be main-

The work will consist of approximately 1,000 cubic yards of rock excavation, 6,600 cubic yards of earth excavation, and the construction of piers, abutments, and pedestals containing approximately 5,400 cubic yards of concrete and 138,000 pounds of reinforcing steel. Information on application. $2.00 charge for each set of specification drawings.

BROKERS ASSAIL RESERVE BOARD MARGIN RULES

Requirements Too Stiff, SEC Officials Told.

Chairman James M. Landis of the Securities and Exchange commission and Dr. Carl E. Parry, chief of the division of security loans of the federal reserve board, returned to Washington yesterday after listening to a cross section of opinion by leading stock exchange officials of the country in regard to their business under federal regulation.

Reactions to the present system of brokerage margin requirements set up by the reserve board were sharply critical, the brokers regarding the system as too complicated and confusing.

Study Bank Loan Rules.

Dr. Parry sounded out opinion on whether similar requirements should be set up for bank loans on securities. Although banks are not subject to such regulations, the brokers were not willing to charge that banks have taken loan business away from them. At the same time the stock exchange men blamed present margin requirements for part of the failure of margin accounts and brokers' loans to increase as trading has swelled in recent months.

Dr. Parry gave no indication as to whether the reserve board contemplates making changes in margin requirements, saying that he was here only to obtain opinions.

Want Same Dealer-Broker Status.

Opinion was generally unanimous for maintenance of status quo on dealer-broker relations. To separate functions of the two would be suicide for the smaller exchanges and would seriously handicap larger ones, it was contended.

The SEC is required to report to congress by Jan. 3 whether it thinks divorce of the two is advisable and feasible. Landis said that other meetings will be held to obtain further opinions on the matter before the commission makes its recommendation.

The meeting of the last two days was the largest gathering of leading stock exchange officials ever assembled. Included in the representation of 25 of the nation's 32 marts were 22 exchange presidents.

EGGS DECLINE ½ TO ¾ CENT; BUTTER CLOSES IRREGULAR

Liquidation was developed in egg futures on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday. Prices declined ¾ to ½ cent, December selling at a new low for the year. October closed at 23½ cents per dozen. Selling was induced by bearish statistics. The finish was at the bottom.

Butter held within narrow limits, closing ⅛ cent higher to ¼ cent lower, November at 27¼ cents per pound. Withdrawals from cold storage were below trade expectations. Sales of butter aggregated 107 cars and eggs 381 cars. Deliveries on October contracts were 54 cars. Prices:

WHEAT RALLIES ON WAR RUMORS, SHORT COVERING

Final Prices Show Gains After Early Decline.

Wheat made a weak start and a strong finish yesterday. An early decline, which carried prices off more than one cent from Monday's close, was followed by a wave of short covering induced by a revival of war talk in Europe. The close was at the top, with gains on the Chicago Board of Trade ranging from ⅝ to 1⅜ cents, while Winnipeg, which led the early decline, was nearly one cent higher.

A heavily oversold condition was displaced when the market started upward, especially at Winnipeg, where the October delivery had sold at 83⅛ cents at the low point, or 4⅜ cents under the government guaranteed figures for No. 1 northern delivered at Fort William or Vancouver. The October delivery rallied nearly 3 cents from the low level.

Price Far Below High.

Prices in the Chicago market at the low point were off 13½ cents from the recent high on the December option and at the lowest level since Sept. 16, while the July delivery was at a new low for the season.

December and May wheat sold at same price at the close, the former losing the premium of ⅝ cent which existed at the close on Monday.

Other grains reflected the action of wheat to a considerable extent except for independent weakness in December corn. The latter was affected by a drop of 3 to 6 cents per bushel in old cash corn relative to the December option, which was only ⅝ cent over the May delivery at the close compared with 1⅝ cents on Monday.

Prices for December Futures.

Closing quotations on December futures in Chicago follow:

	Yesterday.	Monday.	Week ago.
Wheat	$ .98	$ .97¼	$1.00⅞
Corn	.59⅝	.60	.60⅞
Oats	.26⅝	.26⅝	.27⅛
Rye	.49⅛	.48⅞	.49⅝

The near-record premiums for old cash corn, as compared with the December delivery, which have prevailed for some time are being rapidly wiped out as the result of the steady increase in the movement of the new crop. In the last two days the basis on old No. 2 yellow corn has declined about 10 cents per bushel relative to the December delivery.

HIDE FUTURES.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Shoe manufacturers have suggested to the government that it release some of the estimated 2,000,000 hides it owns, representing part of the accumulation due to the slaughter of drouth cattle. This had a depressing effect on futures, which declined 9 to 10 points with sales of 61 lots or 2,440,000 lbs. Closing bids in cents per pound: December, 11.66c; March, 12c; June, 12.33c; September, 12.63c.

REDEMPTION NOTICE

To the Holders of Lafayette Telephone Company First Mortgage Thirty Year Gold Bonds, Series A, dated December 15, 1927, and due December 15, 1957:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN pursuant to the provisions of ARTICLE VII of the First Mortgage and Deed of Trust dated December 15, 1927, by and between Lafayette Telephone Company, and the First Merchants National Bank of Lafayette, Trustee, that Lafayette Telephone Company has elected to redeem and pay, and does hereby call for redemption and payment on December 15, 1935, all of its outstanding First Mortgage Thirty Year Gold Bonds, Series A, issued under and secured by the said First Mortgage and Deed of Trust. The holders of said bonds so called for redemption are required to surrender the same, together with all coupons maturing on and after December 15, 1935, at the office of the First Merchants National Bank of Lafayette, in the City of Lafayette, Tippecanoe County, Indiana, on or after December 15, 1935, and receive payment of the principal amount of said bonds and accrued interest thereon to December 15, 1935, together with a premium of two per cent (2%). Interest on said bonds shall cease to accrue on December 15, 1935. Bonds which shall at the time be registered as to principal must be accompanied by duly executed assignments or transfer powers.

Dated at Lafayette, Indiana, October 11, 1935.

U. S. STEEL HAS SHARP EARNINGS GAIN THIS YEAR

Dividend 50 Cents; Inland Earns More.

"Relatively greater increase in pay rolls than in total hours worked reflects the increase in wage rates made April 1, 1934, these rates being in effect for the full nine months of 1935 and only six months in 1934."

Inland Steel Does Better.

Inland Steel reported that its net profit, exclusive of the operations of the Ryerson company, for the third quarter of this year amounted to $1,810,202, compared with a loss of $53,476 for the like quarter of last year. For the first nine months of 1935 the company had a net profit of $6,668,509, exclusive of the Ryerson results, compared with $3,180,259 in the corresponding 1934 period.

Earnings for the first nine months of 1935 were equivalent to $5.55 a share on 1,200,000 shares of stock, or approximately $4.63 a share on the 1,440,000 outstanding after the Ryerson acquisition became effective.

The Ryerson company for the first nine months of this year had earnings of $691,692 after deduction of all charges, reorganization expenses and federal taxes.

Ryerson Assets Transfered.

A report to the stockholders by the board said that at the close of business on Sept. 30, 1935, the total assets of $13,362,590 acquired in the Ryerson transaction were transfered to the Inland Steel company. The Ryerson liabilities of $1,041,843 were assumed by Inland and the reserves of $694,890 carried by Ryerson were merged with the reserves of Inland.

The Inland dividends are payable Dec. 2 to stock of record Nov. 15.

COTTON FIRM TO HIGHER; HEDGING FEATURES TRADE

Buying of December cotton against sales of October, which the trade credited to changing over of hedges by the government, featured trade in that commodity yesterday. This resulted in widening the gap between the two futures.

War talk had some effect on the old crop futures, and the market advanced after hedging sales had been absorbed by trade buying. Closing trades in Chicago were 5 to 12 points higher; other markets were unchanged to 11 points higher.

Spot cotton closed 10 points higher, with New Orleans, 11.30 cents, and New York, 11.35 cents per pound. Prices for futures in cents per pound:

Supreme Court of the State of New York
NEW YORK COUNTY

IN THE MATTER of the Liquidation of NEW YORK TITLE AND MORTGAGE COMPANY } NOTICE TO CLAIMANTS

Notice to Creditors and All Other Persons interested in the Liquidation of the NEW YORK TITLE AND MORTGAGE COMPANY

By order of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, New York County, dated August 4, 1933, the Superintendent of Insurance of the State of New York was directed to take over the New York Title and Mortgage Company for rehabilitation. By order of said Court dated July 15, 1935, further efforts to rehabilitate said Company being futile, the Company was placed in liquidation and was dissolved pursuant to Article XI of the Insurance Law.

By this order all persons are directed to render accounts of all debts owing to said Company and to pay the same forthwith to the Liquidator; to assign, transfer or deliver property or records of said Company to the Liquidator or to his duly authorized deputy; and to permit the Liquidator or his agents to examine any books or records pertinent to the affairs of said Company.

The same order directs all creditors to file sworn proof of claim with the Liquidator not later than December 31, 1935, which is the last day for filing claims. Blank proof of claim forms will be furnished on request.

Claims duly presented will be determined and the assets of the New York Title and Mortgage Company distributed without further notice to persons failing to comply with the directions herein contained.

All communications relating to the Company in liquidation should be addressed to the undersigned or to his Special Deputy Superintendent of Insurance, D. William Leider, 141 Broadway, New York, N. Y.

Dated: New York, N. Y., July 22, 1935.

LOUIS H. PINK,
Superintendent of Insurance of the State of New York, as Liquidator of New York Title and Mortgage Company.

TO THE OWNERS AND HOLDERS OF FIRST MORTGAGE 6½% GOLD BONDS OF MARSHALL - WELLS BUILDINGS CORPORATION:

You are hereby notified that the time within which owners of bonds may become parties to the extension agreement of August 1, 1935, has been extended to December 31, 1935.

Friend of the Coal User

The Friend of the Coal User will supply information on economical use of coal in an attempt to enable users to meet with less loss the added expense which the Guffey coal law is loading on the Chicagoland public. Inquiries should be accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Items of general interest will be published.

Doing Well Right Now.

North Liberty, Ind., Oct. 25.—I live in a nine room house, five upstairs and four down, which is heated by a hot air furnace supplied by fresh air from the sides of the house. It takes from ten to twelve tons of Pocahontas for the winter. Is this too much? Would you suggest any change in fuel? C. S. B.

Answer—The usual coal requirements for a nine room house average 13½ tons per season and we think you are doing remarkably well in using only 10 to 12 tons. It is not likely a change to some other kind of coal or to some other method of firing would be more economical or more satisfactory than your present system.

Needs a Blower.

Racine, Wis., Oct. 24.—We have had considerable trouble in getting heat to a couple of our upstairs rooms through the hot air pipes. Some one suggested that we install a blower. Is that practical and would it cost a great deal? L. J.

Answer—There are several satisfactory blowers on the market and we believe you could solve your problem by installing one. You had better get figures on several makes and from more than one firm in order to make sure of not paying an exorbitant price for installation.

CUTTEN APPEALS U.S. OUSTER FROM GRAIN MARKETS

Charge Wallace Ruling Is Illegal.

Arthur W. Cutten, prominent Chicago grain trader, yesterday took to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals his battle against the order of Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace suspending him for two years from trading privileges in all grain markets of the nation for alleged violation of the grain futures act.

"Compared with the greatest manipulator of grain the federally controled grain stabilization board, Cutten was nothing more than a minor trader," Attorney Orville J. Taylor declared in opening the appeal.

Charge Reports Inaccurate.

Taylor was referring to charges that Cutten made inaccurate or false reports in connection with deals involving more than 500,000 bushels. He set forth that Cutten dealt at the rate of 7,000,000 bushels a year during the period involved in the case, 1930 and 1931, whereas the stabilization body had an annual turnover of 600,000,000 bushels.

Taylor contended Cutten was led on by L. A. Fitz, local head of the Grain Futures administration, who could have stopped the alleged violations or warned against their continuance at the time they were supposed to have occured.

Charge Star Chamber Revived.

In effect, Taylor argued, the department of agriculture is reviving star chamber proceedings, taking to itself the rights of the judiciary, and sitting as court, prosecutor, and jury combined.

Appellate Judges Evan A. Evans and Will M. Sparks and District Judge Robert C. Baltzell, sitting en banc in the case, took the appeal under advisement.

FIRST MORTGAGE SIX AND ONE-HALF PER CENT TEN-YEAR SINKING FUND GOLD BONDS OF MURRAY BODY CORPORATION

NOTICE is hereby given by THE MURRAY CORPORATION OF AMERICA (successor to Murray Body Corporation), that pursuant to the terms of the Trust Mortgage dated December 1, 1924, between Murray Body Corporation and Detroit Trust Company, Trustee, and of the Supplemental Trust Mortgage dated January 31, 1935, between The Murray Corporation of America (successor to Murray Body Corporation) and Detroit Trust Company, Trustee, The Murray Corporation of America (successor to Murray Body Corporation) has elected to redeem on December 1, 1935, all of its First Mortgage Six and One-half Per Cent Ten-year Sinking Fund Gold Bonds originally issued by Murray Body Corporation and now outstanding under and secured by the said Trust Mortgage and Supplemental Trust Mortgage.

Upon presentation of said bonds with interest coupons due December 1, 1935, and all subsequent coupons attached, to Detroit Trust Company, Trustee, in the City of Detroit, Michigan, or, at the option of the holders thereof, at the principal office of Guaranty Trust Company of New York, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on or after December 1, 1935, for redemption as aforesaid, the principal of said bonds, and interest accrued on said principal to December 1, 1935, together with a premium of four per cent (4%) of such principal, will be paid to the persons entitled to receive the same. The said bonds will cease to draw interest on December 1, 1935, and the coupons for interest maturing subsequent to that date will be void and the said bonds will no longer be deemed to be outstanding and will cease to be entitled to any further benefit of or from said Trust Mortgage and Supplemental Trust Mortgage except to receive payment from the moneys reserved therefor in the hands of the Trustee. Bonds presented must be in negotiable form and bonds registered as to principal must be accompanied by duly executed instruments of transfer in blank.

The holders of said bonds have the right and privilege, at their option, at any time until the close of business on November 25, 1935, to convert, subject to the terms and provisions of the Supplemental Trust Mortgage above referred to, such bonds into full-paid non-assessable shares of the common stock of The Murray Corporation of America at the rate of one share of common stock for each ten dollars principal amount of each bond so converted. Bonds with appurtenant coupons attached may be surrendered to the Company for conversion at the principal office of Detroit Trust Company, Trustee, in the City of Detroit, Michigan, or at the principal office of Guaranty Trust Company of New York, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, N. Y.

3 OF 20 BANKS MAKE REFUNDS TO DEPOSITORS

2 Others Plan Payments Before End of Year.

Further returns to depositors in the three months ended Sept. 30 were made by three of the twenty closed banks for which State Auditor Edward J. Barrett issued statements of condition yesterday. These were the Elmwood Park State, Equitable Trust and Savings, and First State of Barrington.

Two others, the First State of Steger and the Fullerton State, will make further repayments in the next two months, it was learned. A sixth bank, the Division State, has a proposed reorganization plan pending. The other 14 closed institutions made varying progress during the last quarter. Three of these 20 banks have returned nothing to depositors yet, but five have repaid 40 per cent or more.

Banks' Condition Analyzed.

Individual analyses of the 20 banks, based on the auditor's reports and information from men closely associated with the affairs of these institutions, follow. They show progress of liquidation, together with prospects for future payment of depositors. Figures, unless it is stated otherwise, apply to the entire period of receivership.

CRAWFORD STATE SAVINGS—Receipts, $737,000 [$15,000 last quarter]. Paid $339,-500 prior claims and $191,500, or 20 per cent, of deposits. Bills cleaned up, but much real estate is in remaining assets, which are not expected to net more than another 20 per cent. Costs: $96,500 to protect assets [$50,500 returned], $3,300 interest, $42,000 clerical, $33,000 legal, $9,700 receivers. Cash, $21,500.

DEPOSITORS STATE—Receipts, $1,878,-500 [$35,000 last quarter]. Paid $883,500 prior claims and $264,000, or 12½ per cent, to depositors. Further returns depend on what is left after $209,500 balance is paid on RFC loan. Cash in reserve is $77,000, and $55,000 [$11,000 last quarter] has been paid on loan. Losses, $481,000, or more than 20 per cent on assets sold to date. Liquidation rather slow, and 50 per cent total return is seen now as maximum to be hoped for. Advanced $408,000 to protect assets [$27,000 last quarter], with return of $281,000 [$17,000 last quarter]. Costs: $32,500 in interest, $86,000 clerical, $63,000 legal, $9,200 receiver.

Des Plaines State.

DES PLAINES STATE—Receipts, $740,000 [$27,000 last quarter]. Paid $144,000 prior claims and $398,500, or 40 per cent, to depositors. Indicated 15 or 20 per cent more eventually. Cash, $26,500 [$23,000 added last quarter after expenses] with $15,500 free toward next dividend. Costs: $85,000 to protect assets [$51,000 returned], $38,500 clerical, $38,500 legal, $8,000 receivers.

DEVON TRUST AND SAVINGS—Receipts, $408,800 [$900 last quarter]. Paid $338,-000 prior claims and still owes $99,000 on old loan. Depositors have received nothing, and are expected to obtain little, if anything, after loan is paid off. Heavy losses of $281,500, or 40 per cent, in sale of assets; will be heavier. Costs: $24,000 to protect assets [all returned], $25,000 clerical, $13,-000 legal, $4,000 receivers, $2,500 interest. Cash only $2,400.

DIVERSEY TRUST AND SAVINGS—Receipts, $643,000 [$10,500 last quarter]. Paid $205,000 prior claims and $271,000, or 45 per cent, to depositors. Possibly another 25 per cent after RFC is paid $95,000 balance still due on loan. Paid $45,500 to date [$7,500 last quarter]. Cash in reserve, $21,-500. Costs: $36,000 to protect assets [$12,-500 returned], $5,400 interest, $32,000 clerical, $17,500 legal, $9,300 receivers.

DIVISION STATE—Receipts $703,000 [$22,000 last quarter]. Paid $326,000 prior claims, $100,000 RFC loan, and $59,000, or 15 per cent, to depositors. Seeking reorganization which would pay depositors in full. Cash now $37,000 [$29,000 free, equal to 7 per cent]. Costs: $69,500 to protect assets [$56,000 returned], $17,500 interest, $53,500 clerical, $35,500 legal, $5,200 receivers.

Elmwood Park State.

ELMWOOD PARK STATE—Receipts, $432,-500 [$7,500 last quarter]. Paid $216,500 prior claims and $96,000, or 19½ per cent, on deposits [9½ per cent last quarter]. Heavy losses of $212,000, or 33 per cent, on sale of assets and owes $8,200 old bills, but hopes to net 20 to 25 per cent more for depositors eventually. Costs: $49,000 to protect assets [$31,000 returned], $83,500 clerical, $26,000 legal, $7,500 receivers Cash down to $4,200.

ELSTON STATE—Receipts, $215,500 [$1,-000 last quarter]. Paid $47,500 prior claims. Cash of $71,000 reserved for taxes and unsettled claims. Losses of $91,500 on sale of assets to date; heavier ones coming. One of four "practically hopeless" Bain banks; what, if anything, for depositors depends on real estate struggle. RFC refused to make a loan. Costs: $46,500 to protect assets [$31,500 returned], $26,000 clerical $20,000 legal, $4,100 receivers.

EMPIRE TRUST AND SAVINGS—Receipts, $113,500 [$15,500 last quarter]. Paid $59,-500 prior claims, $6,000 to protect assets [all returned], $1,200 interest, $19,500 clerical, $21,500 legal [$14,000 last quarter], $1,600 receivers. Cash, $4,100. Nothing yet for depositors, but most of bills are cleaned up and repayment of 40 to 50 per cent of $123,500 deposits is indicated in time with luck in disposal of real estate holdings.

EQUITABLE TRUST AND SAVINGS—Receipts, $314,000 [$8,500 last quarter]. Paid $166,000 prior claims and $60,500, or 15 per cent, of deposits [5 per cent last quarter]. Hope is held for 40 per cent or more total return despite losses of $139,500, or 31 per cent, on sale of assets to date. Costs: $18,500 to protect assets [$8,000 returned], $38,000 clerical, $13,000 legal, $2,300 interest, $6,300 receivers. Cash $9,300.

Exchange State.

EXCHANGE STATE—Receipts, $372,500 [$2,200 last year]. Paid $72,000 prior claims and $159,000 or 35 per cent, of deposits. Mostly worthless assets remaining and liquidation painfully slow. Lucky if 5 per cent more is obtained for depositors. Costs: $34,500 to protect assets [$26,000 returned], $30,500 clerical, $39,000 legal, $11,700 receivers. Cash of $25,000 all reserved.

FIRST ENGLEWOOD STATE—Receipts, $866,500 [$9,500 last quarter]. Paid $369,-500 prior claims and $287,500, or 50 per cent, of deposits. Further returns depend on what is left after paying $135,000 balance on RFC loan, but about 10 per cent more is indicated now. Have paid $43,500 [$5,000 last quarter] on RFC loan. Cash of $26,000 reserved. Costs: $63,500 to protect assets [$45,000 returned], $13,000 interest, $35,500 clerical, $23,700 legal, $4,500 receivers.

FIRST ITALIAN STATE—Receipts, $743,-000 [$19,500 last quarter]. Paid $378,500 prior claims and $212,000, or 25 per cent, to depositors. Probably 15 per cent, possibly 25 per cent, more after RFC is paid $26,500 balance on loan. Paid $14,000 [$13,000 last quarter] on loan. Costs: $39,-000 [$3,500 last quarter] to protect assets, with $23,500 returned; $43,500 clerical, $36,500 legal, $7,600 receivers, $1,600 interest. Cash of $10,000 in reserve.

FIRST STATE OF BARRINGTON—Receipts, $290,000 [$52,000 last quarter, including $38,500 from RFC]. Paid $128,500 prior claims and $70,500, or 25 per cent, on deposits [15 per cent last quarter]. Further returns depend upon what is left after RFC is repaid, but substantially more expected. Cash in reserve, $14,500. Costs: $41,000 [$3,000 last quarter] to protect assets, with $24,000 returned, $3,200 interest, $19,700 clerical, $9,600 legal, $3,200 receivers.

Chicago Heights Bank.

FIRST STATE OF CHICAGO HEIGHTS—Receipts, $549,000 [$8,000 last quarter]. Paid $270,000 prior claims and $117,000, or 15 per cent, on deposits. As much more expected for depositors, but liquidation is slow. Losses $175,000, or 24 per cent, on assets sold to date; heavier losses coming. Costs: $83,500 to protect assets [$56,-000 returned], $37,000 clerical, $16,800 legal, $6,000 receivers, $4,000 interest. Most of $14,700 cash is fee for depositors.

FIRST STATE OF STEGER—Receipts, $47,500 [$2,300 last quarter]. Paid $17,200 prior claims and $4,800, or 5 per cent, on deposits. Cash of $6,600 plus current collections expected to yield 10 per cent more by end of year. Heavy losses of $25,700 on assets sold to date; much dubious real estate left and not much more expected for depositors. Costs: $9,600 clerical, $3,100 legal, $1,800 receivers, $4,300 to protect assets.

FOREST PARK TRUST AND SAVINGS—Receipts, $650,500 [$15,500 last quarter]. Paid $290,000 prior claims and $[illegible]0,000, or 15 per cent, on deposits. Total return may run 40 to 50 per cent, but nothing more expected for some months. Costs: $70,500 to protect assets [$72,000 returned], $44,000 clerical, $17,700 legal, $7,800 receivers. Cash of $29,500 [$10,000 added last quarter after costs]. Losses of $258,000, or 28 per cent, on assets sold to date.

FULLERTON STATE—Receipts, $790,500 [$46,000 last quarter]. Paid $220,500 prior claims and $277,500, or 20 per cent, to depositors. Ready to pay 5 per cent more from $91,500 cash on hand [$33,500 added last quarter]. Total return of 40 to 50 per cent seen. Costs: $76,500 [$7,500 last quarter] to protect assets, with return of $43,500 [$9,000 last quarter], $42,500 clerical, $73,-000 legal, $9,500 receivers. Losses of $185,-000 on sale of assets to date.

Garfield State.

GARFIELD STATE—Receipts, $3,503,000 [$75,000 last quarter]. Paid $1,021,000 prior claims and $1,641,500, or 40 per cent, of deposits. Further returns must await repayment of $297,000 balance due on RFC loan after paying $90,000 ($11,000 last quarter), but something fairly substantial expected. Cash of $41,500 in reserve [$24,000 added last quarter]. Advanced $378,500 to protect assets [$19,000 last quarter], with $257,500 returned [$8,000 last quarter]. Costs: $172,000 clerical [$10,500 last quarter], $115,500 legal, $31,000 receiver, $11,500 interest. Loss of $284,000 on sale of assets comparatively small.

GLENCOE STATE—Receipts, $469,500 ($2,500 last quarter). Paid $62,000 prior claims and $293,000, or 45 per cent, on deposits. Costs: $44,500 to protect assets [$36,000 returned], $26,000 clerical, $20,-500 legal, $10,000 receiver. Cash, $13,000. Something further still expected for depositors, though not a great deal. Losses of $198,500, or 30 per cent, on assets sold to date, with heavier ones to come.

William L. O'Connell now is receiver for all of these banks except the Garfield State, in charge of John E. Sullivan, and the Glencoe State, handled by the Chicago Title and Trust company.

SUGAR

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Raw sugar was firm today, and although spot prices remained unchanged at 3.60c per lb. overquota sugars were 3 points higher with a sale confirmed of 9,000 bags of Philippines for January-February shipment to an outport refiner at 3.28c. The steady tone to the spot market and a growing belief that crop regulations will be continued next season was responsible for further trade and commission house buying in futures, and prices made new high ground for the movement. The December position showed the maximum upturn on increased covering. Sales were 8,850 tons.

Raw sugar prices in cents per pound follow:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. close.
Dec.	2.46	2.50	2.46	2.50	2.45
Jan.	2.20	2.22	2.20	2.22	2.19
March	2.16	2.18	2.16	2.17	2.15
May	2.21	2.23	2.21	2.23	2.20
July	2.26	2.27	2.26	2.27	2.25
Sept.	2.31	2.32	2.31	2.32	2.30

In refined prices were unchanged with refiners listing at 5.30c per lb for fine granulated and reporting a fair withdrawal demand, while resale offerings were in better demand at from 5.15@5.20c.

Note: The above raw sugar prices exclude processing tax of ½c per lb. Refined sugar prices include the tax.

Salesmen.

Former Mechanic & Aviator.

The writer worked four and one-half years in the commercial aviation field. Was laid off. A man who said that he had a grocery and butcher shop that went broke called at my home and showed me this wonderful electrical product. I explained to the man that I had a family and needed a job. He sent me down to his office, where I was interviewed and accepted on a percentage basis. I met men who had been out of work and seemed happy; therefore, I thought they were making money. I went to work at once. Have made a nice living, saved some money and have a fine opportunity for advancement. I want to hire 3 men who want to make money and are willing to work. If interested see me Wednesday, 10 a. m. or 1 p. m. at 203 N. Wabash-av., Rm. 618.

MARINELLO
ONE DAY LAST SPRING A GIRL just like you read our ad, mailed the coupon, and from our reply learned of the wonderful opportunities offered Marinello beauticians in the beauty profession.
IMMEDIATELY she enrolled in our school and found the work so interesting and delightful, in the large sunny class rooms equipped just like regular beauty shops, that the time quickly passed and before she realized it graduation time had arrived. How thrilled she was when she received her certificate. Now she is earning a GOOD SALARY as a successful Marinello operator and has already made plans to open a shop of her own this winter. You can do the same.
Now! Marinello Offers
Easy pay-as-you- learn plan. Complete instruments, textbooks, uniforms, and all cosmetics furnished without charge if you enroll for day or evening classes now forming!

General List.

NEAR NORTH SIDE
It's very nice when you close your desk at the end of the day to know that after a short, brisk walk just 5 blocks north of the river, you will come to a quaint little lamplighted court that makes you feel far away from Chicago, where up a winding stairway there's a charming little studio that—well you're glad you live there, that's all. We have 5 and 6 room apts. with fireplaces where we can build you a little home which will be delightful to live in and most interesting to your friends. We are glad to make changes that you personally may suggest. The rent of one of our best studios is very reasonable if a lady portrait artist is allowed the use of the studio during the day on week days only. One little sky parlor artist studio with excellent north light in the Italian court, $50. Also daytime studios and shop space.
